AFRICA NORTH-EAST—RED SEA, WESTERN SHORE.

North Massawa channel approach—Search for certain dangers.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 274 of 1897), issued by the British Admiralty is republished:—

The undermentioned information, relating to a recent search for King Arthur shoal and Akbar rock, and an examination of Gannet bank, has been received from Lieutenant and Commander H. J. Gedge, H.M. Surveying Vessel Stork:—

1. King Arthur shoal.—With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 205 of 1889, on the steam-vessel King Arthur striking on a shoal with a depth of about $2\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms on it, reported to be situated in approximately lat. $17^{\circ} 10' N.$, long. $39^{\circ} 10' E.$

In the search by the Stork for this danger the least water obtained was 10 fathoms, in approximately lat. $17^{\circ} 8' N.$, long. $39^{\circ} 8' E.$; it is, however, considered probable that the rock exists and is small. Consequently the words "Rock reported hereabout" have been retained on Admiralty Chart against the above position of the 10 fathoms.

2. Akbar rock.—With reference to Notice to Mariners No. 448 of 1892, on the steam-vessel Akbar (draught 20 feet) touching on a shoal in a position (considered very doubtful) in lat. $16^{\circ} 47' N.$, long. $39^{\circ} 12' E.$

This rock was not found by the Stork, the least depth obtained being 10 fathoms, in approximately lat. $16^{\circ} 44' 30'' N.$, long. $39^{\circ} 12' 45'' E.$ In this case also it is considered probable that the rock exists and is small. Consequently the words "Rock reported hereabout" have been written on the Admiralty Chart against the above position of the 10 fathoms.

3. Gannet bank.—A coral head, with a least depth of $3\frac{1}{2}$ fathoms over it, was found on Gannet bank; and the position of this head was determined to be about $1\frac{1}{2}$ miles, N.W., from its previously charted position, or approximately in lat. $16^{\circ} 59' 55'' N.$, long. $39^{\circ} 12' 25'' E.$

This bank is about 6 cables in length north and south, and 3 cables in breadth, within the 5 fathom line; deepening quickly to the westward and southward, and having soundings less than 10 fathoms for some distance from it in other directions.

Ocean Ranger reef.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 310 of 1897) issued by the British Admiralty is republished:—

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 110 of 1892, on a dangerous reef reported by the Master of the barquentine Ocean Ranger, situated in lat. 18° 44' S., long. 157° 2' E., and on which the sea was observed to break heavily:—

H.M. Surveying-vessel Penguin searched for this supposed danger in 1894, and discovered a bank of from 800 to 1,000 fathoms in depth situated between the parallels of 18° 48' and 19° 5' South latitude, and the meridians of 156° 40' and 157° 3' East longitude, and with depths of from 1,500 to 1,800 fathoms around, but no shallower soundings could be obtained.

During the search, and whilst obtaining a sounding of 1,713 fathoms, a considerable tide rip was observed extending about 3 miles in a north and south direction, which might have been mistaken for breakers, and some such phenomenon probably was the origin of the report made by the Master of the Ocean Ranger.

In order to further investigate the matter, some inquiries respecting the original report were addressed to the Master of the Ocean Ranger through the Marine Department at Wellington, New Zealand, but a reply has been received that Mr. Goodman, the Master of the vessel in 1892, has died, and that the log books cannot be found.

Viewing all the circumstances of the case, and considering that such a tide rip as seen from the Penguin may have been reported as a danger by the Ocean Ranger, and further, that no soundings were taken or other attempt made to verify the existence of this supposed danger, it is considered not to exist, and has, consequently, been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

Ocean Ranger reef.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 310 of 1897) issued by the British Admiralty is republished :—

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 110 of 1892, on a dangerous reef reported by the Master of the barquentine Ocean Ranger, situated in lat. 18° 44' S., long. 157° 2' E., and on which the sea was observed to break heavily :—

H.M. Surveying-vessel Penguin searched for this supposed danger in 1894, and discovered a bank of from 800 to 1,000 fathoms in depth situated between the parallels of 18° 48' and 19° 5' South latitude, and the meridians of 156° 40' and 157° 3' East longitude, and with depths of from 1,500 to 1,800 fathoms around, but no shallower soundings could be obtained.

During the search, and whilst obtaining a sounding of 1,713 fathoms, a considerable tide rip was observed extending about 3 miles in a north and south direction, which might have been mistaken for breakers, and some such phenomenon probably was the origin of the report made by the Master of the Ocean Ranger.

In order to further investigate the matter, some inquiries respecting the original report were addressed to the Master of the Ocean Ranger through the Marine Department at Wellington, New Zealand, but a reply has been received that Mr. Goodman, the Master of the vessel in 1892, has died, and that the log books cannot be found.

Viewing all the circumstances of the case, and considering that such a tide rip as seen from the Penguin may have been reported as a danger by the Ocean Ranger, and further, that no soundings were taken or other attempt made to verify the existence of this supposed danger, it is considered not to exist, and has, consequently, been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

Ocean Ranger reef.

THE following Notice to Mariners (No. 310 of 1897) issued by the British Admiralty is republished :—

With reference to Notice to Mariners, No. 110 of 1892, on a dangerous reef reported by the Master of the barkentine Ocean Ranger, situated in lat. 18° 44' S., long. 157° 2' E., and on which the sea was observed to break heavily :—

H.M. Surveying-vessel Penguin searched for this supposed danger in 1894, and discovered a bank of from 800 to 1,000 fathoms in depth situated between the parallels of 18° 48' and 19° 5' South latitude, and the meridians of 156° 40' and 157° 3' East longitude, and with depths of from 1,500 to 1,800 fathoms around, but no shallower soundings could be obtained.

During the search, and whilst obtaining a sounding of 1,713 fathoms, a considerable tide rip was observed extending about 3 miles in a north and south direction, which might have been mistaken for breakers, and some such phenomenon probably was the origin of the report made by the Master of the Ocean Ranger.

In order to further investigate the matter, some inquiries respecting the original report were addressed to the Master of the Ocean Ranger through the Marine Department at Wellington, New Zealand, but a reply has been received that Mr. Goodman, the Master of the vessel in 1892, has died, and that the log books cannot be found.

Viewing all the circumstances of the case, and considering that such a tide rip as seen from the Penguin may have been reported as a danger by the Ocean Ranger, and further, that no soundings were taken or other attempt made to verify the existence of this supposed danger, it is considered not to exist, and has, consequently, been expunged from the Admiralty charts.

No. 4338G.—The Chief Commissioner deeply deplores the death of Mr. R. B. McCabe, of the Indian Civil Service, Inspector-General of Police, Jails and Registration, Commissioner of Excise and Superintendent of Stamps, Assam, which occurred on the evening of the 12th June 1897, by the falling in of his house on him during the earthquake. Mr. McCabe's whole service of more than twenty years had been passed in Assam, where he was mostly employed on frontier duties, and had acquired an unrivalled reputation for courage, resource, forbearance and temper in times of crisis and difficulty. His death is an irreparable loss to the Administration, and will be mourned by innumerable friends in every district of Assam.

Rules for the grant of prospecting licenses and mining leases for mica.

The 5th July 1897.—The rules sanctioned by the Governor-General in Council and the Secretary of State for the grant of prospecting licenses and mining leases, so far as they are applicable to the mica-mining industry in the Provinces under the jurisdiction of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, are hereby published for general information. The main modifications necessary to make the rules applicable to mica-mining and to prospecting for mica have received the sanction of the Governor-General in Council. These rules supersede those published in the Government Resolution of 5th December 1888. Standard forms of prospecting licenses and mining leases adapted for mica-mining are also published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Rules.

In these rules, Collector means the Revenue Officer in charge of the district.

Prospecting licenses.

1. (1) A license to prospect for mica, called hereinafter a prospecting license, shall confer on the licensee the sole right, subject to the conditions contained in the license, to mine, quarry, bore, dig and search for, win, work, and carry away mica lying or being within, under, or throughout the land specified in the license.

(2) A prospecting license shall only be granted with respect to land in which the mica mines, or mica is the property of the Government, and which is comprised in a compact block, the length of which does not exceed four times its breadth.

2. When any area has been explored and its value as a field for mica-mining sufficiently ascertained, the Lieutenant-Governor may refuse to grant prospecting licenses, and may order such area to be demarcated into blocks, and may, subject to such rules as the Governor-General in Council may from time to time prescribe, sell by public auction or private contract the right to win and carry away mica in and from all or any of such blocks for such term or terms not exceeding 30 years, and subject to such conditions as he may think fit, or may grant mining leases thereof as provided in rules 10 and 11, as he may think fit:

Provided that no such sale as aforesaid shall be made without the previous sanction of the Secretary of State for India in Council if the estimated value thereof exceeds 12 lakhs of rupees.

3. (1) No prospecting license shall be granted except to a person approved by the Government, and such person shall, before the license is granted, deposit as security in respect of each license a sum which may be less than Rs. 500, but shall not be less than Rs. 100, as the Collector may determine, or give security to the like amount to the satisfaction of the Collector. Subject to such deduction on account of compensation for surface damage or otherwise as the Collector may order, the amount of any deposit made under this rule, should the depositor afterwards become the lessee of any mica-mining lease, will be carried to his credit as part of the rents payable under his lease, and should he decline or fail to obtain any such lease as aforesaid, will be returned to him.

(2) No prospecting license shall be granted to any Company or to any Syndicate on behalf of a proposed Company without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council.

4. (1) Every application for a prospecting license for mica shall, unless the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal shall in any case otherwise direct, be made to the Collector of the district in which the land or some part of the land with respect to which the license is required is situate.

(2) Every such application shall contain the following particulars, namely:—

(a) the name, residence and profession of the applicant;

(b) a description as accurate as possible, and illustrated by a rough sketch, of the situation, boundaries, and area of the land with respect to which the license is required.

(3) Every application shall be accompanied by a certificate of approval signed by a Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

5. On receipt of any such application the Collector shall, as soon as practicable, enquire whether the grant of the license applied for is inexpedient either on the ground that the land described in the application is required for a public purpose, or otherwise.

6. (1) Should the Collector be of opinion that it is not expedient to grant the license, or should he find that the license has not been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor, he shall refuse to grant the license, and shall forthwith report the matter through the proper channel to the Lieutenant-Governor, who may pass such orders as he may think fit.

(2) Subject to the control of the Government of Bengal, the Collector, if he finds that there is no objection to the grant of the license applied for, and if the applicant has been approved by the Government of Bengal, may grant to the applicant a license in such form as may be prescribed, and shall report the matter to the Lieutenant-Governor or such other authority as the Lieutenant-Governor may direct.

7. A register of applications for prospecting licenses shall be kept in English in the Collector's office, specifying—

- (viii) The licensee shall, within six months next after the determination of the license, or the date of the abandonment of the undertaking, whichever shall first occur, securely plug any bores and fill up or fence any holes or excavations that he may have made in the land to such extent as the Collector may require, and shall to the like extent restore the surface of the land and all buildings thereon which he may have damaged in the course of prospecting. Provided that this clause shall not apply to any land held under a mining lease.

9. On or before the determination of his license, the licensee shall have a right, subject to the rules hereinafter contained, and provided that the Lieutenant-Governor is satisfied that the prospecting has been of a bona fide character, to a mica-mining lease in accordance with the terms contained in the rules for such leases.

Such lease may include an area not exceeding half a square mile, whether comprising the whole or a part only of the area for which the prospecting license was granted.

Mica-mining Leases.

- (a) the name, residence, and profession of the applicant; and
- (b) a map of the area over which the proposed lease is to extend.

12. On receipt of any such application the Government may, if it considers that the applicant should be granted a mining lease, grant the same in accordance with these rules over such one or more blocks, each not exceeding half a square mile in area, as the Government may think fit.

• No such lease shall be executed until it has been approved by the Advocate-General of Bengal.

13. Without the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, the extent of each lot or block of land covered by a mica-mining lease shall not exceed half a square mile, and, where the land follows the direction of a band or belt of mica, the length of the lot shall not exceed four miles.

14. The mica-mining lease shall run for a term not exceeding five years from the date on which possession of the land is given. At the end of that period the lease will be put up to public auction, and a fresh lease for five years granted to the person who offers the highest rental, subject to the approval of the Commissioner. In addition to the rent thus determined, a royalty of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. will be levied on the sale value of the mica at the pit's mouth.

- (xiii) In case of any breach on the part of the lessee of any covenant contained in the lease, the Government of Bengal may determine the lease and take possession of the said premises.
- (xiv) At the end or sooner determination of the lease, the lessee shall deliver up the said premises and all mines (if any) dug therein in a proper state for working.
- (xv) Should any question or dispute arise regarding the lease or any matter or thing connected with the mines and mica leased or the working or non-working thereof, or the amount or payment of the royalty or rent reserved or made payable by the lease, the matter in difference shall be decided by the Lieutenant-Governor, whose decision thereof shall be final.

A Dictionary of the Economic Products of India

By DR. GEO. WATT, C.I.E.,

Reporter on Economic Products.

The first five volumes and Vol. VI, Parts I, II, III & IV of the Dictionary are ready at the Office of the Superintendent of Government Printing, No. 8, Hastings Street, Calcutta, and will be supplied to non-subscribers on receipt of the price for the complete set, which is Rs. 45 in India, and 3 guineas in England (exclusive of the Index, for which a separate charge will be made); packing and postage, in India, 8 annas per volume; for England, Rs. 2-6 per volume. For copies bound in half calf or half morocco, Rs. 6 and 8 shillings, respectively, will be charged extra for the whole set.

The Dictionary is intended to deal with the products of India—animal, vegetable, and mineral; each product being treated after a uniform plan, the paragraphs of which give the scientific, vernacular, and European names; habitat or source; history; properties and uses (both chemical and industrial); trade statistics; markets, &c. The work is arranged alphabetically according to scientific nomenclature, but commercial and important vernacular names are also given as cross-references, so that little difficulty need be experienced in finding the account of a product, even when its scientific name is unknown to the reader.

An important feature of the Dictionary consists in the fact that derived information is in every instance given under quotation marks, and with a reference to the original publication. Numerous contributors have, however, furnished the results of new discoveries and confirmed the vernacular names, so that the Dictionary is not only a complete compilation of published information, but has been brought abreast of the most recent inventions and discoveries.

Volume I contains the letters A and B, and consists of 559 royal 8vo. pages; Vol. II embraces the letter C in 689 pages; Vol. III contains the letters D, E, F and half of G; Vol. IV latter half of G to middle of L; and Vol. V contains the latter half of L to end of O; Vol. VI (which consist of four parts), Part I, contains letters P to R. The whole work completed in nine volumes (including Parts II to IV of Vol. VI); but a tenth volume may also be issued, consisting of an Index to all the vernacular and other names contained in the Dictionary. The Index will practically be a glossary of the Vernacular and European names of the plants, animals and minerals of India, and, as such, will be a work of reference, which, it is hoped, may prove of considerable value.

Important Notice.

IN continuation of my notice published in the Calcutta Gazette of 7th, 14th and 21st April 1897, with respect to taluqas Sonakarsa and Barisarpur, 6190, lakheraj and other properties, all in Muzaffarpur district, and four decrees of the Administrator-General of Bengal versus Mahboob Lal and others, dated the 27th December 1889, the public is hereby cautioned against relying on any copy of the agreement, dated the 28th November 1895, mentioned therein, as the following addition has been fraudulently made at the end of paragraph 2 of the said deed after its presentation to the Sub-Registrar of Muzaffarpur, viz.:—"Time to be deemed to be the essence of this contract." There is every reason to believe that this addition was made at the instance of Babus Ramashwar Narayan Mahtha and Permashwar Narayan Mahtha of Muzaffarpur.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is convenient and in accordance with the present practice in England that every Act should be capable of being cited by means of a short title. This Bill has accordingly been drawn on the lines of the Short Titles Act, 1896 (59 & 60 Vict., c. 14), with the object of furnishing with such titles those general Acts of the Governor General in Council which are now deficient in this respect. A new edition of the general Acts is now in preparation, and with these Acts alone the present measure is concerned, all others being left to be dealt with hereafter when new editions of the local Codes are taken in hand.

The 26th June, 1897.

M. D. CHALMERS.

J. M. MACPHERSON,

Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 1st July, 1897 :

NO. 10 OF 1897.

A Bill to further amend the Court-fees Act, 1870.

WHEREAS it is expedient to further amend the Court-fees Act, 1870; It is hereby enacted as follows :

70. I. (1) This Act may be called the Court-fees Short title and com- Act (1870) Amendment Act, 1897; and
10. nouncement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. After section 19-G of the Court-fees Act, 1870, the following sections shall be added, namely :
Addition of two new sections after section 19-G, Act VII, 1870.

Power for Chief Revenue-officer of district to inspect records and prove under-valuation of estate.
" 19-H. (1) The Chief Revenue-officer of the district may at any time inspect, or cause to be inspected, the record of any case in which application for probate or letters of administration has been made to a Court within his district, and if, on such inspection or otherwise, he is of opinion that the petitioner has underestimated the value of the estate of the deceased, he may require the Court before which such application is pending, to hold an inquiry into the true value of the estate.

(2) Every Court, when so required as aforesaid, shall hold an inquiry accordingly, and shall record a finding as to the true value, as near as may be, at which the estate of the deceased should have been estimated.

(3) For the purposes of any such inquiry the Court may examine the petitioner for probate or letters of administration on oath (whether in person or by commission), and may take such further evidence as may be produced before it, either by such Revenue-officer or by such petitioner, to prove the true value of the estate."

Mode of collecting Court-fees on probates or letters of administration.
" 19-J. (1) Every application for probate or letters of administration must be accompanied by a deposit of a sum equal to the fee chargeable under this Act in respect of probate or letters of administration.

(2) If the application is allowed, the sum deposited under sub-section (1) shall be expended, under the direction of the Court, in the purchase of the stamp to be used for denoting the fee chargeable as aforesaid.

(3) Any sum deposited under sub-section (1) and not expended under sub-section (2) shall be refunded to the depositor."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Under Act VII of 1870, a certain percentage is leviable by way of court-fee on the value, as estimated by the petitioner, of an estate in respect of which a grant of probate or letters of administration is made. Chapter III-A of the same Act, as amended by Acts XIII of 1875 and VIII of 1890, makes provision for a refund where the petitioner pays what turns out to be too high a fee, and also, in the converse case of his paying at the time of his application for probate or letters of administration a fee calculated on too low an estimate of the assets likely to come to his hands, for the subsequent levy of the difference between what he has actually paid and what he ought to have paid.

2. There is, however, no means provided by which the Revenue Officers of Government can check the sufficiency of a petitioner's valuation, and it is proposed by this Bill to remove what experience has shown to be a defect in the law of some practical importance, by adding to the Court-fees Act, 1870 (VII of 1870), a section enabling the Chief Revenue Officer of the district, to inspect the records of any case in which application for probate or letters of administration has been made, and to prove in court any undervaluation of the estate concerned.

3. It is further proposed to insert in the same Act a provision similar to that contained in section 14 of the Succession Certificate Act, 1889 (VII of 1889), so as to secure, at the time of application for probate or letters of administration, the payment of the fee chargeable in respect of the subsequent grant thereof. As the law now stands, the duty is payable, not on the application for, but on the grant of, probate or letters of administration. A person to whom sections 187 and 190 of the Indian Succession Act, 1865 (X of 1865), do not apply and who is not bound to produce probate or letters of administration to establish his rights in succession may attain all that he desires by merely obtaining on his application an order for the grant of probate or letters of administration, without actually taking out, and paying the fees prescribed for, the probate or letters of administration applied for. This result cannot, obviously, have been contemplated, and the latter part of clause 2 of the Bill is intended to guard against it.

(b) the deposit, storage and removal of salt or saltpetre in and from any enclosed place used for the deposit or storage of salt on which duty has not been paid;

(3) There shall be published with the draft a notice specifying a date at or after which the draft will be taken into consideration.

Final publication of rules.

39. All rules made under this Act shall be published in the Calcutta Gazette; and such ^[Act I of 1887, s. 6 (2).] publication shall be conclusive proof that the rules have been duly made.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE main objects of this Bill are—

- (a) to provide for the abolition of the system of salt passes (raoûnds);
- (b) to enable the Government of Bengal to resume charge of the administration of the Salt Department in Orissa; and
- (c) to introduce certain changes in the law which experience has shown to be necessary in the interests of the salt revenue.

2. The Bill accordingly repeals Bengal Act VII of 1864, which, as amended by Bengal Act I of 1873, is now in force in the whole of Bengal except the Patna, Bhagalpur and Orissa Divisions and the town of Calcutta, where it has been ousted by Act XII of 1882.

3. Section 3 (a) defines "salt" more fully and precisely than section 3 of the Bengal Act of 1864, and enlarges that definition by withdrawing the condition embodied in the words "used or intended to be used with food"

4. Section 3 (c) defines "contraband salt" so as to include salt-earth, which, not being used or intended to be used with food, does not come under the definition of "salt" contained in section 3 of the Bengal Act of 1864.

5. Sections 4 to 7 deal with the subject of establishment and control more fully than the Bengal Act of 1864, which is admitted to be defective in respect of these points.

6. Sections 8 to 15, which are modelled on the corresponding provisions of the Bombay and Madras Salt Acts, give power to control dealings with natural salt and salt-earth or saltpetre in any quantity.

7. Sections 12 and 13 reserve power to regulate the movement of salt in the neighbourhood of customs ports and salt or saltpetre factories.

8. Sections 11, 13 and 14 enable the Lieutenant-Governor to mitigate by formal order the stringency of section 8, which prohibits the possession of any quantity of salt-earth except in accordance with rules made under section 11. Under these sections it will be possible to allow people in saliferous tracts to possess the small quantity of salt-earth which the poorer classes may require for the purposes of domestic manufacture, while still retaining the power to proceed against people who collect large quantities of salt-earth in order to manufacture panga salt for sale.

9. Sections 16 to 23 confer upon Salt-revenue Officers powers of search, inspection, seizure, arrest, inquiry, taking bail, and discharge, generally similar to those exercised by Salt Officers in Madras. Except in cases of urgency, searches can only be made under a warrant from a Magistrate, and when this is dispensed with the officer must record the information on which he acted.

10. The rest of the Bill consists of supplementary provisions based for the most part on the Indian Salt Act of 1882 and the Salt Acts of Madras and Bombay.

The following order, issued by the Government of India in the Department of Finance and Commerce, is republished for general information.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

NOTIFICATION.

ACCOUNTS AND FINANCE.

PUBLIC DEBT.

No. 3110.

Simla, the 19th July, 1897.

THREE-AND-A-HALF PER CENT. LOAN.

His Excellency the Right Honourable the Governor General in Council has resolved to borrow three hundred lakhs of rupees for the public service in the following manner :

2. Promissory Notes will be issued for the said amount in the Form annexed to this Notification, being the form of the notes of the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan of 1854-55, of which loan the notes to be now issued will form a part. All the conditions which apply to notes of the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan of 1854-55 will apply to the notes to be now issued. The interest on the notes of that loan is payable half-yearly on the 30th day of June and the 31st day of December; and the notes are not liable to discharge before the 1st day of August 1904.

Tenders.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Rs. 3,00,00,000 will be received by the Comptroller General from this date to noon of Monday, the 16th August next. Tenders must be for sums of 500 Rupees or multiples of 500 Rupees.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a closed cover, superscribed "Tender for the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India to whom an allotment-certificate may be issued, if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

NOTE.—Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received by the Accountants General, Madras and Bombay, on account of the Comptroller General, Calcutta, on the 14th August and up to 11-30 or 11 o'clock local time respectively (corresponding with 12 o'clock in Calcutta) on the 16th August, provided that—

- (a) they are delivered personally or by clerk or messenger at the Accountant General's Office (where a receipt will be given for them);
 - (b) they are made on printed forms, to be obtained at the same office or at the local Presidency Bank;
 - (c) each tender is for not less than Rs. 10,000;
 - (d) that the deposit is either a promissory note or a Treasury Receipt from the Head Office of the local Presidency Bank, or a cheque on a local Bank in Madras or Bombay in favour of the Accountant General, Madras or Bombay, respectively;
 - (e) that the amount of the tender is made payable either in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay;
- and the Accountant General will return deposits on non-accepted tenders, and will issue allotment-certificates so far as the tenders are payable in Madras or Bombay.

5. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms—as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders—will be rejected as null and void.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

Deposits.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by a deposit of not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. The deposit must be in one of the following forms: (a) a receipt for the amount from the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an officer in charge of some Public Treasury, or (b) a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, or (c) Government Promissory Notes,¹ standing in the name of or endorsed to the tenderer or the person making the deposit.

¹It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

8. (a) Deposits, not being promissory notes, will, in the case of accepted tenders, be credited proportionally in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender, and will bear interest for the purpose of clause 16 below from the date of the opening of tenders. When a tender is not accepted in full, the deposits, when they are not in the form of promissory notes, will be credited as far as possible proportionately in even tens of rupees in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of it. If any allotment-certificate is not fully taken up, the deposit credited in respect of it will be forfeited.

(b) Promissory notes deposited in respect of any accepted tender will be held until all the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender are paid up, and will, if the allotment-certificates are not fully taken up, be appropriated by the Government and cancelled.

Opening of Tenders.

9. The Governor General in Council reserves the right to declare, on or before the 9th August, the minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted. If not so declared, the said minimum rate will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

10. Tenders will be opened publicly by the Comptroller General at the Treasury Buildings, Calcutta, at noon (Calcutta time), on Monday, the 16th August next, and those received under the terms of the note under clause 4 will be similarly opened by the Accountant General, Madras, at 11-30 (Madras time), and by the Accountant General, Bombay, at 11 o'clock (Bombay time) on the same day; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 12.

11. Tenders at the minimum rate and at rates above the minimum rate will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate; the amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders; provided that no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender is less than Rs 500.

Allotment-Certificates.

12. To each tenderer (or to his agent) whose tender is accepted in whole or in part such number of allotment-certificates as may be necessary to make up the aggregate amount allotted to him will be issued by the Comptroller General² as soon as possible after the 16th August; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such allotment-certificates are issued will be posted for general information at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay.

² For tenders received by the Accountant General, Madras or Bombay, and payable at those places, the Accountant General will issue the allotment-certificates.

13. If the allotment made on any tender is less than Rs. 3,000, then the whole of the allotment-certificates (after credit of the deposit under clause 8 (a)) will be made payable upon the 28th September.

Otherwise the whole amount of each allotment will be divided into three instalments as follows:

Instalment I.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 30th August:

Instalment II.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 28th September:

Instalment III.—The balance payable upon the 21st October:

and allotment-certificates will be issued for each instalment separately.

But the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the allotment-certificates.

The words "as near as convenient" refer to the necessity for making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 500.

14. Any allotment-certificate will, on application to the Comptroller General, be exchanged for an equivalent amount of allotment-certificates of smaller denominations; provided that if any payment (beyond the deposit) is recorded upon the cancelled certificate, it can be taken against, and recorded upon, only one of the certificates issued in exchange.

15. Payment of any allotment-certificate may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal or Madras or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any Public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender in respect of which it was issued. Receipts for such payments will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the Officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made, by encasement upon the relative certificate.

Issue of Promissory Notes.

16. (a) When any allotment-certificate is fully paid up, the holder will, on presenting it duly receipted at the place where it was paid, obtain from the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, promissory notes of such values as he may desire (each note being in even hundreds and not less than Rs. 500), bearing interest from 31st December 1897, and he will also receive interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum from the dates on which he may have made payment till the 30th of December 1897.

(b) Or he may, at his option, by paying interest at the said rate from 30th June 1897 to the dates on which he may have made payment, obtain promissory notes as above, bearing interest from 30th June 1897.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 8th July, 1897 :

NO. 11 OF 1897.

A Bill to repeal the Cantonments Act Amendment Act, 1895, and to amend the Cantonments Act, 1889.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal the Cantonments Act Amendment Act, 1895, and to amend the Cantonments Act, 1889 : It is hereby enacted as follows :

1. (1) This Act may be called the Cantonments Act, 1897, and Title and commencement.

(2) It shall come into force at once.

2. The Cantonments Act Amendment Act, 1895, is hereby repealed.

3. In section 31 of the Cantonments Act, 1889, for the words "a commanding officer" the words "a commanding, medical or other officer" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The second and third are the operative clauses in this Bill. The second clause proposes to repeal Act V of 1895, which imposed restrictions on the rule-making power conferred by section 26 of the Cantonments Act, 1889 (XIII of 1889). The removal of these restrictions will restore to the Governor General in Council the power to make rules to check the spread of venereal diseases in cantonments, and will give him the same powers in respect of venereal diseases that he has in the case of other contagious and infectious disorders.

The third clause merely extends to medical and other officers, the same protection in the performance of their duties as is already given to cantonment authorities and commanding officers.

The 7th July, 1897.

J. M. MACPHERSON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

It was intended that Local Governments and Administrations should deal with applications from Cantonment Magistrates for privilege leave, and that all applications for leave other than privilege leave should be referred for the orders of the Government of India.

2. The intention of these instructions has, however, been misunderstood, and an instance has occurred in which leave, other than privilege leave, for a period not exceeding three months, has been granted by the Local Government without reference to the Government of India. In order to avert all possibility of misunderstanding in the future, the Governor-General in Council is now pleased to direct that all applications for furlough or leave, other than privilege leave, from permanent Cantonment Magistrates, shall in future be made through the Local Government to the Home Department, which will grant the leave, and will also be responsible for sending to Her Majesty's Under-Secretary of State for India the papers in cases in which the grant of leave is based on a medical certificate.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1896-97.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Darjeeling, the 29th June, 1897.

RESOLUTION—No. 3607 Mis. .

READ—

The Report of the Botanical Garden, Calcutta, for the year 1896-97.

The failure of the past rains proved fatal to a number of the plants, which had been weakened by the preceding drought of 1895-96. The conservatories, which depend for their water on the tanks in the garden, suffered most, since these tanks had to be supplemented with water from the river, and the quality of the water thus supplied was found unsuitable for the more delicate plants. The principal improvement effected in the garden during the year was the relaying of the avenue leading from the river entrance to the great banyan tree. The opportunity was taken to open out several vistas by removing trees, and before the end of the year the improvement of the Clarke and Thompson avenues was taken in hand. The popularity of the garden has greatly increased owing to its having become a favourite resort for bicycling parties, and visitors in the hot weather and rains, who used to be scarce, are now numerous.

2. With regard to plants of an economic value, Dr. Prain, the Curator of the Herbarium, was engaged during last cold weather in making observations on mustards. To provide samples, patches of the various kinds of mustard cultivated in Bengal were grown in the Sibpur Experimental Farm.

Dr. Prain's results, which are said to be of great interest both from a botanical and an economic point of view, will shortly be published by the Department of Land Records and Agriculture. The results of a similar series of observations on the different kinds of wheat, which were made by Dr. Prain in 1895-96, have been recently published. There was a large demand from planters and other persons during the year for rhea plants, the interest in the cultivation of which has revived. The indents were met as far as possible, and the rhea field has been thoroughly cultivated and manured in case the demand continues. Dr. King observes that the real difficulty in respect of rhea seems at present "to be rather in securing a supply of the raw material than in finding a process to deal with it successfully after it has been put on the European market."

3. The Herbarium as usual received special attention, and 13,989 specimens were added to the collections during the year, the principal contributors being Mr. Duthie, Director of the Botanical Survey of Northern India, and Mr. Thistleton Dyer, Director of the Royal Garden, Kew. An extremely interesting collection of Thibetan plants was received from Mr. E. Drake del Castillo of Paris, and a similar collection of Southern Indian plants, collected 50 years ago by Perottet, the Swiss Botanist, was contributed by M. Musy, Custodian of the Musée Cantonal of Fribourg. Contributions were also received from Mr. Ridley (Singapore), M. Batalin (St. Petersburg), the late Baron Von Mueller, Dr. Engler (Berlin), Mr. G. V. Nash (Columbia College, New York), Mr. A. H. Curtiss of Jacksonville (Florida), Mr. A. A. Heller (Hawaiian Islands), Dr. Treub (Buitenzorg), Dr. Radlkofer (Munich), Mr. R. T. Baker (Sidney), Dr. Günther Beck (Vienna), and Mr. C. W. Hope (Dehra Dun). The officers of the Indian Forest Department from whom contributions were received were Mr. R. L. Heinig, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Andaman Islands; Mr. J. S. Gamble, Director of the Forest School, Dehra Dun; Mr. W. A. Talbot, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Kanara; Mr. H. H. Haines, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Bengal, and Mr. Bourdillon, Conservator of Forests, Travancore. Surgeon-Captain F. C. Maynard and Mr. Dun (Chin Hills) also contributed to the Herbarium during the year. Sikkim plants, plants of Upper Burma and Bhutan plants were collected by the direct agency of the garden staff. A large number of specimens were sent out from the garden to various botanical institutions in Europe, America, Australia, Java, the Straits Settlements, and different parts of India.

4. The second part of the fifth volume and the seventh volume of the Garden Annals were issued during the year. The former consists of descriptions with figures of about one hundred new or interesting species, while the latter comprises a monograph on the Indian species of bamboos, by Mr. J. Sykes Gamble, Director of the Forest School, Dehra Dun, with a description of every species of bamboo found growing within the Empire and a summary of its uses. It also contains a lithograph of each species with careful analyses of the parts of the flower, and thus supplies a long felt want, since, owing to the infrequency of their flowering, the bamboos have hitherto been little understood, and the different species have been very imperfectly recognised. Both Dr. King and Dr. Prain also contributed valuable papers on botanical subjects to the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal.

5. The Lloyd Botanic Garden in Darjeeling suffered severely during the year under review, first from the unusual drought, and subsequently from the exceptionally heavy rains, which at the end of July culminated in a storm which destroyed many trees and plants. The repair of the damage done absorbed much money, which would otherwise have been spent on improvements. The lease of the patch of ground, belonging to the Darjeeling Municipality, which has for some years been worked as a vegetable garden, expired during the year, and it was decided that the land should be made over to Government for incorporation with the garden.

6. The Lieutenant-Governor's thanks are again due to Dr. King, the Superintendent, and Dr. Prain, the Curator of the Herbarium, for their excellent management of the Garden during the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR
THE YEAR 1896-97.

No. 14G., dated Government Cinchona Plantation, Mungpoo, the 12th May 1897.

From.—BRIGADE-SURGEON-LIEUTENANT-COLONEL GEORGE KING, M.B., LL.D., F.L.S.
F.R.S., C.I.E., Superintendent, Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta,

To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

I HAVE the honour herewith to submit the 110th Annual Report of the Royal Botanic Garden, Calcutta.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDEN, CALCUTTA, FOR THE YEAR 1896-97.

THE scantiness of the rainfall which characterised the year 1895-96 was repeated during the year 1896-97, with the unfortunate but inevitable result that a number of plants which had been weakened by deficiency of moisture during the former year succumbed during the latter. The mortality was highest in the conservatories, and was not due so much to the want of water, which was given as freely as possible by artificial means, as to its quality. The tanks from which the conservatories are supplied contain in ordinary seasons sweet water all the year round. But at the end of last rainy season they contained, on account of the partial failure of the monsoon, less than the usual proportion of rain-water, their contents having had to be supplemented more largely than usual by water pumped into them from the river. As the season advanced their water thus became proportionally more brackish than usual, and many delicate plants perished, not from dryness, but from the unsuitable quality of the moisture supplied to them. The show of orchids, which during the month of March and April makes the conservatories so popular, was also affected by the season, and was much poorer than usual. The months of February and March were indeed unusually showery; but the supply of moisture, welcome although it was, came too late to counteract the effects of two unusually dry years. The chief improvement effected in the garden during the year was the relaying of the long straight avenue which leads from the river entrance to the great banyan tree. This involved many alterations in level, not only in the roadway itself, but in the grassy slopes on each side of it. The soil required for making up the levels and for improving the slopes was obtained (as was mentioned in last year's annual report) by deepening the large tanks in the western part of the garden, no addition whatever having been made to the area occupied by water, which in that part of the grounds is already quite great enough. The avenue on which these improvements were effected is crossed about its middle by the Hooker avenue (another of the main roads in the garden); and the alterations made in the levels of the former involved alterations also in those of the latter near the point of crossing. The changes made in these two roads, and the removal of a number of trees from their margins, have had the effect of opening up several fine vistas in a part of the garden where the views used to be rather cramped and confined. Before the end of the official year a beginning had been made towards making similar improvements in the Clarke and Thomson avenues, both of which have been in a bad state for years. It is hoped that these may be successfully completed during the current year, and that thus another considerable instalment shall be completed of the improvements which are still required to make the garden what it ought to be. No buildings were erected during the year. Additional cooly lines are, however, urgently wanted; a fern conservatory is still a desideratum; and another glazed plant-house is wanted for the nursery. These may, it is hoped, be provided when the present financial pressure on Government has been relieved. The number of visitors to the garden is steadily increasing. Even during the hot-weather and rainy seasons, during which in times past visitors used to be very few, parties of bicyclists have begun to make the garden a resort, the smoothness of the roads offering apparently a great attraction to people on wheels.

2. Economic plants.—During the cold season patches of the various kinds of mustard cultivated in Bengal were grown in the Sibpur Experimental Farm adjoining the garden. This was done so that Dr. Prain might have samples of these crops under observation, with the view of furnishing the Agricultural Department with accurate information as to the races and varieties to which they belong. The results, which go to establish the accuracy of the conclusions arrived at 90 years ago by Dr. Roxburgh (the second Superintendent of the garden), are of great interest both botanically and economically. A similar series of observations on the races of wheat cultivated in Bengal was conducted by Dr. Prain on the same farm during the cold season of 1895-96, and Dr. Prain was then fortunately able to discover the host of the form of rust which too frequently works such havoc with the wheat crops of the Gangetic plain and of the Central Provinces. The results of the series of observations on "wheats" have just been issued, while those on "mustards" are shortly to be published, by the Department of Land Records and Agriculture of Bengal. There was during the year a revival of the interest in rhea cultivation, and large numbers of plants were consequently applied for by planters and others. These indents were met as far as possible; and, in view of a continuation of the demand, the rhea field, which has for years occupied a corner of the garden, has been thoroughly cultivated and manured. As was the case during all previous revivals of interest in rhea, various processes for extracting the fibre have been patented and advertised; and joint-stock companies have been formed to work them. The real difficulty at present seems, however, to be rather in securing a supply of the raw material than in finding a process to deal with it successfully after it has been put on the European market. The usual issues of fruit trees and of trees for planting avenues within municipalities and cantonments have been made during the year. Details of these will be found in the second appendix attached to the present report.

3. Herbarium.—Work in the Herbarium was carried on by Dr. Prain and myself with as much vigour as circumstances permitted. During the year 13,989 specimens were added to the collection; while 12,197 specimens of carefully named plants were distributed to the chief Herbaria in Europe, America, and Asia. The chief donor to the Herbarium was Mr. Duthie, Director of the Botanical Survey of Northern India, who contributed 2,066 specimens, and the next was Mr. Thiselton Dyer, Director of the Royal Garden, Kew, who sent 1,757. Mr. Ridley, Director of the Botanic Garden, Singapore, and M. Batailin, Director of the Imperial Herbarium, St. Petersburg, contributed respectively 993 and 847 specimens. An extremely interesting collection of 629 Tibetan plants was contributed by M. E. Drake del Castillo of Paris. From M. Musy, Custodian of the Musée Cantonal of Fribourg, was received a most interesting collection numbering 550 species of plants collected fifty years ago in Southern India by the Swiss Botanist, Perottet. In exchange for these plants of Perottet a large named collection of plants of Northern India has been sent to M. Musy. This exchange transaction was arranged by Dr. Prain while he was on furlough in Europe two years ago. To Mr. R. L. Heinig, Deputy Conservator of Forests in the Andaman Islands, the Herbarium is indebted for 627 specimens. Mr. Heinig is an old and valued contributor, from whom in past years, excellent collections have been received. Other members of the Forest Department who made contributions during the year are Mr. J. S. Gamble, Director of the Forest School, Dehra Dun; Mr. W. A. Talbot, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Kanara, and Mr. H. H. Haines, Deputy Conservator of Forests in Bengal, who sent respectively 77, 339, and 212 specimens. From the late Baron von Mueller, one of the most liberal contributors to the Calcutta collection in years past, there was received, just before his lamented death, a most interesting collection of 301 critical species, chiefly from New Guinea. From Dr. Engler of the Imperial Herbarium, Berlin, I have to acknowledge the receipt of 283 specimens. From America were received 557 plants from Mr. G. V. Nash of Columbia College, New York; 200 from Mr. A. H. Curtiss of Jacksonville, Florida; and 435 from Mr. A. A. Heller, Hawaiian Islands. Surgeon-Captain F. C. Maynard contributed some very interesting plants collected by him during the delimitation of the Beluch-Afghan frontier. These plants formed the subject of a joint paper by Dr. Maynard and Dr. Prain, which was published during the year in the Records of the Botanical Survey of India. Mr. Dun sent from the Chin Hills an interesting lot of plants; while Dr. Treub, Director of the Botanic Garden, Buitenzorg, presented 215 specimens; and the veteran Dr. Radlkofer of the Royal Herbarium, Munich, sent 197 most interesting species. Other donors were Mr. B. T. Baker of the Technological Museum, Sydney, Dr. Günther Beck of Vienna, Mr. C. W. Hope of Dehra Dun, and Mr. Bourdillon, Conservator of the Forests of Travancore. By the direct agency of the garden staff there were collected during the year three sets of plants; viz., Sikkim plants to the number of 1,794 by Mr. R. Pantling; plants of Upper Burma to the number of 530 by Abdul Kholil; and Bhutan plants to the number of 205 by Shaik Mokeem. The latter collector accompanied Dr. A. R. Anderson, Officiating Superintendent of the Indian Museum, who made as shooting excursion into Bhutan. The plants were collected in the neighbourhood of Buxa. Issues of named specimens of Indian plants were made during the year to most of the great botanical institutions in Europe, amongst which may be mentioned those at Kew, the British Museum, the Jardin des Plantes, Paris, the Imperial Museum, St. Petersburg, the Royal Museum, Berlin; to the Herbaria of the Botanic Garden and of the Imperial Museum, Vienna; to the great De Candollean Herbarium at Geneva, to the Herbaria of the Universities of Edinburgh, Cambridge, Aberdeen, Upsala, Zurich, Leiden, Utrecht, Florence; to those of Owen's College, Manchester, and to that of M. Drake del Castello at Paris, and of Sir Dietrich Brandis at Bonn. Contributions were also sent to America to the Smithsonian Institution, Washington, the Arnold Herbarium at Harvard, to the Natural History Survey of Minnesota, Minneapolis; to Australia for the Melbourne Herbarium; to Java for the Buitenzorg Herbarium, and to the Strait Settlements for the Herbaria at Singapore and Perak. In India plants were distributed to the Director of the Botanical Survey of Northern India, to the Herbarium of the College of Science, Poona; to that of the Madras Government at Madras, to that at Peradeniya, Ceylon, and to the collections of Mr. Talbot, Kanara, and of Mr. Gamble, Dehra Dun.

4. Botanical publications.—During the year the second part of the fifth volume of the Annals of the garden was issued. This volume consists of descriptions, with figures, of about one hundred new or interesting species. About one-fourth of the letter-press of the volume was contributed by Mr. P. Brühl of the Educational Service of Bengal, a smaller portion was written by Dr. Prain, and the remainder is my own work. The seventh volume of the Annals was also issued during the year. This volume consists of a monograph of the Indian species of Bamboos by Mr. J. Sykes Gamble, Director of the Forest School, Dehra Dun. The bamboos, owing chiefly to the infrequency of their flowering, have hitherto been little understood, and the different species have been very imperfectly recognised. Mr. Gamble, at once a Forest Officer and a botanist, years ago recognised the difficulties connected with the identification of the species of this most important group of plants, and he has devoted years to their study. After much patient labour he has succeeded in producing an account of them which leaves nothing to be desired. In addition to a description of every species found growing within the limits of the Empire, Mr. Gamble in his monograph gives a list of its vernacular names in the different provinces, with a summary of its uses. The volume contains, moreover, an excellent lithograph of each species drawn by a trained draftsman, with careful analyses of the parts of the flower from Mr. Gamble's own pencil. The eighth volume of the Annals is now in preparation, and will, it is hoped, be published during the year now entered upon. Dr. Prain, Curator of the Herbarium, contributed during the past year the following papers to the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal:—Noticia Indica, XI, XII, XIII, XIV (Two new species of Lagotis; Description of a new genus of Orchidaceæ; Further additional Convolvulaceæ; Some additional Solanaceæ) and, in conjunction with Dr. King, a paper on Oroftia, a new genus of Scitamineæ. In the Records of the Botanical Survey of India Dr. Prain has published, in conjunction with Dr. Cunningham, a note on Indian wheat-rusts, and in conjunction with Dr. Maynard a note on the Botany of the Biluch-Afghan Boundary Commission. He has also written a note on the Races of wheat cultivated in Bengal for the publications of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal, and a Supplementary Report on Ganja for the Board of Revenue, Lower Provinces, besides contributing minor notes to the Indian Forester, Bulletin de l'Herbier Boissier, &c. To the Journal of the Asiatic Society of Bengal, I contributed the ninth part of my Materials for a Flora of the Malayan Peninsula. In the preparation of this part I received great assistance from Dr. Prain, who elaborated for it the account of the important and difficult family of Leguminosæ.

5. Library.—The usual periodicals and a few books were added to the library during the year. Some of these were received in exchange for volumes of the garden Annals, the others were purchased.

6. Interchange of living plants and seeds.—The appendices I to IV contain full details of the receipts and issues of plants and seeds during the year. The issue of plants was unusually large, and amounted to 54,874. Of this total, about 20,000 were rheca plants given gratuitously to various persons desirous of trying rheca cultivation on a large scale. The plants received numbered 17,981. Amongst these was a fine lot of very interesting things, numbering over 2,000, collected by Dr. G. Watt, c.s., during a tour made by him in Assam in his capacity of Reporter on Economic Products to the Government of India. Interesting collections, chiefly of orchids, were also received from Messrs. Gammie, Pantling, and Parkes of the Cinchona Plantation; from Mr. Davies, Assistant Curator of the garden; and from Mr. Peché, Moulmein. Mr. Spooner, c.s., Kathiawar, and Mr. Ridley of Lucknow contributed liberally. Messrs. Sander & Co. and Messrs. Low & Son, nurserymen, London, also made handsome contributions, as did Mr. P. Lancaster, Secretary to the Agri-Horticultural Society of India, and Mr. S. P. Chatterjee, nurseryman, Calcutta. Lastly, a most interesting collection was received from the Royal Garden, Kew. Of seeds, 1,043 packets were received during the year, and 2,234 packets were distributed.

7. Lloyd Botanic Garden, Darjeeling.—The history of this garden during the year was one of misfortune. During the early months the drought was most trying, and when the rainy season at last began it was ushered in by heavy downpours of rain which caused many small landslips all over the grounds. And, towards the end of July, there occurred a violent storm of rain and wind which lasted for about two hours, and by which many of the larger trees were either uprooted or broken to pieces. The fall of these trees of course injured many of the shrubs and herbaceous plants growing beneath them; and the day after the storm the garden presented a miserable appearance. The repair of the damage, as far as it was capable of repair, absorbed much money which otherwise would have been spent on improvements. The lease of the patch of ground which for the past ten years has been worked by the Curator as a vegetable garden expired in June. The Municipality declined to renew the lease, and intimated their intention of building on the land. The building project, however, was abandoned, and an arrangement was made with Government by which this piece of land is to be made over to the Botanic Garden in perpetuity. These arrangements have not yet, however, been officially completed, and the patch of land has not as yet been formally made over. Mr. Kennedy has been in charge of the Lloyd Garden during the year; and, in addition to his work in the garden, he has been in charge of the Shrubbery grounds and of the various trees planted along roadsides within the limits of the Municipality. Mr. Kennedy has as usual worked steadily and energetically.

8. The budget allotments of money both for the Calcutta and Lloyd Botanic Gardens have been fully spent, with the exception of some trivial savings on account of exchange compensation allowance. The proceeds of the sales of surplus plants, amounting for the Calcutta garden to Rs. 73² and for the Darjeeling garden to Rs. 1,060, were paid into the Government treasuries as usual.

9. No one connected with the garden went on furlough during the year. Dr. Prain was as usual in charge of the Herbarium and Library. His services are already too well known to Government to require any mention by me. During the year his devotion to economic botanic work was conspicuous in connection with his researches into the cultivated forms of wheat and mustard and with his investigation into the host of wheat-rust of the plains, the latter having been conducted conjointly with Dr. D. D. Cunningham, f.r.s. Mr. G. T. Lane and H. J. Davies filled respectively the posts of Curator and Assistant Curator of the garden during the entire year, and both worked admirably. During the year Mr. G. H. Cave joined the garden as a probationer under the recently sanctioned graded scheme. Mr. Cave was selected by the Director of Kew from the staff of that institution and came to India with an excellent reputation, which I have little doubt he will maintain. The offices both of the Botanic Garden and of the Cinchona Plantation have been under the charge of Babu Gopal Chandra Datta, whose continued good service merits recognition.

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF MEDICAL CERTIFICATES.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MEDICAL.—No. 3399Medl.

Calcutta, the 30th June 1897

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Government of Bengal Resolution No. 298T.M., dated the 4th September 1895, revising the rules for the grant of medical certificates to candidates for employment in Government service and gazetted officers applying for leave or permission to retire from the service.

A letter from the Government of India, Home Department, No. 13-Medl.
616, dated the 25th June 1896, reviewing the above Resolution.

In the Resolution cited in the preamble the Government of Bengal reviewed the question of the grant of medical certificates in Bengal to candidates for employment in the Government service and to applicants for leave on medical certificate or for permission to retire. Rules were laid down on the subject, by which the duty of examining applicants and granting medical certificates in Calcutta was distributed among the medical officers permitted to engage in private practice. The Government of India, while accepting the principle laid down in the Resolution, desired that this distribution, which applied only to Provincial Departments, might be extended to all establishments under the Government of India in Calcutta. They also pointed out that the form of certificate prescribed in the Resolution was far more severe than was intended by Article 61 of the Civil Service Regulations, and observed that, except in cases where the rules for admission to an office or department require the submission of a certificate previous to examination, certificates should only be given to selected candidates on the requisition of the head of the department. It was further requested that, in the orders distributing the establishments of the Government of India for the purpose of the grant of medical certificates, it might be made clear that, subject to certain exceptions, the rules should not affect the right of officers under that Government, resident within the limits of the town of Calcutta, to call in any Presidency Surgeon whom they choose.

2. In order to give effect to the orders of the Government of India, and to settle finally the entire question of the grant of medical certificates, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased, in supersession of all previous orders on the subject, to lay down the following rules for future guidance:—

RULES FOR THE GRANT OF MEDICAL CERTIFICATES.

I. The duty of granting medical certificates and of countersigning certificates under articles 903 and 904, Civil Service Regulations, shall, in Calcutta, be performed by the medical officers mentioned in Appendix II attached to these rules, who will examine or countersign certificates relating to those officers only who belong to the departments allotted to them.

II. In the mufassal the duty of granting medical certificates and of countersigning certificates under articles 903 and 904, Civil Service Regulations, shall be performed by the Civil Surgeon or Civil Medical Officer of the district, who will examine or countersign certificates relating to persons of all departments who belong to, or are employed in, his district. He will on no account examine or countersign a certificate for a person attached to another district, except under the circumstances described in rule IV.

III. All officers of Government, whether gazetted or non-gazetted, who are desirous of obtaining medical certificates recommending leave, extension of leave, or retirement, must, if employed in Calcutta, apply to the medical officer to whom the department in which they are employed is allotted. If they are employed in the mufassal, they must apply to the Civil Surgeon or the Civil Medical Officer of the district in which they are employed, and to him only.

IV. Officers on leave either in Calcutta or the mufassal, who, while at a station other than that from which they went on leave, are desirous of obtaining an extension of leave on medical certificate, must, if in Calcutta, apply to the Medical Officer to whom the Department in which they are employed, or the department of the Secretariat to which they are immediately subordinate is allotted, and, if in the mufassal, to the Civil Surgeon or Civil Medical Officer of the district. In every such case it will be the duty of the Medical Officer, before he grants a certificate, to ascertain particulars regarding the applicant's previous medical history, and the fact that this has been done shall be mentioned in the medical certificate.

V. Selected candidates for employment in Government service will be examined only on the requisition of the Head of the Department for which they have been selected. In Calcutta, such requisitions must be addressed to the Medical Officer to whom the department has been allotted, and to no other officer, and in the mufassal to the Civil Surgeon or Civil Medical Officer of the district in which they are to serve.

VI. Medical certificates granted to selected candidates for employment in Government service will ordinarily be in Form I, but certificates in Form II will be given when specially required by the Head of the Department. Those granted to officers in the service of Government, whether gazetted or non-gazetted, will be in Form III which is prescribed in article 893 of the Civil Service Regulations.

VII. In every case, if the opinion of the medical officer is unfavourable to the applicant, an appeal will lie to the Medical Board, and the decision of the Board shall be final.

3. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to direct that these rules shall also apply to the establishments under the Government of India in Calcutta, and that the orders contained in Appendix II distributing the establishments of the Governments of India and of Bengal, for the purpose of the grant of medical certificates, will not affect the right of any officer under either Government, resident in Calcutta, who is entitled to the attendance of a Presidency Surgeon, to call in for the purpose of treatment any one of them whom he chooses, except in cases in which special orders have been laid down limiting this right.

4. The Lieutenant-Governor also directs that medical certificates shall only be required from selected candidates, on the requisition of the head of the Department, and that these shall be granted free of charge. In the case of selected candidates for the Provincial Service, the certificate will be in Form II.

5. The certificate prescribed by rule VI for ordinary use is the same as that prescribed by Article 61 of the Civil Service Regulations, but the rule leaves it open to any department, which requires its officers to be capable of standing hard out-door work, to demand a special certificate in Form II.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Heads of Departments for information and communication to officers subordinate to them.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to all Departments under this Government for information.

Ordered also that a copy of this Resolution be submitted to the Government of India in the Home Department, for information.

Ordered also that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. H. RISLEY,

Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP FOR 1897.

THE following is published for general information.

REV. DEPT.,
The 5th July 1897.

M. FINUCANE,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First forecast of the jute crop in Bengal for season 1897 (up to the middle of June 1897).

Season.—Very little rain was received in January and February in the jute-growing districts of Bengal. In March sufficient rain, generally in excess of the normal, fell in all jute-growing districts, except those in the south of the Province, namely, Khulna, Backergunge and Noakhali. The rainfall in April was almost normal in the districts of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, but it was very deficient in the districts of North and East Bengal generally. In May thunder showers were of frequent occurrence; the total rainfall of this month was very nearly normal or somewhat in excess of normal in North Bengal and in Burdwan, Dacca and Mymensingh; elsewhere it was more or less deficient. The rainfall during the first fortnight of June was considerably short of the normal in most jute-growing districts, but what rain fell seems to have been well distributed and the crop does not seem to have suffered from deficient moisture. The heavy rain which has fallen in the last portion of this month, since the District Officers wrote, has no doubt improved the prospects of the jute crop.

2. Area cultivated.—The total area sown in jute during the current season appears, from the district returns appended to this note, to amount to 2,188,100 acres against 2,203,000 acres estimated to have been sown in 1896. The decrease in area sown this year is nominal. The difficulty anticipated in steeping jute for want of water is reported to have checked sowings to some extent in Jessore and Nadia. Contraction in area is most noticeable in these two districts and in Dinajpur. In a few districts, on the other hand, a somewhat larger area than last year's has been sown this year, owing, it is believed, to favourable rain having been received in the beginning of the season. It is also stated that high price of rice has to some extent influenced cultivators to grow paddy this year in preference to jute.

3. Character of the crop.—The prospects of the crop appear so far to be favourable. In North and East Bengal, which are the chief seats of jute cultivation, the crop promises to give at least an average outturn, regard being had to the persistent tendency of local reporting officers to under-estimate outturn, while the prospects of the crop are equally good in districts of less importance. The arithmetical mean of the estimates of outturn in annas returned by the District Officers for the current year is $14\frac{2}{3}$ annas; but in view of the tendency to under-estimate noticed above, the average outturn of the present crop is estimated by this Department at 16 annas, or nearly the same as the crops of 1894 and 1895 but over a slightly reduced area. The fulfilment of the present promise of the crop will depend, of course, on the season continuing to be favourable during the next two months and on the crop escaping serious injury by early floods.

4. Gross yield of the crop.—Comparing the crop of 1897 with the crops of 1894 and 1895, the gross yield of the present crop may be estimated at 67 lakhs of bales against 71 lakhs (revised estimate) in 1894 and 73 lakhs (revised estimate) in 1895.

In accordance with a suggestion made by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce last year, the exportable surplus of jute out of present crop has not been estimated. Some of the factors which determine that surplus, such as the amount locally consumed and the stock of jute from the previous year, are so uncertain and variable, that it is considered safest to allow those interested in the trade to make their own deduction as to the probable quantity of jute available for export. The estimate of yield adopted in this Department is that a 16 annas crop gives 15 maunds of raw jute, or 1,250 pounds to the acre. It has been roughly estimated in this Department that local consumption of raw jute in the districts for house construction, tethering cattle, local gunny-cloth and minor uses may account for 10 to 15 lakhs of bales. This estimate is sometimes challenged as excessive. With regard to stocks, it may be noted that enquiries recently made by local officers appear to show that very little jute is left in the districts out of the crop of 1896. As regards the consumption of jute by the Indian mills (an important factor in determining the surplus available for exportation), it may be mentioned that the Indian Jute Manufactures Association estimate the consumption, during the coming season, at $21\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of bales against $15\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of bales which was the average annual consumption of the three years ending 31st July 1896, and $18\frac{1}{2}$ lakhs of bales in 1896-97.

Presidency	Nadia 18-4-97.	47,000	46,400	20,000	Annas. 15	Annas. 13	The decrease in the area sown is owing to the fact that last year much difficulty in steeping jute for want of water was experienced by cultivators; besides they have considered it more advantageous this year to sow one paddy. The present state of the crop is promising, and if there be no deficiency of rain, a much better outturn is expected.
	Murshidabad 17-4-97.	20,000	19,300	17,000	11	12	The decrease in area sown this year is due to the high prices of rice which has tempted the cultivators to sow paddy in jute lands. The increase in outturn is little and is due to the timely rainfall of the year.
	Jessore 16-4-97.	41,500	41,000	27,900	13	15	In the Narail subdivision where the area of jute is the greatest, the decrease this year is due to want of rain which prevented the high lands being sown with jute this year. The divisional officer of Bongoon says the decrease in area is due this year to cultivators having felt some difficulty year in steeping their jute, which they afraid might be retarded this year.
	Khulna 17-4-97.	22,500	21,000	21,000	14	11	A good outturn can not be expected of timely rain.

Rajshahi 24-6-97.	104,300	104,000	127,000 (a)	13	131 (b)	(a) The increase is due to the transfer of thana Mohadebpur and parts of thana Adamdighi and Nawabganj to this district. (b) For want of sufficient rain in the Sadar and Naurson subdivisions, the outturn this year is expected to be not more than 13 annas. In the Nator subdivision, however, a 16-anna outturn is expected owing to the timely rainfall since the sowing season. The decrease in columns 3 and 4, compared with last year's figures (93,500 and 107,500 acres respectively) is due to the transfer of thana Mohadebpur to Rajshahi district. The area sown during the current year has, to some extent been reduced owing to a large area of dhadoi paddy having been sown. Prospects of the crop are, so far, good. The increase in area is due to extension of cultivation in the district. The outturn is expected to be more than that of the previous year owing to rainfall being seasonable up to date.	It is not known why the outturn of the crop should be below the average this year.
Dinajpur 13-6-97.	95,310	104,000	90,000	10	10	The normal area as well as the area cropped in 1896, was returned last year as 13,400 acres. The estimate of normal area being now revised and reduced to 2,800 acres, a similar reduction has been made in the Director's office in the estimate of area cropped in 1896.

Rangpur 9-6-97.	318,500	267,300	270,300	11	16	Seasonable fall of rain during the year has been favourable to the cultivation of jute, and has not interfered with the weeding operations. Hence average outturn is expected.
Bogra 10-6-97.	76,000	200,000	180,000	10	20	Better outturn is due to the favourable rain at the time of sowing and afterwards.
Palma 15-6-97.	130,800	104,300	132,300	13	13	In the Sirajganj subdivision the crop has been affected by the worm locally called "Urrehonga," and by the hailstorm in May last. Hence the bad outturn.

RABI CROPS IN BENGAL, 1896-97.

THE following is published for general information.

REV. DEPT.,
The 6th July 1897.

M. FINUCANE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Second note on the outturn of rabi crops in Bengal harvested in the spring of 1896-97.

Explnatory.—It was stated in the preliminary note on the outturn of rabi crops for 1896-97, issued on the 3rd April 1897, that in consequence of the incomplete estimate of rabi non-food-crops returned by District Officers in March last, it was not possible to prepare at the time a complete report on area cultivated with all kinds of rabi crops during the past season, and on their outturn. The returns appended to this note contain estimates of the area and outturn of all kinds of rabi crops (food as well as non-food-crops) harvested in the spring of 1896-97. The estimates of area and outturn of all rabi food-crops, except sugarcane, now published, are, with a few exceptions, the same as were published in the returns appended to the preliminary note of 3rd April 1897. Sugarcane, which did not appear in the preliminary returns, is now added to the list of rabi food-crops.

Separate estimates of area and outturn have been shown in the returns under the head of rabi non-food-crops for certain special crops, such as tobacco, opium, and Indian hemp, for which no separate forecast notes have been published.

The remaining rabi non-food-crops, among which the most important are oilseeds and cotton (for which separate forecast notes have been published), are shown in the aggregate. On reference to the provincial totals of the normal areas under the different kinds of rabi crops, it will be seen that out of an estimated total area of $18\frac{1}{2}$ millions of acres, the food-crops, including sugarcane, occupy about $12\frac{1}{2}$ millions of acres or two-thirds of the estimated rabi area. The remaining one-third, or six millions of acres, is occupied by non-food-crops, among which oilseeds occupying about four million acres and tobacco occupying about four-fifths of a million of acres, are the most important.

2. Character of the rabi season of 1896-97.—The character of the last rabi season was briefly described in the preliminary note, of 3rd April 1897. The description is reproduced below for convenience of reference. The monsoon season of 1896 was exceptionally dry, and the rains, moreover, ceased early in the latter part of September. The month of October was practically rainless, and no general rain was received over the Province till the third week of November. The absence of rain during this period, and the deficient rainfall of the previous months, produced a lack of moisture in the soil, which interfered seriously with the preparation of the land and the sowings of the rabi crops generally. Rain fell on the 23rd and 24th November in many parts of these Provinces, but the showers were too light to do much good to the rabi crops which had been sown. In December there was no rain in Lower Bengal and Orissa. In North Bengal there was general rain on the 31st, and in Bihar and Chota Nagpur light rain fell on the 25th and 31st. In January, rain was very light throughout the Province, in most parts practically nil. In February useful showers were received in all parts of these Provinces during the first three weeks of the month, which improved the prospects of the standing crops to some extent. The showers were generally light, except the rain which fell about the middle of the month in Orissa and Chota Nagpur. No rain fell during the last week of February. The rainfall of February was above the normal in Orissa and Chota Nagpur, practically normal in Bihar, and in defect of the normal in Bengal Proper. Hail slightly damaged the standing crops in Palamau during the first week of February. There was rain in the first week of March in parts of Northern and Eastern Bengal. In the second week slight showers of rain fell in many districts; and in parts of Bhagalpur and Palamau the rain was accompanied by hail and storm which did some damage to standing crops. In the third week scattered showers (accompanied in some instances by high winds) fell in different parts of these Provinces. During the last week of March rain was general all over the Province. It proved useful to spring crops, and is not reported to have injured the crops ready for harvest or lying on the threshing floor.

3. Area cultivated.—According to the revised estimates now published, the area sown in 1896-97 with rabi food-crops, exclusive of sugarcane, appears to be 8,724,900 acres, against 9,473,900 acres estimated to have been sown in the previous year. The decrease of 749,000 acres (7·9 per cent.) is attributed to the early cessation of the monsoon rains of 1896. Among the rabi food-crops there was, however, a noticeable increase in the area sown in boro rice (675,000 acres in 1896-97 against 561,700 acres in 1895-96); the extension of cultivation of boro paddy appears to have been due to the failure of the bhadoi and winter paddy crops. There was a nominal increase in the area cropped with potatoes, yams, melons, and other cold weather vegetables and fruits.

The estimated area under sugarcane in 1896-97 was 835,000 acres, against 927,000 acres in the previous year. The decrease in area seems to have been due to the want of rain at the sowing time in the cold weather of 1895-96. The as sown in tobacco, opium, paddy and ganja also show a light decrease, due no doubt to the want of rain in the beginning of the last cold weather. There was, however, an important falling off, due to the same cause, in the area occupied by "other rabi non-food-crops" in 1896-97, amounting to 565,400 acres, or 13·2 per cent. on the area cultivated in the previous year.

The total area cropped with all kinds of rabi crops in the season of 1896-97, would appear to have fallen short of the area cultivated in the previous year by no less than 1,432,000 acres, or nearly 9 per cent. on the area sown in 1895-96.

4. Estimated outturn of crops.—The outturn of the rabi food-crops (except sugarcane) was described in the preliminary note of 3rd April 1897. The estimates of outturn of these crops remain generally the same, as shown in the preliminary returns. The average outturn for Bengal, of the rabi crops of 1896-97, was stated in the preliminary note to be $10\frac{1}{2}$ annas, against $11\frac{1}{2}$ annas estimated as the outturn of the rabi crops of 1895-96 grown on a somewhat larger area. In the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions, which together comprise $\frac{5}{8}$ ths of the total area under rabi food-crops, and where the area under cultivation with rabi food-crops was not much less than was cultivated in the previous year, the cultivation in 1896-97 was stated to be not less than 12 annas. The outturn of sugarcane, tobacco, and "rabi non-food-crops" generally is estimated at nearly three-fourths of the average. The arithmetical mean of the district returns of yield of opium appears to be 13 annas for 1896-97, against $12\frac{3}{4}$ annas in 1895-96. But it would appear from the Opium Administration Report for 1895-96 that the yield of opium per bigha in 1895-96 was slightly above the average of the past ten years. It is probable, therefore, that the outturn of the crop of 1896-97, which appears to have been slightly better than that of 1895-96, was a little over 16 annas, and not so low as 13 annas, which is the figure resultant from the District Officers' estimates.

The increase in the normal area and the area brought under cultivation during the year is owing to fresh enquiries made to ascertain the different kinds of rahi crops under cultivation. The figures in columns 8 and 9 look so low in consequence of last year's figures not being known in the case of each kind of crop. The explanation previously given applies in this case as regards the slightly better output.

Owing to the very poor outturn of both dhadai and winter rice crops the cultivators have exerted their utmost to bring every bit of land, even clearing dama or weeds from the betas under cultivation, hence an unusual increase in the area sown this year under boro rice. The rainfall of May has improved the prospects of boro rice.

Malpuri	Wheat	2,200	2,000	8	The deficiency of rainfall at and after sowing time has affected the output of rabi crops during the year. The increase in area over that of last year is due to introduction of other cereal crops in the Duars. The area under potato was not included in the preceding return. This has now been done. Hence the difference. The figures shown in column 8 are reported to have been ascertained after re-audity.

Faridpur	1,400,480	1,007,500	Wheat	2,000	1,800	2,200	16	Annas.	Owing to failure in paddy, the cultivators sowed more lands with wheat and Loro or summer rice, hence the increase in area under these crops. The deficiency of rainfall throughout the year is the cause of the poor output.

The area in column 8 has been corrected accordingly and this accounts also for the difference between the area in column 7 and that in the first forecast. The area and likewise the outturn have been greatly reduced owing to abnormal drought and excessive heat at sowing time. The crop was very unequal owing to variations in moisture at the time of sowing.

The area under boro rice is above the normal, as the raysals were induced to cultivate it for compensating the loss of winter rice by floods.

FAMINE RELIEF.

THE following paper is published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The 5th July 1897.

No. 652 ^{T.-R.}_(Fam.), dated Darjeeling, the 21st June 1897.

From—M. FINUCANE Esq., Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal, Revenue Dept.

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Dept.

IN continuation of this Government's letter No. 299 ^{T.-R.}_(Fam.), dated the 19th May 1897, I am directed to submit, under section 29 of the Bengal Famine Code, the following report on relief operations in this Province during the month of May. This report has been delayed in consequence of the report of the Patna Division having been delayed in transit by the interruption of traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway. The information furnished in this report, for the Patna Division, is for the four weeks ending 29th May, the previous report having dealt with the five weeks ending 1st May; the portions relating to the other Divisions are for the five weeks from the 25th April to 29th May, inclusive. The rainfall during the period under report is shown in a separate statement hereto annexed. I am to submit, herewith, a copy of the report of the Commissioner of the Patna Division, No. 1272F.G., dated the 25th May 1897, with enclosures, for the first half of May. Copies of his report, No. 1367F.G., dated the 11th June 1897, with enclosures, for the second half of May, will be forwarded from Calcutta as soon as that report is printed. I am also to enclose famine maps of the districts of Manbhum, Palamau, Hazaribagh, Nadia, Murshidabad, Sonthal Parganas and Puri. A consolidated map of the Patna Division, showing the areas affected, and a famine map of the districts of Khulna, will be submitted later. As the affected area in the district of Bhagalpur continued unaltered, no map has been submitted by the local officers for the period under report.

2. Patna Division.—There is nothing of importance to report with regard to the districts of Patna and Gaya, both of which continued to be in a satisfactory condition. Prices were almost stationary, except that there was a slight rise in the price of rice, and public health and the condition of cattle were normal. The poor-house at Benkipore was still open, but of the 123 inmates, only about one-fourth belonged to the Patna district, and the rest were waifs from other districts. In Gaya, there were four poor-houses and two kitchens giving food to wanderers and others, the average daily number fed in the latter half of May being 515; charitable relief committees were at work in every thana and outpost, but all the reports received show that the number of persons in need of relief was small, and that in every case the funds locally raised had been sufficient to meet local requirements. In the remaining five districts of the Patna Division in which relief operations are in progress on an extensive scale, the month of May was marked by a rise in prices, which was greatest in Saran and in the Bettiah Subdivision of Champaran, and by an increase in the numbers on relief works and gratuitous relief. The following paragraphs deal with the main features of relief in these districts.

3. Rainfall and prospects of crops.—The rainfall in the several districts is shown in the statement hereto appended. Besides local showers, there was general rain in North Bihar on the 12th and 13th, and again between the 20th and 22nd of the month, and it is reported to have been wholly beneficial. The outturn of cheena, which was being harvested, was generally good, and sugarcane and the bhadosi crops are reported to have been doing well.

4. Area and population affected.—The only change reported under this head was in Champaran. Although there was no great alteration in the area seriously affected, the landless classes were everywhere in considerable distress on account of the very high prices, and as relief measures, in the shape of relief works or gratuitous relief or both, were in progress in all thanas, the Collector has now shown the whole district as affected.

5. Numbers on relief.—The numbers and percentages of population on relief are shown below from the first half of April:—

DISTRICT.	10TH APRIL.		1ST MAY.		15TH MAY.		29TH MAY.

Total	542,689	7.30	597,021	8.23	667,399	9.21	711,069	9.41

The numbers given in this table are as shown in the weekly telegraphic reports published in the Calcutta Gazette, corrected up to date. The number in Muzaffarpur for the 29th May shows a falling off as compared with the number on the 15th idem, but the number of relief workers, taken with the average daily number on gratuitous relief in the last week of May, as shown in Famine Statement A (relief works 60,071 + gratuitous relief 82,515 = total 142,586) was larger than the corresponding numbers for the first half of May (relief works 50,838 + gratuitous relief 78,369 = total 129,207). In all other districts the numbers were increasing. The smaller percentage for Champaran, as compared with that of the 15th of the month, is due to the increased area and population now shown as affected; there was an increase in the actual total numbers.

6. Relief works.—The number of works open on the 29th May was as follows:—

	Under Civil Officers.	Under the Public Works Department.	Total
Shahabad	10	...	10
Saran	37	12	49
Champanan	55	29	84
Muzaffarpur	82	25	107
Darbhanga	132	47	179
Total	316	113	429

The total number of works at the end of April was 373, of which 276 were under Civil Officers and 97 under the Public Works Department. The reasons which led to so large a number of works being opened, and the Lieutenant-Governor's views on this subject, were stated in paragraphs 10 to 12 of my letter No. 568 ^{T.R.}_{Fam.}, dated the 7th June 1897.

The following statement compares the numbers on Government relief works at the end of May with those at the end of April:—

The numbers on Government relief works increased in all districts. The following table shows the results of task-work, as regards outturn, wages and cost, in the second-half of May, in comparison with those in the corresponding period of April:—

Darbhanga ...	1 6	1 6	1 6 1	1 6 1	54 20	60	2	7 0

The wages earned during the two periods do not show much difference. There was a satisfactory increase in the average daily outturn per male, and a consequent decrease in the cost rate per 1,000 cubic feet of earthwork in the district of Shahabad. Mr. Toogood, the Public Works Department Superintendent of Relief Works, who was lately on tour in this district, reported that the measurements were unimpeachable and that the work was being very well done. Owing to the small numbers of workers, measurements and payments were made for the individual task, and the Commissioner reports that the system was working well, he has decided not to interfere with it. At Saran falling off in the outturn and the increase in cost rate in the district of were due mainly to the facts that most of the works under Civil Officers, that the tanks far advanced, in which the lead and lift were very long, and the number of women employed as carriers was very large. The proportion of females to males on task-work was greatest in this district, being 216·14 females for every 100 males.

7. Piece-work system.—The system of piece-work had been introduced during the course of the month only in the districts of Champaran, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga, on the major works as noted on the margin. The District Officers concerned have not found it possible to report fully on the working of the new system. The following table shows the results as far as can be gathered from the statistics furnished:—

lead up to 50 feet and lift up to 3 feet, with five annas per 1,000 cubic feet for every additional 5 or 6 feet or lift. The Collector writes:—

"This form of work is found to be much more popular with the labourers than task-work, the main reason being that if they fall short of what under the latter system would be the full task, they are paid exactly for what they do, and not be fined in a way they do not understand. The people have left the civil works accordingly, and this is what we wished them to do, as the canal will be a very useful work. Another advantage they find is that, when necessary, the men can go off to cultivate their fields and leave the rest of the family to do what they can, the women doing the digging when the soil is soft. On task-work this sort of thing would disorganise the whole gang, and the task could hardly be graduated suitably so as to give the gang a fair chance of earning the full wage. The Executive Engineer, Mr. Sealy, reports that he has observed no cases in which the people are unable to earn enough for their support by piece-work. The average proportion of carriers to diggers on the canal is reported to be 2½ to 1, the lead and lift being moderate. If this be so, each digger excavates on the average 173 cubic feet per diem, but there are many professional labourers on the work who accomplish considerably more than this under the stimulous of payment according to results. We should have to give work to the latter class under any system, as there is no competing private employment for them. Mr. Still, the experienced Charge Superintendent of Hardih, informs me that he has watched the work closely, and finds that non-professional labourers also work hard all day and late in the evening. He states that no women and comparatively few children are seen on these works. The piece-work system appears to be working satisfactorily, and I feel sure that it will prove a great saving of expense to Government, without diminishing the relief given to those really in distress. It is very much simpler to work than the task-work system, and easy of check. There is nothing to fear from false muster-rolls, wrong classifications, or cheating of the workers, through the system of fines. The labourers know pretty well what they ought to get, and it is not necessary to pay them the exact amount until after the measurements have been checked by superior officers."

8. Private relief works.—Private works continued to give employment to a considerable number of people in need of relief. In Shahabad, the Sadar tank employed 3,075 adult male units with 260 dependants on the 29th May. Besides this, there were several tanks and irrigation channels which, it is stated, in all employed more than 3,000 persons. The Gaya-Mogulsari Railway line in this district has not drawn large numbers, notwithstanding that the railway authorities have raised their rate to Rs. 2.8 per 1,000 cubic feet, and that all relief works in the neighbourhood have been closed for some time. The Week ending 1st May	10,231	total weekly numbers employed on the railway are noted on the margin. In Saran, the Hatwa Raj had eight works open, employing a daily average of 3,439 adult male units, and the Collector estimates that an additional number of nearly 3,000 persons were employed on works carried on with loans given by Government. In Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga, the Darbhanga Raj continued to maintain works which employed a daily average of 2,243 labourers in the former district, and 12,036 in the latter district, on 29th May. The decrease as compared with the number at the end of April* is believed to have been due to large advances given out by the Maharaja.

9. Poor-houses and kitchens.—The following table shows the number of Government poor-houses and kitchens that were open in May:—

District.	POOR-HOUSES.		KITCHENS.		Total average daily number relieved in poor-houses and kitchens.
	Number of poor-houses.	Average daily number of inmates.	Number of kitchens.	Average daily Number fed.

Darbhanga ...	9	895	3	53	948
	27	2,280	73	10,486	12,766

At the end of April there were 25 poor-houses and 42 kitchens maintained by Government. Out of the total number fed in kitchens in Muzaffarpur, 7,284 were children: The Hatwa and Darbhanga Raj poor-houses continued to do good work.

10. Gratuitous relief.—The following table shows the average daily numbers on gratuitous relief in the last week of May and the amounts of the average daily doles, in comparison with the corresponding figures at the end of April:—

In consequence of the inevitable increase of distress which must continue till the breaking of the monsoon rains, the numbers on gratuitous relief increased everywhere, the percentages being as given on the margin in comparison with the percentages on relief works. A report on the proportion of people on gratuitous relief has already been submitted to the Government of India in my letter No. 568 T.R. (Fam.) dated the 7th June 1897, and it is unnecessary to recapitulate here what was said in that communication. In his report for the second half of May, the Commissioner writes that he feels confident that no material reduction will be found possible in the proportions given above.

The following are extracts from letters addressed to the Commissioner of the Patna Division by the Collector of Muzaffarpur on the same subject:—

"It is a mistake to suppose that the gratuitous list has been swelled at the expense of the relief works. There is a certain minimum in these districts, not a small number, who can never go on to relief works. The only question in regard to these is, how long can they live without gratuitous relief, and they are not parda-nashins who can be relieved from the Charitable Fund.

"That relief works did not increase in proportion, was due to their being able to find work outside famine relief works, and that, by insisting on the execution of the fixed task, they were not encouraged to turn from private employment to famine works.

"The proportion of persons receiving gratuitous relief to relief work labourers is not a sufficient test of efficiency of famine administration. Percentages in famine work, as in criminal statistics, can only serve to draw attention to points calling for explanation; they cannot in themselves be made the basis of praise or censure. This has been thoroughly well accepted in criminal administration, and has got to be accepted in famine administration also.

"The fact is, in the crowded population of a Bihar district, there is an irreducible minimum which must come on Government hands in a severe famine or must die. We have kept these off our hands as long as we dared do so. These are not people who ever have been or could be labourers. They are those suffering from infirmities, and the very old and very young who have no one who is bound by custom or law to support them. Possibly the denseness of the population in these districts (902 to the square-mile) may cause their proportion to the total population to be unduly large, though I am unable to say that this is so. Then the population of the affected area is probably about 2½ millions. Hence a certain number must come on our hands even if there were no relief.

"The relief works numbers have been kept down partly, owing to the effective organisation and the care which has been taken to train the famine officers as far as was possible in their duties before sending them out, but principally owing to the untiring energy and devotion of the Charge Superintendent and the Public Works Department Officers who have constantly inspected the works and seen that the task imposed by Government was as far as possible exacted. The result has been that the people who have not hitherto had any need of Government assistance, finding that the works are not a happy picnic party, have kept away. All the while the people have been carefully watched by the Circle Officers and Charge Superintendents, and their condition proves that, so far, they have been perfectly well able to do without Government assistance."

11. Physical condition of the people, &c.—The physical condition of the people and public health were generally good. There were cases of cholera and small-pox; but these are usual at this season. The death-rate in the affected tracts of Shahabad for April was 3·20 against 2·37 for the whole district. The high rate is reported to have been due principally to the prevalence of small-pox and fever. There was no death from starvation. The condition of cattle was normal.

12. Loans.—The season for loans for village works under the modified rules under the Land Improvement Loans Act is well nigh over. The following table shows the loans of this class actually made:—

DISTRICT.		Up to 31st March 1897.	From 1st April.	Total.

As regards loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, at the date of the report enquiries on applications were being pushed on, and the amounts actually advanced were as follows:—

			Rs.
Shahabad	13,398
Saran	52,793
Champaran	3,378
Muzaffarpur	4,688
Total			74,257

The figure above given for Champaran does not include the amount advanced in the second-half of May, which the Collector had not been able to ascertain. In Darbhanga, no advances had actually been made up to the end of the period under report.

13. Food-stocks, importation of grain, and prices.—The following table shows the imports and exports since the second-half of November in all districts of the Patna Division, including Patna and Gaya, as far as this Government is aware:—

Shahabad and Patna are the only districts in which the imports exceeded the exports, the imports consisting chiefly of rice, and the exports of the new rabi crops. The falling off in imports in the first-half of May was due to an accumulation of grain at the Mokameh Ghat between the 6th and 13th May, owing to the inability of the Bengal and North-Western Railway to cope with the traffic. This obstacle has since been removed. The north of the Bettiah Subdivision of Champaran is now almost entirely dependent on imported supplies, which consist mainly of rice and paddy from Calcutta. It is stated that American maize has also found its way to some of the markets in the interior of the district of Champaran. The food-supply is being kept up by importation, and no deficiency is reported from any district. Prices, however, as already observed, rose in all the districts, the most marked increase being in Saran and North Champaran. In Saran, barley and rahar rose from 13 seers 9 chitaks to 11 seers 7 chitaks per rupee, and wheat from 11 seers 2 chitaks to 9 seers 15 chitaks per rupee. The following extract from the Champaran Collector's report for the second half of May describes the position as regards prices in that district:—

"At the former centre (Motihari) prices have not changed much, except that barley has risen from 13 seers 2 chitaks to 12 seers 5 chitaks per rupee, and a general tendency to rise is observable. Common rice is selling at 8 seers, and Burma rice practically at the same rate. At Bettiah, the prices of common and Burma rice, which rose sharply to 7 seers 5 chitaks and 8½ seers respectively in the second week of May, have maintained the same high level ever since, and barley, gram and rahar have all risen in price and are considerably dearer than at Motihari. At Ramnagar, where common country rice was last returned at six seers, there does not now appear to be any more in the market, and the price of Burma rice has risen from 7½ seers to 7¼ seers. At Bagaha, both common and Burma rice are returned at 7½ seers, against 8 seers a fortnight ago. In the northern markets generally, the price of rice is about the same as at Ramnagar and Bagaha. Barley is quoted as selling at 12 seers, but there is no quotation from several of the markets."

14. Cost.—The total expenditure in the Patna Division, up to the end of May, so far as is known, is reported to have been Rs. 37,80,233, of which Rs. 26,33,491 have been spent on relief works, and Rs. 10,94,510 on gratuitous relief. The Commissioner says, however, that these amounts do not include large sums outstanding and unadjusted.

15. Chota Nagpur Division.—There was general rain in the Chota Nagpur Division during the week ending 1st May. Since that date there were a few showers, except in Palamau, which had only .05 of an inch in the week ending 8th May, and no rain during the remainder of the period under report. The heaviest fall is reported from Singbhum. The weather was, on the whole, favourable for ploughing and sowing, and the Commissioner states that the most pressing matter at the date of his report, was the question of granting advances to cultivators for the purchase of seed and cattle, and a sum of Rs. 60,000 has recently been allotted to this Division by the Board of Revenue, in addition to what was granted before. The present prospects of the coming crops are reported to be quite up to the average. There was a continued rise in the prices of rice during the month, but those of other food-grains were generally steady. Mr. Forbes writes:—

"The pressure of the continued high prices is making itself distinctly more felt week by week, specially in the Manbhum, Hazaribagh and Lohardaga districts. In Palamau, although prices there are higher and stocks have been much lower than anywhere else, it is evident that the effect is not telling upon the people in so marked a manner as in the other districts. The reason, no doubt, is that the people of Palamau have more forest products to fall back upon, and besides this, the outturn of rabi has been better there than in the eastern part of the Division."

In view of the rising prices and of the lapse of time since the gathering of the mahua flower, the Commissioner has ordered the piece-work rates to be raised throughout the Division from Re. 1-4, Re. 1-9 and Re. 1-14 for soft, medium and hard soil, respectively, to Re. 1-9, Re. 1-14 and Rs. 2-3 per 1,000 cubic feet. The piece-work system has been in force too short a time to permit of the results being known. The public health was generally good. Cholera is, however, reported from parts of Palamau, Manbhum and Hazaribagh. Cattle-disease is reported from Palamau.

In the report for April, it was stated that rice was selling in three markets in Palamau at between 5 and 6 seers the rupee; and that the lowest price recorded was a little over nine seers. During the week ending 29th May, rice was sold in four markets at between 5 and 6 seers, and the lowest price recorded was below 8 seers. The average prices of other food-grains were as noted on the margin. The causes of these exceptionally high prices appear to be that stocks of food-grains were running very low, and that importation was impeded by the difficulties of transport from a great distance. The Deputy Commissioner reports that the labourers on the works were unable to procure food at the markets in the neighbourhood of the works, and that all consignments of imported rice were whipped up, as soon as exposed for sale, by pack-bullock traders from the interior of the district. Early last month it became evident that the supply of food grain for the relief operations could not be left entirely in the hands of traders, who, it was found, were much hampered by the difficulty of obtaining carts to transport the grain collected at Baroon. It was, therefore, decided, on the recommendation of the Commissioner, that 17,500 maunds of Burma rice should be imported by Government for the wages of relief workers and for gratuitous doles, and about 15,500 maunds obtained from two Calcutta Firms were despatched via Gaya. Assistance was rendered to the grain-dealers in securing carts at Baroon, with the result that, while in the three weeks ending 15th May only 2,158 maunds of rice were imported into Palamau under the bounty system, making a total of 7,516 maunds during the past three months, the quantity imported by the traders between the 16th and the 29th May alone amounted to 5,044 maunds. Further advances made to grain-dealers during the period under report amounted to Rs. 26,800, making a total of Rs. 51,300. As already observed, notwithstanding the high prices, the numbers on relief works have not increased considerably. On the 24th April there were 18 relief works open with 2,665 labourers. On the 29th May the number of works was 16 and the number of relief-workers 3,045. But, in addition, about 3,570 persons were employed on 10 works carried on by local zamindars, and more found employment on 13 works opened by the Maharaj Kumar of Chota Nagpur in pargana Tori, for which returns have not been received. The daily average number on gratuitous relief at the end of the month was 1,971 against 1,672 in April. Besides this, it is stated that the Local Relief Committee (whose report, however, deals with the first half of May) were giving relief to 888 persons in return for work done, viz. for cotton-spinning, cloth-weaving, paddy-husking and sattoo-pounding, and to 225 persons who were doing no work.

There was no change in the affected area in Manbhum. The price of rice in this district ranged from about 8 to 10 seers per rupee in the second half of April; on the 29th May rice sold in one market at less than 7 seers, and the average for the district may be taken at from 7½ to 8 seers the rupee. Mahua is reported to have risen from 42 to 31 seers per rupee. The imports aggregated 47,128 maunds, and the exports 1,901 maunds. The number of works open on 29th May was 20 against 11 on the 24th April. There was no great increase in the number of relief workers, the number at the end of the period being 3,971 against 3,484 on 24th April: about 3,000 persons are reported to have been employed on private works carried on with loans made by Government. But the number on gratuitous relief increased from 4,861 on 24th April to 7,383 on 15th May, and to 11,969 on the 29th May. Orders have been issued for a careful scrutiny of gratuitous relief lists. Three kitchens have been opened on the Grand Trunk Road for the distribution of cooked food to travellers.

In the district of Hazaribagh the mahua harvest is over, and the outturn, estimated at 10 annas, should suffice for the food of the cultivating classes until the next bhadoi crop. The imports of food-grains aggregated 46,371 maunds, and there were practically no exports. Prices remained fairly steady, except in the case of rice, which sold at from 6½ to 8 seers per rupee. The number of public works carried on as test-works was 49 against 35 in April. The largeness of the number of works opened is explained in the following extract from the Deputy Commissioner's report for the first half of May:—

"They (the Charge Superintendents and the Subdivisional Officer of Giridi) all make the same report. They find the relief operations, the road work or kitchen, fairly well attended, but only by persons living in the immediate neighbourhood. When they visit places five or six miles distant, they find persons who require relief, but who refuse to go the distance named to get relief. It must be given them in their village or not at all. Frequent reports of such a nature agreeing with my own experiences would point to the absence of real distress were it not the fact that many of the people (and specially the children) are discovered to be in an emaciated condition, showing they were not getting a proper quantity of nourishing food. To deal with such obstinate cases we have no option but to give in to them. Hence there has been a large increase in the number of petty works, sections being opened at several places on each road instead of starting at one end and carrying the work and the camp of relief workers right through."

The average daily number of test-workers was 1,828 against 1,678 in the week ending 24th April. The mahua harvest is believed to have prevented a greater increase. A considerable number of persons were employed on private works undertaken with loans given by Government. The number of kitchens increased from 19 to 26, and the average daily number receiving cooked food or dry doles in them was 3,494 against 1,006 at the end of April. The Deputy Commissioner writes: "We have gathered together all the waifs and strays, the beggars and cripples, who have always lived upon public or private charity. These we feed at the kitchens." The number employed by the Local Relief Committee on cotton-spinning and weaving increased from 689 in April to 993 in the last week of the period under report.

With regard to Lohardaga it is stated that the Deputy Commissioner still finds little or no indication of actual distress, although there can be no doubt that the pressure of high prices is being increasingly felt by the poorer classes. It is reported that there was a decidedly greater demand for work than existed a month before, that applications for loans were largely made by agriculturists, that a sum of Rs. 4,000 allotted from the Charitable Fund was being quickly expended, and that a much larger sum could be made use of with great benefit in this manner. Work was provided on a road undertaken from the District Fund, and the Maharaja of Chota Nagpur employed a considerable number of labourers on a tank. There were two kitchens, opened by Relief Committees from funds subscribed locally, one at Ranchi and the other at Lohardaga, and the number being fed in them was 664.

Exports from Singhbhum are ceasing, only 1,500 maunds having been exported during the latter half of May, and the price of rice was below 8 seers in two markets, and nowhere above 10 seers per rupee. The Deputy Commissioner apprehends distress in two small areas in Porahat and the Kolhan, but full particulars have not yet been furnished to Government.

16. Presidency Division—Rain fell in the districts of the Presidency Division during the period under report, as shown in the appended table; and in consequence, agricultural prospects are everywhere good. But more rain was wanted in the Chuadanga subdivision of Nadia, in Jessore and in the affected parts of the district of Khulna. Prices rose except in parts of Murshidabad (where they were almost stationary), and importation generally increased.

The district of the 24-Parganas continued to give no cause for anxiety.

In the other districts the poorer cultivators are reported to have been badly in want of seed-grain, and steps are being taken to supply the want by means of loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, and by gifts from the Charitable Relief Fund. Public health was on the whole good, cholera having almost disappeared except in some parts of Khulna and Murshidabad. The condition of cattle was also satisfactory.

The total affected area in the district of Nadia remained unaltered, but, as indicated in the map, distress deepened in some tracts which were before slightly affected. The general condition is thus described by the Collector :—

* The general state of the affected tract has undoubtedly deteriorated during the period under report. The only redeeming feature in the situation is that the prospects of the aus crop are good. On the other hand, the necessity of attending to cultivation, a form of labour which does not supply any immediate relief, has brought a large number of the poorer cultivators into the direst straits. There can be no doubt that it was only by undergoing a great amount of privation that a large number of men who would otherwise have been attending the relief works have been able to cultivate their fields. * * Both aus and aman are doing well over the greater part of the district, with the exception of portions of the Chuadanga subdivision where more rain is badly required. I estimate that the area under aus this year is far above the normal, but as a set off to this must be taken into consideration the fact that as a general rule the fields, owing to lack of seed, have been very thinly sown."

There were 26 relief works open against 14 in April, and the total number employed on the 29th May was 20,101 against 18,051 on the 24th April. So far the piece-work system had been introduced only on one work in this district, the rate paid being Re. 1-15 per 1,000 cubic feet, and is reported to be working fairly well. The Collector, Mr. Garrett, reports that the relief works are being

	Depend- ants.	Otherwise relieved.	Total.	carried out in an orderly and systematic manner, and that tasks are being rigidly exacted. There was a sudden and very large increase in the numbers on gra- tuitous relief,* the average daily number in the last week of May being 53,444 against 32,763 in the week ending 24th April. The increase attracted the Lieutenant-Governor's attention as soon as it was shown in the weekly telegraphic report, and steps were at once taken to strengthen the establishment under the Collector, with a view to the gratuitous relief lists being carefully scrutinised. Orders have also been issued for kitchens to be established, if possible, so as to feed the non-working children of relief workers on the spot, instead of giving them money to take to their parents. The Collector thinks that the disparity between the numbers on relief works and those on gratuitous relief was due to the fact that a large number of labourers had been employed on field operations, leaving their families and dependants to be gratuitously relieved by Government. The Commissioner has been directed to go to the affected areas and enquire into the matter. A few weavers are being employed on weaving cloth, and women are employed on jute-twisting and cotton spinning.

The most important feature in this district is the failure of stocks of rice mentioned in this Government's report for April. Sanction has been accorded to the grant of loans up to Rs. 70,000 to stimulate the importation of grain. The Collector of Murshidabad reports that, in consequence of the improved prospects of the crops, grain-dealers in the Rarh country (the upland of Murshidabad from which supplies were drawn for Nadia, but were recently stopped) have again commenced selling off their stocks, and it is to be hoped that some of this grain will find its way to the adjoining district of Nadia.

There was no change in the area of acute distress in the district of Khulna, but test-works had been opened in an additional area of about 25 square miles with a population of 11,000 in Satkhira thana. It is reported that in consequence of the rise in the price of rice the condition of the people in the distressed area changed considerably for the worse. Burma rice is now being imported and sold at 8 seers per rupee. The number of relief works (31) was the same as in April, but in May all these works were conducted on the piece-work system, at a rate of Rs. 2-4 per 1,000 cubic feet. In the latter half of April, when task-work was still in force, the average daily number of dependants in the last week of the month was 668 against 2,945, the average daily number of task-workers.

The average daily number of dependants in the week ending 26th May was 42 against 4,109, the average daily number of piece-workers in that week. The total number of relief-workers on the 26th May was 4,809 against 3,764 on the 24th April. Although the number of dependants of relief-workers is now small, the total number on gratuitous relief has increased, being 6,163 at the end of May against 5,860, the daily average in the week ending 24th April. But this number appears to include respectable men and parda-nashin women relieved from the Charitable Fund, which should have been shown separately from the numbers relieved by Government. Many of those shown on gratuitous relief are employed on jute-twisting, paddy-husking, &c. Two poor-houses have been opened in this district.

The area affected in Murshidabad remained the same as before, but its general condition had improved. Boro paddy, grown on an estimated area of 3,000 acres in the Kandi and Jangipur subdivisions, has been harvested and is reported to have yielded a bumper crop. The Collector writes:—

"The prospects of the bhadoi crop are everywhere favourable. The result has been, that the mahajans who have hitherto been holding back in the hope of a further rise in prices are now disposing of their stock as rapidly as possible. Over the greater part of the district there has been a fall in the prices of rice of at least half a seer in the rupee, although in portions of the Daulatabad, Goas, Jallangi and Nowada thanas, which are far removed from the Barh, the price of common rice is still as high as from 7½ to 8 seers per rupee. Agricultural operations are in progress all over the district, and the number on relief and test-works have fallen off in consequence. Weeding of paddy, indigo and mulberry is giving employment to a large number of persons in the fields, while owing to the improved prospects of the cocoon crop, the cocoon-rearers, who form a large proportion of the population of the Sadar, are finding employment in their houses. Although there has been no diminution of the distress since my last report was written, but rather the reverse, future prospects are far more favourable, and it may be expected that after the end of July, when the aus rice will be in the market, there will be a rapid fall in prices, and the measures taken for the relief of the distress may be gradually relaxed."

"Sowing of amun has commenced in the Kandi subdivision, and in the Kalantar is nearly finished, while the sowing of the aus has been practically completed all over the district. In a few cases in the Nowada, Barua and Saktipur thanas I have heard of land likely to remain unsown for want of seed, not because there was any lack of seed in the district, but because the raiyats had not the means to purchase it."

Six relief works and five test-works were open against four relief works and two test-works in April. The piece-work system was introduced on the 26th May, the sanctioned rate being Re. 1-9 per 1,000 cubic feet. The total number of workers employed on the 29th May was 3,808 against 3,517 in the beginning of May. The Collector reports that the tanks undertaken by private individuals with loans given by Government will have been completed about the middle of June, and that this fact and the cessation of agricultural operations will probably result in a large increase in the number of relief workers. The number shown on gratuitous relief is 4,732, but the expenditure was met entirely from charitable funds locally raised. In this district private charity plays a most prominent part. Maharani Sarnamayi alone gives daily doles of rice to about 5,000 persons. Other private persons also are distributing doles on a smaller scale in Berhampore and elsewhere. Agricultural advances are being given at rates varying from twelve annas to one rupee per bigha.

The district of Jessore has hitherto been only slightly affected, and the relief found necessary has been confined to gratuitous relief from charitable funds, and to the grant of loans or gifts for the purchase of seed or cattle. In the report of the local officers for the first half of the month, it was stated that about 40 per cent. of the cultivable area of the district was then still unsown for want of seed grains. A sum of Rs. 27,057 has since been advanced under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, and Rs. 9,312 from the Charitable Relief Fund have been distributed in small gifts to the poorest class of cultivators. It is now stated that little land is left unsown, but that more rain is wanted to save the newly-sown crops which are reported to be withering. Reports of distress have been received from the Magura subdivision, and the Collector has ordered test-works to be opened there.

17. Bhagulpur Division.—The prices of food-grains continued to rise slowly; there was an increase in the imports by rail, but agricultural prospects were everywhere good. In Monghyr, Purnea, and Malda no relief operations except from Charitable Relief Funds were in progress; in ordinary years the Collectors of these districts find difficulty in placing loans under the Land

Improvement and Agriculturists' Loans Acts, but this year they are reported to be anxious for allotments, and it has not been found possible to give the Collectors of Monghyr and Purnea more than one-third of the amounts for which they had applied. Public health was generally good, except that sporadic cases of cholera occurred in the affected tracts in the Sonthal Parganas, and the condition of cattle was normal.

Acute distress in Bhagalpur was, as before, confined to the north of the district, but owing to early and copious rainfall agricultural prospects are excellent, and have considerably reduced present pressure and the chances of continuance of distress for any length of time. Mung (Phaseolus Mungo) has been cultivated to a much greater extent than in ordinary years, and is expected to yield a bumper crop. The harvesting of this lentil, which has commenced, gives employment to large numbers of women and children, and the men are busy ploughing, digging, weeding, and transplanting for other crops. The general result has been a great decrease in the numbers in receipt of relief from Government, and the Collector hopes to be able to close all relief works in the district when the monsoon bursts. At the end of April eleven relief works were open in North Bhagalpur, and the number of workers was 18,965. In the first half of May the number of works was raised to 13, but was afterwards reduced to 10. The total number of relief workers on the 29th May was 7,313. This remarkable decrease is reported to have been due in some measure to the substitution of the piece-work for the task-work system, which took place on the 24th May; but this change was made at a time when plentiful rain and harvesting work were drawing off labourers to the fields, and as the period under report closed shortly after, the local officers have not found it possible to state definitely the results of this important administrative change. In the sadar and Banka subdivisions distress was not acute. Three test-works were open, one in the Sadar and two in the Banka subdivision, but were not largely attended. Many private relief works continued open throughout the district. Gratuitous relief from public funds was confined to North Bhagalpur. The total number in receipt of this form of relief on the 29th May was 2,740 against 3,413 at the end of April. In addition to this, large numbers were in receipt of charitable relief from private individuals, and about 19,000 persons are stated to have been relieved in North and South Bhagalpur from the funds of the Indian Famine Charitable Relief Fund. It is reported from the Banka subdivision that the demand for loans was very great, and that the petty cultivators were without the means to purchase seed.

Acute distress was felt in the Deoghur subdivision of the Sonthal Parganas; test-works were opened in the latter end of February, but were not then attended.

Sonthal Parganas.

The winter rice and Indian-corn crops had been bought and exported up-country, but the people were subsisting on the mahua crop, which yielded about 10 annas. In May, the exhaustion of this source of food-supply, combined with the high prices, drove the poorer people to seek relief, and sanction has recently been accorded to the opening of relief works. The whole of the subdivision, comprising 954 square miles with a population of 284,115, is reported to be affected, and the local officers estimate that relief will have to be given to about 8,710 persons, but that the intensity of distress is not likely to continue long.

The addition of the Deoghur subdivision has brought the total area now affected in the Sonthal Parganas to 1,321 square miles with a total population of 377,115 persons. Sugarcane, the only standing crop in the affected area, has been benefited by the general rain, which has enabled cultivation for other crops to be commenced. As in April, five relief works were open in the Jamtara subdivision, on one of which the piece-works system has been introduced; and in the Deoghur subdivision there were 11 relief works, all conducted on the piece-work system. But the local officers, as in the district of Bhagalpur, have not yet found it possible to report specially on the results of this system, as desired by Government, nor have they furnished figures for the same period for both subdivisions. The arrangements in the Deoghur subdivision were not complete at the date of report. The total number on the relief works in the Jamtara subdivision is stated, for the 21st May, to have been 3,232; while in the Deoghur subdivision the number of relief workers for the whole fortnight is shown at 3,622, which gives a daily average of 258. Private relief works continued to afford employment to a considerable number in the Jamtara subdivision. The number on gratuitous relief in this subdivision on the 21st May was 689, against 1,046 on the 24th April. A kitchen was opened at Jamtara for the aged and children. From the Jamtara and Deoghar subdivisions, as well as from the rest of the district, where there is as yet no such distress as to require relief measures on an extensive scale, it is reported that many raiyats have consumed their seed-grain and sold their cattle. Rupees two thousand have been granted from public funds for agricultural loans in the Jamtara subdivision, and two thousand more from the Charitable Relief Fund.

18. Rajshahi Division.—There was copious rain in both the affected districts of this Division, Rajshahi and Pabna. In Rajshahi the outturn of the boro or spring paddy, which occupied a total area of 116,600 acres or about 182 square miles, is estimated at 16 annas; and the present prospects of the aus or autumn paddy, which has this year been sown in a larger area than usual, are reported to be excellent. The numbers employed on the two test-works in this district fell off considerably, the average daily number employed in the last week of May being 438 against 781 at the end of April, and the Collector has issued orders for one of the works to be closed. The people find more remunerative employment in the fields and on private works, and the Commissioner thinks that although the prevalence of famine prices must continue to cause some distress requiring charitable relief, the district of Rajshahi may now be classed as distinctly outside the famine line. In Pabna agricultural prospects are reported to be good, but there has been a marked rise in the price of common rice which in some places sold at six seers the rupee although imports are increasing. Another important feature of the period under report is that from the middle of the month women began to come to the test works, although many native gentlemen had assured the Collector that no pinch would induce females of this district to come to a Government relief work. The public health and the condition of cattle were generally good.

19. Orissa Division.—The affected area in the district of Puri is now shown at 365 square miles with a population of 102,000, but a further report on this matter has been called for from the local officers. There was very little rain throughout the period under report, but on the 30th May a heavy shower fell in Malud, Parikud and Satpara, and replenished the supply of water which had commenced to fail; the cultivation and sowing of rice is reported to be going on briskly. Food-stocks have been kept up by importation which, as previously reported, is aided by advances to the grain-dealers given from public funds. There were fifteen relief works and five test-works open as in April, and the number employed on them on the 29th May was 4,604 (exclusive of figures for the Khurda subdivision, which have not been received) against 2,874 on the 24th April. Besides this, the ordinary District Board road under construction in the affected area employed a daily average number of 460 persons, and a considerable number of labourers continued to find employment on the work carried on by the Raja of Parikud. Gratuitous relief in this district is given from certain funds raised by public subscriptions before the present scarcity. There was an outbreak of cholera in an epidemic form and of small-pox in certain parts of the affected area. The condition of cattle was generally good. Loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act are in great request in this district as elsewhere.

As regards the other districts of Orissa, the condition of Balasore and Angul continued satisfactory, while in Cuttack there were only isolated cases of distress requiring gratuitous relief, and it is reported that the total number in receipt of this form of relief in the district at the end of May was 2,306. The rainfall in Cuttack was, however, much below the normal, and much beali or autumn rice sown in anticipation of rain was, at the date of the report, beginning to wither.

20. Burdwan Division.—In the district of Bankura, the prevailing high prices, combined with the partial failure of the last season's crops, caused distress in thana Gangajalghati and the northern part of thana Sonamukhi.

The total affected area is reported to be 400 square miles with a population of 178,000. The last rice crop in this area was an almost total failure, the outturn being estimated at 4 annas in Gangajalghati and at not more than one or two annas in the affected portion of Sonamukhi; the crop of 1895 was also poor. Towards the middle of May the price of common rice rose to 8 seers in Gangajalghati and 9 seers in Sonamukhi. The latest report shows the average price of rice at 9 seers. The Collector reports that he has himself seen persons in the Gangajalghati area who showed signs of suffering from insufficient food. The classes in need of relief are reported to be—

- (a) the respectable poor, mostly widows, who usually live on the charity of their friends;
- (b) orphans;
- (c) sick and disabled poor persons who usually live by begging;
- (d) small cultivators.

The number of lepers in this district is large. The resources of private charity have failed, and these lepers, with such members of their families as are unable to work, have to be relieved gratuitously; the local officers are of opinion that while the labourers will probably obtain ordinary employment when the monsoon sets in, gratuitous relief will rather increase than diminish until September. Test works were started on the 19th May; nine were open at the close of the period under report, and the number of labourers employed on them on the 31st May was 8,689. Arrangements have also been made for the distribution of gratuitous relief, and the total number in receipt of this form of relief on the 31st May was 3,521. In addition to this 582 persons were relieved from the Charitable Relief Fund.

Heavy showers of rain fell over the greater part of the affected area, benefiting the sugarcane, which is a crop of some importance in this district, and enabling the sowing of rice to commence. There is a great demand for loans for seed and cattle: funds for the purpose have been placed by Government at the Collector's disposal, and gifts are being given from the Charitable Relief Fund to distressed cultivators who are unable to furnish adequate security for loans. Public health was fair, and the condition of cattle normal.

21. Dacca and Chittagong Divisions.—There is nothing of importance to report with regard to the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions. The stress of high prices is felt by the very poor and by some of the more respectable classes in these divisions as elsewhere, but no necessity for opening Government relief works has been reported. Such aid as is required is being given from the charitable relief funds and by private individuals.

The imports from Ohandbali rose from 21,212 cwts. to 36,054 cwts., and those from Balasore showed a small increase of 1,498 cwts. in comparison with the corresponding period of last year. The fluctuations in the total imports of paddy and gram and pulses are slight, but a large quantity of miscellaneous food-grains (14,000 cwts.) was received from the United Kingdom against nil in the corresponding week of 1896.

Exports.—In the following statement the total quantity of each kind of food-grain exported by sea during the week ending 21st June 1897 is compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1896 :—

The quantity shipped for Trinidad amounted to 27,970 cwts. against nil in the same period of last year. Nothing was sent to Mauritius, to States in Arabia other than Muscat, to Natal, to Abyssinia, or to Cape Colony, whereas the exports to these places in the third week of June 1896 aggregated 88,262 cwts. The United Kingdom, Aden, Ceylon, Muscat and Persia received altogether 17,319 cwts. against 72,971 cwts. in the same period of last year. Under gram and pulses, Mauritius imported nil against 12,851 cwts. in the corresponding week of last year, while the consignments to the United Kingdom fell off from 2,706 cwts. to merely 660 cwts. Mauritius also received no miscellaneous food-grains during the period under report against 5,917 cwts. imported in the corresponding week of 1896.

As regards Indian ports, the chief fluctuations appear in the exports to Bombay, which is credited with only 2,087 cwts. of rice against 5,376 cwts. in the third week of June 1896, while in the case of gram and pulses, Bombay received merely 213 cwts. during the period under review as against 1,545 cwts. in the corresponding week of last year.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below :—

The rise of 6,644 cwts. in the import trade of Chittagong and of 4,062 cwts. in that of Narayanganj was mainly due to larger receipts of rice and paddy from Burma and Chittagong respectively. Balasore also showed an improvement of 372 cwts.

The increase of 2,767 cwts. in the export trade of Chittagong is due to the despatch of 2,759 cwts. of rice to Narayanganj against nil in the corresponding week of 1896; on account of smaller consignments of rice, paddy and grain and pulses to Calcutta, Balasore exhibits a falling off of 23,162 cwts. In consequence of larger shipments of rice to Foreign Ports, the trade of Outtaok, however, improved by 13,233 cwts.

Returns not received.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park Street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore .003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0.5° higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0.6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beekley's anemograph. The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT ON LUNATIC ASYLUMS IN BENGAL FOR THE YEAR 1896.

MUNICIPAL DEPARTMENT.—MEDICAL.

Calcutta, the 12th July 1897.

RESOLUTION—No. 3601Medl.

READ—

The Report on the Lunatic Asylums in Bengal for the year 1896.

READ also—

The Report for the year 1895 and the Resolution recorded thereon by Government.

The Report should have reached Government on the 1st May, but it was not received until the 14th June. Surgeon-Colonel Newman only took over charge of the duties of Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals on 30th March, and therefore had no personal experience of the work reported on.

2. The chief facts relating to the patients in the five native asylums during the past two years are summarized in the following statement:—

	1895.	1896.
Remaining on 1st January	923	921
Admitted and re-admitted	181	181
Total	1,107	1,102
Discharged cured	81	61
" improved	22	27
" not improved	2
" otherwise	8	4
Died	75	90
Total	186	184
Remaining on 31st December	921	918
Daily average strength	919	914

3. There was a slight increase in the number of admissions at Patna, Cuttack and Berhampore, and a falling off of 12 and 11 respectively at Dullunda and Dacca, the total number of admissions being 156 against 162 in the previous year. At Dullunda it is stated that several female patients could not be admitted for want of sufficient accommodation. Re-admissions numbered 25, a rise of 3, Dullunda heading the list with 12: twelve were of persons who returned to the asylums after trial, nine were cases of relapse, and four were sent back after having been made over to their friends. Of the 181 lunatics admitted and re-admitted during the year, 104 were criminal and 77 non-criminal, the figures in the preceding year being 102 and 82, respectively. The number of criminal lunatics remaining on 31st December was 477, against 470 in 1895, giving a proportion to non-criminals of 51·96 against 51·03. Of these, 191 had been tried and acquitted on the ground of insanity, 260 were detained because incapable of making a defence, and 26 were persons who had been imprisoned for an offence, had become insane while in jail, and had been transferred to an asylum. The numbers for these three classes in 1895 were 185, 255 and 30.

4. The number of discharges fell from 111 to 94. Patna shows a rise of 6, owing to a larger number of patients having been made over to their friends, but at Dacca and Dullunda there was a decrease of 16 and 10 respectively. At Dacca, it is stated, there were fewer recoveries, while at Dullunda the decrease seems to have been chiefly due to the fact that all the females remaining from the year before were unfit for release, and that many residents of other provinces were admitted whose relatives could not be found. During the year there were only 61 recoveries in the 5 asylums, against 81 in the preceding year.

5. Dr. Newman reports that the accommodation available was everywhere more than sufficient, and the figures show that 757 was the largest number confined on any one night, while the asylums are calculated to be able to contain 1,137, allowing 50 superficial square feet for each patient. The Superintendent of the Dullunda Asylum indeed complained of inadequate accommodation for females, but since the close of the year measures have been taken to relieve the overcrowding in this asylum by transferring patients who come from other provinces to asylums situated within those provinces.

6. Statements VI and VII have been revised and simplified in accordance with the orders of the Government of India received last year. In the former are shown the types, and in the latter the alleged causes, of insanity. Of a total of 181 admissions, 104 are classified under mania, 28 under melancholia, and the remainder under various other types; 60 are ascribed to physical causes, 27 to moral, and 94 to "causes unknown." Of the 60 cases attributed to physical causes, 20 cases are entered as due to ganja, 6 to spirit drinking, 1 to excessive study, 14 to heredity, and 19 to other causes. Not a single case was ascertained to have been brought on by the use of charas, bhang or opium. Although the number of cases ascribed to indulgence in ganja has fallen from 40 in 1894 to 20 in the past year, there is still a tendency to exaggerate the frequency of this cause, and much care has been taken in every asylum to test the descriptive roll and avoid a mistaken diagnosis on this point.

7. The number of admissions to hospital during the year decreased from 954 to 898, but the average daily number of sick rose from 58·81 to 84·64. At Dullunda there were 122 fewer admissions to hospital, which was due chiefly to the prophylactic measures introduced, the periodical weighing of the patients, and the formation of an "infirm gang," the members of which received medicines and extra diet without being admitted to hospital. There were three cases of cholera at Dullunda and two at Berhampore during the year, the disease being prevalent in the neighbourhood in both instances. At the former asylum 161 lunatics were inoculated by M. Haffkine early in May, as cholera at that time threatened to become epidemic. The mortality during the year was higher than in any of the past ten years, the number of deaths rising from 73 to 90, and the death-rate from 8·15 to 9·84. This death-rate is lower than that shown by Madras, the Panjab and Rangoon for 1895, but higher than that of Bombay and the North-Western Provinces for the same year. Thirty of the deaths occurred at Dacca and 25 at the Dullunda Asylum.

The question of the employment of the insane on penal labour, which was commented on in last year's Resolution, has received careful attention, and in consequence the manufacture of mustard oil at Dacca, and at Patna all manufactures that required hard labour from the lunatics, have been discontinued. To determine exactly what is and what is not suitable employment for a lunatic is a difficult question, and has been postponed for the present pending the establishment of a central lunatic asylum, where more systematic treatment can be resorted to than is possible under existing conditions. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that greater efforts are being made to render the lives of the lunatics as happy as possible. Various amusements were provided at all the asylums; musical instruments as well as pet animals were allowed to many patients, and in Calcutta some of the lunatics were taken to see the Zoological Gardens.

The system of placing dry earth on the floors, doubts about the advisability of which for Dullunda were entertained, is reported to have answered admirably in the wards where filthy patients were kept. The visitors, however, reported against its general use in the asylum.

8. There were 16 injuries and accidents against 22 in 1895. There was one sudden death at Dullunda, the cause of which could not be ascertained, but which is reported to have been due to either an injury or an accident. At Berhampore one lunatic got concussion of the brain by a fall from a tree he had climbed to steal lichis, and another had his leg broken from the stone of an oil-mill falling on it. There were five escapes from Dullunda and one from Patna during the year. In every instance the lunatics were recaptured. At Patna the female warder in charge was dismissed, and for four of the escapes at Dullunda the warders who were responsible were punished.

9. The income and expenditure of the asylums for the last two years are shown in the following statement:—

The excess of Rs. 2,577 over the gross expenditure of the previous year occurred chiefly under diet, the cost of which rose by Rs. 6,293, owing to the high prices of food-grains which prevailed throughout the year. At Dacca the cost of 652 maunds of rice, purchased when prices were comparatively low, in view of increased scarcity during the current year, has been entered in the asylum accounts for the year. The increase of Rs. 1,258 under contingencies is mainly due to the supply of uniforms for warders and the larger sums spent on the amusement of the lunatics.

10. The gross cost of each lunatic at the different asylums for the past two years and the cost per head of average strength are given in the following table:—

			1895.			1896.

11. The profits from the Dullunda dairy farm fell from Rs. 1,092-4-9 in 1895 to Rs. 646-13-9 owing to a change in the system of administration. At Dacca the farm was able to make a small profit besides supplying the patients. The dairy at Berhampore was opened in the latter part of the year: a cowshed was built, twelve cows were purchased, and the farm is now working satisfactorily.

12. There were 17 admissions and 2 re-admissions to the European Asylum at Bhowanipur during the year, while 32 patients remained from the previous year, making a total of 51 against 54 in 1896. Two of the persons admitted were criminal lunatics. There were 6 recoveries, against 10 in the former year; one person was despatched to Europe under the Merchant Shipping Act, and one as a civil pauper lunatic; two persons were transferred to the care of friends, and five died; so that the inmates of the asylum at the end of the year numbered 36. Accommodation is provided for 23 males and 19 females; and as the number confined on any one night did not exceed 21 males and 15 females, there was no overcrowding at any time of the year. The daily average strength was 18.11 against 26.57 in the preceding year; the general health of the inmates was good, there having been only 9 admissions to hospital. The total expenditure decreased from Rs. 22,838 to Rs. 21,269, but owing again to the smaller number of patients and to the smaller sum received from paying patients, the average cost of each lunatic to Government rose from Rs. 313 to Rs. 359. Government contributed Rs. 11,835, against Rs. 11,901 in the preceding year. Receipts from paying-patients fell from Rs. 10,926 to Rs. 9,424, in consequence of a decrease in the number of patients of the first and second class.

13. The Dullunda and Patna Asylums were inspected by Surgeon-Colonel Ross during the year, but the present Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals has had no opportunity of visiting any of the institutions since he took over charge of his office. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to thank Surgeon-Colonel Newman for his interesting report, and the various Superintendents, especially Surgeon-Captain Moir, who had charge of Dullunda and Bhowanipur, for their efficient administration of the asylums during the past year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

C. E. A. W. OLDHAM,

Offg. Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

Imports.—Of the total import of 260,151 cwts. of rice from Indian ports, Burma contributed 257,239 cwts. during the last nine days of June 1897. In the week ending 21st June 1897, 104,392 cwts. were received from that country. Balasore sent 2,201 cwts. against 1,000 cwts. in the corresponding nine days of June 1896, while nothing was received from Chandbally against 43,812 cwts. in the last nine days of June 1896. The whole of the imports of 25,350 cwts. from foreign ports came from the Straits Settlements, which sent nothing in the last nine days of June 1896. The imports of paddy from Burma were 2,552 cwts. and from Coconada 5,806 cwts. against nil in the period ending 30th June 1896. The rise under gram and pulse from 3,599 cwts. in the last nine days of June 1896 to 7,161 cwts. in the corresponding period of 1897 was due to the supply from Madras ports of 5,201 cwts. against nil in the corresponding period of 1896, and from Rangoon of 1,960 cwts. against 71 cwts. in the same period of 1896.

Exports.—In the following statement the total quantity of each kind of food-grain exported by sea during the last nine days of June 1897 is compared with the figures for the corresponding period of 1896:—

There was a large falling off in the exports of rice to foreign ports, viz., from 159,415 cwts. in the last nine days of June 1896 to 44,675 cwts. in the same period of 1897. The decline was chiefly due to absence in 1897 of shipments to Reunion, Demerara, and Aden, to which ports 21,243 cwts., 24,066 cwts., and 14,083 cwts., respectively were exported in the nine days ending 30th June 1896. The despatches to Ceylon diminished by 43,573 cwts., to Natal by 7,123 cwts., to Mauritius by 2,933 cwts., and to the United Kingdom by 1,434 cwts. The exports of wheat to the United Kingdom during the nine days ending 30th June 1896 aggregated to 5,997 cwts., while nothing was sent in the period under review, and this is the chief cause of the fall in the total shipments to foreign ports from 5,997 cwts. to only 98 cwts. The shipments of gram and pulse during the nine days ending 30th June 1897 were only 10,769 cwts. against 43,673 cwts. in the corresponding period of 1896. The exports to the United Kingdom declined by 29,126 cwts. and those to Mauritius by 4,235 cwts.

The exports of rice to Indian ports fell from 4,910 cwts. to 1,726 cwts. in the period under review, the decline being chiefly due to Bombay having received 1,258 cwts. against 3,992 cwts. in the last nine days of June 1896. The decline of 5,259 cwts. in the supplies of gram and pulse was due to the exports to Bombay having fallen off by 1,958 cwts. and those to the Madras ports by 2,831 cwts. The variations under other heads are unimportant and call for no remarks.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

The rise of 4,182 cwts. in the import trade of Chittagong was mainly due to the receipt of 5,772 cwts. of rice from Burma against nil in the corresponding week of 1896. The imports into Narayanganj were nil against 1,763 cwts. in the week ending 14th June 1896.

On account of smaller shipments of rice and gram and pulses, the trade of Chittagong and Narayanganj declined by 1,397 cwts. and 125 cwts. respectively. Owing to the cessation of exports to both Foreign and Indian Ports, Outtaek and Puri too showed a falling off of 7,424 cwts. and 4,175 cwts. respectively; in consequence of smaller consignments of rice, paddy and gram and pulses to Calcutta, the trade of Balasore also fell off by 8,739 cwts.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Alipore Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beekley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; p, passing temporary showers; d, drizzling rain; t, thunder; <, lightning; U, lunar corona.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JUNE 1897.

The more noticeable features of the weather during June were—

(1) There was only a short period of disturbed weather over the Bay. It was due to a shallow depression which began over the north of the Bay about the middle of the month, and crossing the north coast of Orissa in the usual north-westerly direction led to typical monsoon weather for a time in all parts of the province.

(2) A more unusual feature was the reappearance of ordinary hot weather conditions towards the end of the month, and the alternating character between hot weather and south-west monsoon conditions throughout the month.

There was a greater number of cloudy showery days than usual with at times general rain, but with the exception of the small storm in the north of the Bay in the middle of the month, the causes of the unsettled weather were more similar to those that occur in the hot weather than during the monsoon season. Usually a fairly well-marked distinction may be drawn between weather in the early part of June and in the latter half of the month, but this year the difference was not very perceptible, and it would appear that the change which occurs about the middle of June, though established in the lower part of the atmosphere, extended to no great height, and was easily overcome after the disturbing influence was removed. In other words, the monsoon current was weak and was not of sufficient strength to take the place of the opposing currents which are characteristic of the hot weather.

Several times during the first half of the month a slight disturbance passed across the province from the west causing general rain over almost the whole province. The most marked of these began about the 11th and led to general rainy weather which might be called ordinary monsoon weather if the cause of it had originated in the north of the Bay and moved in the usual north-westerly direction. But beginning as it did in the north-east of the province and spreading towards the south-west, there can be little doubt, but that the cause of it was not connected with the advance of the monsoon. The fall of pressure, which preceded the rainy weather, began on the 9th in the west of Bihar, extended eastward on the 10th, and was general over the west and centre of the province on the 11th. These changes gave rise to steep gradients from east to west over the province, while over the Bay calm settled weather prevailed.

A further instance occurred towards the end of the month immediately before the commencement of the dry hot weather. A shallow depression entered the north-west of the province about the 24th, and moving eastward developed into one of moderate depth over the eastern districts. Immediately before the appearance of this depression ordinary monsoon weather prevailed over the province. Its eastward movement checked the monsoon current, and probably caused the very heavy rainfall in the west of South Bihar on the 24th and 25th. This rainfall was so unusually heavy that over a small area extending westwards from Patna, the excess falls for the whole of June are from 20 to 30 inches above the normal.

Judging, then, by the small disturbances in the early part of the month, the faint cyclonic storm in the middle, and the disturbance during the last week which began by causing general rain but led to the renewal of well-marked hot weather conditions over the whole province, there was a struggle between the monsoon current up the Gangetic plain and the high level westerly dry current, which ended in favour of the latter.

At the end of May the distribution of pressure was fairly normal, the difference being uniform over the Bay and the province. On the 1st of June a shallow low pressure area appeared over Bihar and Chota Nagpur. But the moderate fall of pressure on the 1st was followed by a brisk to rapid rise on the 2nd over the whole province, and the unsettled weather with fairly general rain ceased. A more rapid rise followed on the 3rd, and a second low pressure area formed and lay over the north of the province, till the 5th, when it disappeared owing to a brisk to rapid rise in the northern districts. During these three days, from the 3rd to the 5th, fairly general rain fell in most parts of the province, but the fall was most general in North Bengal and South-West Bengal on the 5th.

The rapid rise on the 5th resulted in a very uniform distribution of pressure, as is shown by the difference from the normal varying from excess of .15 inch in North Bihar to defect of .07 inch at Colombo. There was, therefore, a shallow depression over the south of the Bay and a general distribution unfavourable to the advance of the monsoon. These conditions continued with but little change till the 11th, when weather became more disturbed over the province owing to the passage of the shallow depression, referred to above, from west to east across the province. The depression was so shallow that the wind circulation was very little affected, and never became cyclonic, but the gradient was much steep over the province on the 11th, and the easterly winds were partly checked on the 12th, resulting in falls of 2 and 3 inches rain over a considerable part of the west of Bihar. From Bihar the rainfall spread over the whole province, and what were practically monsoon conditions became general.

With this slight disturbance the unfavourable pressure distribution passed away, and on the 13th a normal arrangement prevailed over the Bay and the province. The changes which immediately followed resulted in the small cyclonic storm which was the only disturbance over the Bay during the month. On the 14th pressure fell moderately in the north-east of the Bay and Burma. It continued rather more briskly on the 15th, and a shallow depression was then shown over the north of the Bay with a faint cyclonic circulation of winds. There had been very little change at inland stations where winds were easterly and pressure practically normal. On the 16th the centre of the depression was close to the Orissa coast, with a defect of only $\cdot 2$ inch within the central area. It was, therefore, a disturbance of slight intensity, and it soon filled up after crossing the coast. The centre passed between Balasore and False Point between the 16th and 17th and was in the west of Chota Nagpur on the 18th, when defect was $\cdot 15$ inch over the whole of that area.

The depression was too shallow to cause stormy weather in the north of the Bay, but as it crossed Orissa heavy rain was general and showery weather prevailed over the whole province.

The gradient was steeper than usual for some days over the whole area, and typical monsoon winds were blowing at both the coast and inland stations. Very heavy rain fell at times on the east coast of the Bay, and occasionally some of the provincial stations recorded falls of 2 and 3 inches. These conditions continued till the 24th when the change began in the west of Bihar, which was followed by the heavy rain mentioned above. There was only a very small fall of pressure, but winds became cyclonic and a diffused depression covered the province on the 25th. Dinapore reported 19.64 inches rainfall, Patna 13.8, and a few other places more than 10 inches. At that time there was a large defect at eastern stations, greatest in East Bengal, where it was more than a fifth of an inch. On the 23rd the greatest defect was in the west of Bihar, and the slow changes of pressure which resulted in the transference of the area of lowest pressure to East Bengal evidently caused the check to the monsoon winds to which the heavy rainfall in Bihar was due. The depression was better marked on the 26th owing to a rapid rise in the west of the province, and it soon after filled up the rise continuing in the east, while a fall set in in the west.

After the depression disappeared and cyclonic circulation of winds had ceased a low pressure area remained over Assam and North Bengal. This intensified considerably on the 29th owing to a rapid fall of pressure over that area, and westerly winds began over the whole province. With the westerly winds the sky became cloudless and hot dry weather was general on the 30th.

Pressure.—Though the distribution has been at times considerably below and above the normal, changes have been gradual and have rarely exceeded a tenth of an inch. The general tendency was for pressure to be high over the province in the early part of the month and low in the south of the Bay. After the cyclonic storm about the middle of the month there was a reversal as regards inland stations and readings were usually low, the greatest defect being $\cdot 2$ inch. Owing to the continued low pressure during the latter half of the month means for the whole month are below the normal by small amounts varying from $\cdot 01$ to $\cdot 04$ inch, the latter at Sibesar.

Temperature on an average for the month was above the normal in all divisions except South-West Bengal, where there was defect of less than half a degree. The excess was very small in Chota Nagpur, but varied from 1° to $1^{\circ}6$ in Orissa, Bihar, and East and North Bengal.

Mean maximum temperature was generally below 1° , except in North Bengal, where there was excess of 2° to 3° , and mean minimum excess was practically 1° , except in part of South-West Bengal, where there was a small defect.

Daily mean temperature was high in the west and low in the east during the early part of the month, the greatest excess in Bihar being 10° . With the change which began about the 11th there was a reversal from the above arrangement, and temperature was high in the east and low in the west till near the end of the month. After the westerly winds became general there was a large increase of temperature over the whole province. On the 29th excess varied from 1° in the east to nearly 8° in the west, and on the 30th from 5° to nearly 10° .

Rainfall.—Except in North Bengal, where there has been a large defect, very nearly the normal amount has been received on an average in the large divisions of the province. In North Bengal defect is 6.51 inches, in East Bengal, Orissa, and Chota Nagpur it is about 1.2 inches, while in South-West Bengal excess is 1.56 inches, and in Bihar 3.12 inches.

The distribution is more irregular than usual when looked at in detail, especially in Bihar, where very heavy local falls occurred towards the end of the month. In the east of North Bihar falls were in defect by from 4 to 5 inches, and in the west of South Bihar over a small area extending westward from Patna there was excess ranging up to 28 inches at Dinapore. The total fall at Dinapore was 35, at Patna 29, at Bikram 27, and at several other stations in that neighbourhood more than 20 inches. Excess rainfall occurred over a tract of country running from south-east to north-west, comparatively narrow in the middle, but widening at the ends. At the southern end it included almost the whole of South-West Bengal and part of East Bengal, and in this area excess was generally about 2 inches, except over two limited areas, where it ranged up to 12 inches.

To the south-west of this tract of country there was generally a small defect, greatest in the south of Orissa, where it was as much as 5 inches. To the north-east there was a more decided absence of rain. Over almost the whole of North Bengal, the eastern half of East Bengal, and the east of Bihar there was defect steadily increasing towards the north-east, and greatest in Cooch Behar, where it was between 15 and 20 inches.

During the year 1896 the appointment of Protector of Emigrants was held by Dr. R. Macleod from 1st January to 17th September, by Dr. W. Forsyth from 18th September to 29th October, and again by Dr. R. Macleod from 30th October to the end of the year.

2. There were 6 agencies at work during the year against 7 in 1895, Jamaica taking no coolies in 1896. The number of labourers requisitioned by the Colonies was less by 711 than the number in the previous year, but the supply during the year under report exceeded the demand by 835 as against an excess of 489 in 1895. It will appear from the following table that, for Mauritius and Natal, the supply exceeded the demand, for Demerara, Trinidad, and Fiji the supply fell short of the demand, and for

Surinam the exact number required was supplied, whereas in the previous year the supply to Demerara, Mauritius and Fiji exceeded the demand:—

(N.B.—Two children under 10 years of age are reckoned as one adult.)

The Protector observes that the requisition from Mauritius had reference only to male emigrants, and that the number despatched to that Colony includes women and children, of whom there were 133 and 27, respectively.

4. Except for Natal, the terms on which emigrants were engaged for the six Colonies were the same as in 1895. The alteration in the terms as regards Natal had reference to return passages and to the emigrants' stay in the Colony after termination of indenture or re-indenture. It is now provided that free passages will be granted at the end of a five years' residence instead of at the end of ten years, as was formerly the case, and further that emigrants, deciding to remain in the Colony after a service of five years, must take out yearly licenses at an annual fee of £3 sterling.

5. There were 755 licenses granted, against 838 in the previous year. Of the licenses granted, 12 were cancelled on account of misconduct on the part of the recruiters, against 13 in 1895. The number of emigrants registered was 16,439, against 17,315 in the previous year, the average, excluding transfers from other depôts, being 21 per recruiter, or about the same as in the preceding year. Of the number of emigrants registered, 1,022, or 6·21 per cent., were recruited in Bengal; 1,997, or 12·4 per cent., in Bihar; 9,576, or 58·25 per cent., in the North-Western Provinces; and 3,844, or 23·38 per cent., in Oudh, the percentages in the previous year being 6·43, 11·42, 59·02, and 23·10, respectively. As in previous years, the largest number were recruited in the North-Western Provinces and the smallest in Bengal. Among districts, Fyzabad and Basti supplied the largest number of recruitments, Shahabad being third. Only 160 persons (all from Saran) were recruited in North Bihar.

Classified according to the place of birth, it appears that 60 per cent. of the total number of persons registered were natives of the North-Western Provinces and 31 per cent. of Oudh, against 58 and 32 per cent., respectively, in the previous year, Basti being the birth-place of the largest number; 7 per cent. were natives of Bengal and Bihar, against 6 per cent. in 1895, Shahabad again taking the lead; and 2 per cent. were of other Provinces, Native States and other countries. None of the 813 emigrants registered in the 24-Parganas were natives of that district.

6. There were 118 emigrants remaining at sub-depôts at the end of 1895, 16,439 were registered in the year under report, and one infant was born, so that a total of 16,558 has to be accounted for. Of this number, 2,611, or 15·76 per cent., were rejected as unfit before despatch to the Calcutta depôts, against 2,176, or 12·28 per cent., in the previous year. This rise in the percentage of rejections may, it is hoped, be ascribed to more careful medical inspection in the mufassal: 9 died, 1,443 deserted or were otherwise accounted for before starting for Calcutta, 394 are unaccounted for, 176 remained in the sub-depôts at the close of the year and 11,925 were despatched. On the journey to Calcutta there were 2 deaths and 39 other casualties; thus 11,884, or 71·77 per cent., actually arrived at their destination in Calcutta, against 13,104, or 73·96 per cent., in the previous year.

There were 12,796 emigrants accommodated in the depôts, including 2 orphans of returned emigrants, 55 re-admitted from outside hospitals, 824 remaining over from the previous year, and 31 infants born in depôts. Of these, 1,145, or 8·94 per cent., were rejected as unfit, against 1,516 or 10·39 per cent. in 1895, 33 died, 133 deserted and 1,033 were discharged for various reasons. The total number despatched to the Colonies was, therefore, 10,176, or 79·52 per cent., against 73·28 per cent. in 1895, leaving 276 in the Natal depôt at the end of the year for subsequent disposal. Out of the whole number embarked, 9,260 were Mussulmans, and the rest Hindus.

It is satisfactory to note the reduction in the number of rejections made in Calcutta on account of unfitness for despatch to the Colonies. In last year's Resolution the attention of the Protector was drawn to the large number of these rejections; and he was directed to report to what extent he had awarded compensation under section 50 of Act XXI of 1883 to persons so rejected, and what amounts had been expended in returning them to their homes. Dr. MacLeod reported on these points in July 1896; and it was found that the rates of compensation and diet-money awarded were inadequate. The Protector was desired to make more use of the powers given him by the section; and he has since reported that the rates have been raised as follows, from 1st November last;—for a single man from Rs. 3 to Rs. 4, for a man and wife from Rs. 5 to Rs. 7, and for a dependant from annas 8 to annas 12. For the purposes of awarding diet-money, infants over 10 years of age are now reckoned as adults. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor observes, however, that there is room for further improvement in this direction, and that the provisions of section 50 should be strictly enforced.

7. The total number of emigrants admitted into hospitals was 744, and the total number of deaths 33, against 582 cases and 41 deaths in the previous year, the percentages being 5·81 and 0·25, against 3·99 and 0·28, respectively. The following table shows the admissions into hospital and number of deaths as compared with the three previous years:—

Years.			Total strength.	Admission into hospital.	Percentage of total strength.	Number of deaths.	Percentage of deaths to total strength.
1			2	3	4	5	6
1893	13,220	359	2·71	14	·10
1894	21,181	824	3·89	109	·51
1895	14,584	582	3·99	41	·28
1896	12,796	744	5·81	33	·25

The chief causes of sickness were (1) malarial fever, (2) dysentery and diarrhoea, (3) measles, and (4) chest complaints. Now that a pure water-supply has been introduced in all the depôts, cholera is not met with in epidemic form. Nine cases, however, occurred during the year, of which three terminated fatally, as against three cases with two deaths in 1895. There were no cases of small-pox, but of chicken-pox there were 16 cases with 1 death.

8. The number of emigrants who embarked for the several Colonies was 10,176, as already stated. As in the previous year, 19 vessels were employed to convey the emigrants, of which 13 were sailing vessels and 6 steamers, the average number carried on each being 535, against 562 in the previous year. The duration of the passage, so far as has been ascertained, varied from 19 days, the shortest voyage, to Mauritius, to 100 days, the longest, to Demerara. The Protector reports that the documents relating to five of the vessels had not come to hand. Of the 14 vessels, the documents regarding which had been received, the average mortality on the voyage amounted to 78, or 1.09 per cent. of the number embarked, against 119, or 1.11 per cent., on the 19 voyages in 1895. The mortality was largely due to measles, which broke out in an epidemic form in the ships Lena, Brenda, Ems, and Mersey. The mortality on the ship Erne, bound to Fiji, was mainly due to cholera: 8 out of the 11 cases of cholera reported on this voyage ended fatally. No vessel had to be detained on account of epidemic disease.

9. The number of emigrants who returned was 3,297, against 6,514 in 1895: 4 sailing ships and 5 steamers were employed to convey them, against 8 sailing ships and 10 steamers in the previous year, the average number carried on each vessel being 366, against 361 in 1895, and the longest duration of the voyage being 168 days from Demerara, and the shortest 21 days from Mauritius.

There were 75 deaths on the return passage, including one infant out of the 15 born on the voyage, or 2.26 per cent. of the total number embarked, against 130 or 1.98 embarked in the previous year. The largest mortality is said to have occurred on the ships Elbe and May, being 32 and 17, respectively, the mortality in the former being principally due to a severe outbreak of fever.

Among the returned emigrants there were 19 lepers, of whom 7 came from Demerara, 6 from Mauritius, 4 from Natal and 2 from Fiji. It was impossible to say whether the affected coolies had contracted the disease in the Colonies or not; but the Medical Inspector states that no intending emigrant suffering from leprosy in a condition sufficiently developed to be recognizable was allowed to leave India for the Colonies in 1896.

There were 6 Colonies that returned emigrants to India, against 10 in 1895, and the aggregate ascertained savings amounted to Rs. 5,74,882-9-3, against Rs. 13,38,683-4 in the previous year, or an average of Rs. 174-5-10 per emigrant embarked, against Rs. 205-8-1 in 1895. The largest average savings per head were those of the returned emigrants from Trinidad, and amounted to Rs. 224-2-3 per head, and as in the previous year, the smallest, Rs. 33-4-5, were those of the returned emigrants from the French Colonies.

10. The total number of estates under administration was 378, valued at Rs. 70,876-8-9, against 434, valued at Rs. 84,028-8-4 in 1895. Of the 378 estates under administration, 131, valued at Rs. 30,366-6-11, were finally administered, the sum of Rs. 28,028-8-11 having been paid to heirs in respect of 106 estates, and the sum of Rs. 2,337-14, standing at the credit of the remaining 25 estates, having lapsed to the Indian and Colonial Governments concerned owing, in some cases, to absence of heirs, and in others to inability to trace them. Besides the final disposal of the foregoing 131 estates heirs were traced in respect of 75 estates, valued at Rs. 17,196-3-11, and were in course of payment, so that the enquiries for heirs were completed in 206 estates, or 54.49 per cent. of the total number under administration, against 267, or 61.52 per cent., in 1895. The remaining 172 estates, valued at Rs. 23,313-13-11, were still under enquiry.

The irregularities mentioned in paragraphs 61 and 62 of the Report under review regarding the disposal of the estates of deceased emigrants in the case of Mauritius will be separately dealt with.

11. The calendar year 1896 closed with a credit balance of Rs. 1,228-3-5, against a closing balance of Rs. 1,066-13-9 in the previous year. The receipts amounted to Rs. 31,077, and the charges to Rs. 29,848-12-7, and were less by Rs. 34 and Rs. 195-5-8, respectively, than in the previous year.

In the Calcutta Gazette of the 19th May 1897, consolidated provincial statements were published for the month of January 1897, showing the traffic in food-grains in all the routes by which this trade is registered in Bengal, in comparison with the figures for the corresponding period of 1896. Similar statements are now published for the month of February 1897, as compared with the figures for February 1896. The following divisions of the trade are registered on the routes shown against each :—

(1) Trade of Calcutta and Howrah—

With all districts and provinces in India

By inland routes, i.e., by rail, country boats, inland steamers and road, and by sea-going vessels, both foreign and coasting.

(2) Trade of the Dacca, Chittagong, and Orissa Divisions—

With Calcutta

By all inland routes and coasting vessels.

With foreign ports

By sea.

And with other districts and provinces in India

By rail only.

(3) Trade of the Burdwan, Presidency, Rajshahi, Patna, Bhagalpur, and Chota Nagpur Divisions—

With Calcutta

By all inland routes.

And with other districts and provinces in India

By rail only.

The table below shows the total quantity of food-grains carried to and from these provinces during the months of February 1896 and 1897 respectively :—

Both imports and exports showed a considerable increase, viz., 5,73,440 maunds under imports, and 5,95,004 maunds under exports. In the import trade, the chief points of interest are the large despatches of Burma rice, viz., 7,51,197 maunds, and the great decrease under wheat due to smaller despatches from the North-Western Provinces and Oudh (9,359 maunds against 1,59,889 maunds in 1896).

Out of the total exports shown above, the quantity despatched to the North-Western Provinces and Oudh alone amounted to 11,36,776 maunds, against 3,46,653 maunds in the corresponding month of the previous year, as will be seen from the figures given below:—

The aggregate quantity of rice exported from Bengal to Assam was 55,148 maunds against 44,411 maunds in the corresponding month of 1896, Calcutta contributing 45,939 maunds against 37,616 maunds. The exports of gram and pulses and other food-grains from Bengal into the Punjab were 5,103 maunds, against 5,529 maunds in the case of gram and pulses, and 1,494 maunds, against 4 in the case of other food-grains.

Following the arrangement adopted in the preceding month, the internal traffic of these Provinces will be dealt with separately under the several heads noted below:—

- (1) Inter-district trade of Bengal Proper.
- (2) Trade between Bengal Proper and Bihar.
- (3) Inter-district trade of Bihar.

The following statement shows the total food-grain traffic under head (1) —

The import trade showed a falling off of 1,40,831 maunds, which was due to smaller consignments of gram and pulses (36,051 maunds against 1,20,882 maunds) from the Bhagalpur Division to the Burdwan Division and Calcutta. On the other hand, the export trade advanced by 3,45,812 maunds owing to larger despatches of rice (3,08,273 maunds against 8,973 maunds) to the Patna Division mainly from Calcutta and the Burdwan Division.

The inter-district and inter-divisional trade of the Patna and Bhagalpur Divisions is shown in the following abstract:—

The local trade of the Patna Division diminished by 1,36,516 maunds, of which 99,301 maunds and 39,815 maunds occurred under rice and miscellaneous edible grains, respectively; while exports to the districts comprised in the Bhagalpur Division were practically unchanged.

The local trade of the Bhagalpur Division declined by 25,758 maunds, chiefly under rice. Similarly, the exports to the Patna Division declined by 25,225 maunds, mainly under rice. The Patna Division drew a very large supply of miscellaneous food-grains from the Bhagalpur Division.

General Summary.—There was general and in places heavy rain during the week. The rainfall is still deficient in parts of North Bengal and North Bihar. Rain is urgently needed in the Madhubani subdivision of Darbhanga, in the greater parts of Champaran, and in the Supaul subdivision of Bhagalpur, where transplanting of rice is retarded for want of it. Elsewhere the transplantation of winter rice is generally in full progress. The prospects of all standing crops are favourable. Early rice is being harvested in North and East Bengal. Some damage is reported to have been done by floods to the crops in Burdwan, Bankura, Patna, Gaya and Monghyr. The crops in parts of Palamau are also reported to have been damaged by locusts. Prices are on the whole stationary, though in places they are reported to be still rising slightly. In the distressed districts the prices of the staple food-grain on which the famine wage is based are—Bankura (common rice) 8 to 9½ seers, Nadia (common rice) 6½ to 9 seers, Murshidabad (common rice) 7 to 7½ seers, Khulna (common rice) 8 seers, Shahabad (common rice) 8 seers and (peas) 10½ seers, Saran (barley) 11 seers, Champaran (Burma rice) 9 seers, Muzaffarpur (barley) 10½ and (rahar) 10½ seers, Darbhanga (common rice) 7 seers and (makai) 9 seers, Bhagalpur (common rice) 8 seers, Sonthal Parganas (common rice) 7½ to 8 seers, Puri (common rice) 9 to 12 seers, Hazaribagh (rice) 6 to 7 seers and (mahun) 15 to 25 seers, Lohardaga (rice) 6 seers, Manbhum (common rice) 7½ seers.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from observations made at 6h., 10h., 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 1 formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed at the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

IRRIGATION OPERATIONS OF CANALS IN BENGAL DURING THE RABI SEASON OF 1896-97.

No. 834I.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—IRRIGATION DEPARTMENT.

Dated Calcutta, the 22nd July 1897.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

Statement No. II, showing the crops irrigated in canal districts in Bengal during the rabi season of 1896-97.

Letter No. 144I, dated 12th May 1897, from the Government of India, Public Works Department, ordering the discontinuance of Statements Nos. I and III, the former showing the irrigation and rainfall in Canal districts of Bengal, and the latter showing the crops irrigated by canals in Canal Divisions.

OBSERVATIONS.—The area irrigated in the rabi season of 1896-97 was 236,231 acres, against 125,137 acres in 1895-96, showing an increase of 111,094 acres, or 188.77 per cent.

2. The increase took place in the areas commanded by all the canal systems from which rabi irrigation was done. From the Sone Canals the increase was 99,255 acres, from the Orissa Canals 7,394 acres, and from the Eden Canal 365 acres. From the Saran Canal, which was closed up to the end of the khari season of 1896-97, an area of 4,080 acres was irrigated during the rabi season.

The total area of rabi irrigated in 1896-97 is the largest on record since the opening of the canals for irrigation. In the Sone Circle the enormous a keen demand for canal water that the supplying capacity of the canals was found inadequate to meet it in full, and consequently many applications had to be rejected. In the Orissa Circle the increase was due to new areas of dulwa rice having been brought under irrigation owing to the failure of the autumn or sarud rice from the prolonged floods of July and August. The increase in the Burdwan and Hooghly districts irrigated by the Eden Canal was attributable to the scanty rain-fall. In the area commanded by the Midnapore Canal there was no demand for canal water during the rabi season.

3. The principal crops irrigated from the Sone Canals in the season were sugarcane, wheat, barley and other cereals, gram and other pulses, indigo, opium, mustard and miscellaneous other crops. In sugarcane, the area increased from 23,497 acres in 1895-96 to 26,928 acres in 1896-97; in cereals from 64,646 acres to 111,926 acres, and in pulses, opium, and mustard, and other miscellaneous crops it was 37,366, 2,122, 421, and 35,630 acres, against 15,526, 1,423, 377, and 8,897 acres, respectively, in 1895-96.

In the Burdwan and Hooghly districts the rabi crops irrigated from the Eden Canal were sugarcane, potato and onion, the area covered by them being 2,250 acres, against 1,885 acres in 1895-96.

The area irrigated from the Orissa Canals was 15,303 acres, against 7,909 acres in 1895-96; the principal crops were rice, gram, cotton and indigo, of which rice alone covered an area of 14,803 acres, against 6,126 acres in 1895-96, showing an increase of 8,677 acres. The total of the three other crops was 475 acres only, against 1,056 acres in 1895-96, showing a decrease of 581 acres.

4. The details of the increase or decrease in the irrigation of the rabi crops from each canal during the year 1896-97 compared with the previous year are given in the following statement:—

FAMINE RELIEF.

No. 1471 Fam.—The 27th July 1897.—The following paper is published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1449 Fam., dated Calcutta, the 22nd July 1897.

From—M. FINUCANE, Esq., Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Revenue and Agricultural Department.

IN continuation of this Government's letter No. 652T.R. (Fam.), dated the 21st June 1897, I am directed to submit, under section 29 of the Bengal Famine Code, the following report on relief operations in this Province during the four weeks ending 26th June 1897. Besides the usual famine statements A and B, a statement is appended showing the rainfall in the affected districts from 1st to 30th June, in comparison with the normal fall for that month. Copies of the Patna Commissioner's two reports for the month, No. 1436F.G., dated the 24th June 1897, and No. 1542F.G., dated the 10th July 1897, are herewith submitted. I am also to enclose

Manbhum, Palamau, Hazaribagh,
Nadia, Khulna, Murshidabad, Sonthal
Parganas, Puri and Bankura.

famine maps of the districts noted on the margin. As regards the Patna Division, there was no change in the distressed areas in any of the five affected districts, and the map submitted for the month of May holds good for the period now under report.

2. Patna Division.—The satisfactory condition of the district of Patna was changed somewhat for the worse by the heavy rain which fell on the 24th and 25th June. During the 24 hours ending at 8 A.M. on the 25th, 13·8 inches were recorded at Bankipore, 19·64 inches at Dinapore, and 11·2 inches at Bikram. The total falls recorded for the week ending 26th June are—Bankipore 23·51 inches, Dinapore 27·81 and Bikram 23·56. An area of 150 square miles with a population of 170,000 in the Sadar and Dinapore subdivisions was flooded, but most of the water ran off within a few days, and little damage was done, except that some early-sown Indian-corn was lost. There was, happily, still ample time for resowing. Prices remained fairly steady. The Bankipore poor-house was kept open, and the inmates numbered 162 against 123 at the end of May. The rain was less heavy in Gaya, the total for the week being 10·38 inches; the condition of this district remained good. Prices were stationary and agricultural operations in full swing. Eight kitchens and poor-houses were open. Returns have been received for six only, in which a daily average of 1,301 persons were fed against 515 in the latter half of May. Public health was on the whole good in both districts.

The following paragraphs deal with the five districts of this Division in which relief operations on an extensive scale were in progress:—

3. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor, starting from Calcutta on the 28th June, visited the districts of Darbhanga, Saran and Muzaffarpur. In consequence of urgent business in Calcutta, His Honour had to return to Calcutta on the 4th July, leaving the Revenue Secretary with the Commissioner behind to visit the Champaran district. During the course of his tour Mr. Stevens had an interview with Mr. Higham, C.I.E., at Darbhanga, where he discussed with that officer the system of relief works and of administration of gratuitous relief in Bihar. As has been separately reported to the Government of India in my letter No. 1398Fam., dated the 17th July 1897, the result of His Honour's interview with Mr. Higham and of his own personal enquiries and observation was to fully satisfy him that gratuitous relief was not being too freely given, and that relief works had been conducted in an efficient and economical manner, and had not competed or interfered with private works.

4. Rainfall and prospects of crops.—The first part of the period under report was a time of great anxiety and of more acute and increasing distress than any of the preceding periods, since the commencement of famine. The Commissioner wrote as follows in his report for the first-half of the month:—

"On relief works the numbers have risen except in Shahabad, where the numbers have always been small, and in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga, where the Muharram festival and heavy rain on the 11th instant drew off considerable numbers. In the other districts even these counter attractions failed to check the swelling of the numbers. Gratuitous relief has advanced everywhere in spite of the additional care with which the lists are now scanned and the incessant inspection to which they are subjected. The numbers in kitchens and poor-houses rose, and it is noticed that many who have hitherto held aloof have now given in and sought relief."

On the 10th June and the day following, and again on the 16th June, there was general rain throughout the Division. Slight rain continued to fall, except in Gaya and Darbhanga, until the downpour of the 23rd, 24th, and 25th, which caused floods in the district of Patna as already stated, and also in Saran. In the latter district an area of about 800 square miles was inundated for three days and then the floods subsided rapidly; it is stated by the local officers that a good deal of growing maize has been destroyed and that the fields will have to be resown. The break in the rains, which commenced on the 26th June, or the last day of the period under report, continued till the 6th July. During this period the weather was extremely close; there was a dense haze, and for part of the time a west wind blew. These conditions caused serious apprehension, which has been removed by the showers which have since fallen, except in the greater part of Champaran and in the Madhu-bani subdivision of Darbhanga, where rain is still urgently needed. The Commissioner, writing on the 10th July, says:—

"Crop prospects are, however, still fairly good; the bhadoi, save so much of it as has been burnt by the west wind or destroyed by floods, is doing well and promises an early crop: a great deal of rahar has been sown this year and at an earlier date than usual, the raiyats remembering how good a crop it gave in the past year: the sowing of rice and the preparation of seed-beds have been somewhat retarded in places by the scanty rainfall, but as a whole is up to date. We are now at the end of Asarh, and are just out of the Ardra asterism, which is the great asterism for sowing: the two next, Punarbas and Pukh, are devoted to transplanting, though some sowing may be done to the end of Punarbas, i.e., till about the 15th July, Indigo has been greatly benefited by the rain, though some has been lost by inundation, and manufacture with its attendant operations is giving plentiful employment all over the northern districts of the Division.

With regard to Champaran in particular, Mr. Bourdillon wrote—

"The crop prospects are good so far, provided that rain falls regularly during the current month. It is reported that three-fourths of the area in Bagaha and Hardih still remained unploughed when Mr. Macpherson (the Collector) was there in the last week of June. As very large advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act and large donations from the charitable fund have been made in that area, it is clear that there is no want of means there to buy seed and pay for labour, but the earth has not yet been sufficiently drenched, and, moreover, in this tract sowing takes place later than elsewhere: bhadoi in its ordinary sense of maize and different millets is not grown there, but in their place early rice (satiathan) and m. ruu, while the main crop is the winter rice, the seed-beds of which should be sown at once."

5. Area and population affected.—As stated in paragraph 1 above, there was no change under this head.

6. Numbers on relief.—The numbers and percentages of population on relief are shown below from the first-half of April:—

The numbers given in this table are as shown in the weekly telegraphic reports published in the Calcutta Gazette, corrected up to date. The marked reduction in the numbers on relief was almost entirely among relief workers, and was due to the advent of the rains during the second half of the month. As soon as the relief labourers found employment in the fields, they left the relief works of their own accord.

7. Relief works.—The number of works open on the 26th June was as follows:—

	Under Civil Officers	Under the Public Works Department.	Total.
Shahabad
Saran
Champanan		33
Muzaffarpur		26
Darbhanga		51

At the end of May the total number of works open was 429, of which 316 were under the Civil Officers and 113 under the Public Works Department. In Saran there were only 12 works under the control of the Public Works Department employing an aggregate of 3,403 persons, and these have now been closed or made over to the Civil Officers.

The following statement compares the numbers on Government relief works at the end of June with those at the end of May:—

* These figures have been reproduced from column 10 of Famine Statement A.

The increase above shown in the number of male units on daily and wages irrespective of task was due mainly to the Jubilee holidays on the 21st and 22nd June, for which days all who were present on Saturday, the 19th, received two days' wages, and were shown as on daily wages irrespective of task.

The following figures for relief-workers are taken from the weekly telegraphic reports:—

The small variations shown by the figures relating to outturn and cost rate per 1,000 cubic feet were due generally to work in tanks far advanced and therefore with long load and lift. The slight falling off in the outturn of work in the district of Champaran is explained in the following extract from the Collector's report for the second-half of the month:—

"There was a falling off in the outturn on task works under the Public Works Department, which is attributable to a reduced task for weakly people being insisted on, and to more of the works being tanks. During the fortnight work went on on only 39 civil tanks against 48 in the preceding fortnight, but on 5 Public Works tanks against 2. As explained in previous reports, the comparatively low outturn on Civil Agency Works as compared with those under the Public Works Department is fully accounted for by the fact that no less than 34 out of the 48 works on which work went on during the fortnight under the former Department were tanks, while only 5 out of the 32 Professional works belonged to this category. Another reason is that more attention is paid to fixing suitable tasks for D class labourers on Civil than on Professional works. Only 74 out of 5,802 D class labourers are shown as such in the returns of the Public Works Department. Mr. Higham expressed the opinion that the task set and obtained in this district was satisfactory, and a sufficient test of distress justifying relief by Government. I understood from him that it was better than was being got in other Provinces he had visited, and that the proportion of carriers to diggers was more efficiently regulated."

8. Piece-work system.—The system of piece-work was still confined to the Tribeni canal and the Bettiah-Bagaha Railway in Champaran, to the Baghamati and Bya canals in Muzaffarpur, and to the Sakri-Jaynagar Railway in Darbhanga. The following table gives the statistics :—

The rate allowed for piece-work on the Bya canal in Muzaffarpur was found to be too low and has since been raised.

The Collector of Champaran writes :—

"The average wage actually earned, namely annas 2 and pies 4, is precisely the maximum wage for B classes labourers on task work when grain is at 8 seers per rupee, upon which the initial rate of Rs. 2-8 per 1,000 cubic feet for the Tribeni canal was calculated, but the task done is less than was then anticipated. On the section for which detailed statistics have been collected, 183 out of 504 family gangs employed have nuniyas, who are professional earth-diggers at their head. Those gangs generally succeed in earning considerably over the above rate, and the others earn a good deal less. It has now been found necessary, in the absence of civil works within several miles of the Tribeni canal, to make special arrangements on it for the employment of weakly gangs and people with no diggers. Separate sections will be opened for such, and no one will be admitted to those unless approved by the Charge Superintendent. It is proposed to employ diggers of ordinary physique at a little more than the sanctioned rate for digging the earth and to put on the weakly people as carriers independently for carrying this away."

The Collector of Muzaffarpur has received reports from the Executive Engineer and the Superintendent of Relief Works, to the effect that though a sudden change from task to piece-work frightened the relief-workers at first and was unpopular, they very soon took to the piece-work and can earn the full maximum wages. The work done on the Baghmaticanal, section II, is described as a model of neatness and order.

Mr. Carlyle, Collector of Darbhanga, writes :—

"As regards the effect of the introduction of piece-work, I stated in my last report that the average earnings per male unit were somewhat less than 1½ annas the full wage of a man on task-work. In no case was the wage earned large enough to permit of any material reduction in gratuitous relief. I may note in support of this that some of the children whom we saw when the Lieutenant-Governor visited the line were clearly not receiving sufficient food although their parents were working on the line. The rates will clearly not permit of reduction, and I would not propose at present to raise them, as this might draw away labourers from the fields."

9. Private relief works.—Private works continued to play an important part in some localities, although many tanks were filled by the recent rains and work on them closed, and the numbers employed generally decreased as on the Government relief works. The Sabar tank in Shahabad was full of water, and the numbers employed thereon are reported to have fallen to 200. Other tanks undertaken in this district by private individuals, mentioned in previous reports, besides several small works for which figures have not been received, employed a daily average of about 1,000 persons. The numbers also fell on the Mogulsarai-Gaya Railway in this district in the latter half of June, the total numbers employed being as noted on the margin. In Saran the Hatwa Raj had ten works open, and the average daily number of male units employed on them was 2,015 against 3,439, the corresponding figure for May. The Darbhanga Raj had several works open in the districts of Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga as before, the numbers employed on which were—

Muzaffarpur	2,284	712

10. Poor-houses and kitchens.—The following table shows the number of Government poor-houses and kitchens that were open in June :—

DISTRICT.	POOR-HOUSES.		KITCHENS.		Total average daily number relieved in poor-houses and kitchens.
	Number of poor-houses.	Average daily number of inmates.	Number of kitchens.	Average daily number fed.

Darbhangā	9	1,039	(Not reported.)	7,309	8,348
Total	27	3,108	83	22,502	26,421

The figures given above for Saran are incomplete as to the average daily number fed in one of the two kitchens. At the end of May there were in the Division 27 poor-houses and 73 kitchens, and the total average daily number fed in them was 13, 564. The increase in June was due to a great development of kitchen relief in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga. This form of relief was almost entirely confined to children who numbered 11,740 in Muzaffarpur and 7,089 in Darbhanga at the close of the period under report. As regards Champaran the Collector writes:—

“The number of kitchens has increased from 12 to 16, and more are being opened everywhere. The progress made in this direction would have been larger had all officers not been so busy with the distribution of seed loans for some weeks back. There is also, as observed in last report, a difficulty in extending the system where the circle officers are honorary, as these have no time now to bestow on such matters, and kitchens serving more than a limited area would not be of much use in the rainy season. The need for kitchens is, however, very apparent in the deterioration observable in the condition of children.”

As regards poor-houses the Collector of Champaran writes :—

“Great efforts are being made to induce those to go to poor-houses who have been struck off the gratuitous relief lists on the ground of having become fit for work, but who are seen nevertheless to refuse obstinately to go on to relief works and to be wasting in consequence, but there is a noted objection to these institutions, which has been fostered by the Brahmin priests for their own purposes, although high-caste people say there is nothing really contrary to caste prejudices in them.”

The Manjha and Hatwa Raj poor-houses in Saran and the Darbhanga Raj poor-houses continued to do good work.

DISTRICT.	Average daily number in the last week of May.		Average daily number in the last week of June.		Average dole per adult unit.

Total	346,194	4.58	324,022	4.3

* These figures have been taken from column 11 of Famine Statement A.

Speaking generally of the whole Division, there was a slight reduction in the numbers in receipt of gratuitous relief, which was due to persons having been taken over by the Charitable Fund Committees, who should properly have been relieved from their funds, and to the departure from the works of relief workers taking their dependants with them. The only district which shows a large reduction is Muzaffarpur, but the Collector and the Commissioner suspect some error in the figures, which are now being further examined. In Darbhanga the number rose as compared with the number in the week ending 29th May. Mr. Stevens is of opinion that no substantial reduction in the number of persons gratuitously relieved can be expected till the bhudo harvest is reaped or till prices fall.

12. Physical condition of the people, &c.—The physical condition of the people was generally good, but in places children showed signs of being underfed. Leaving out of consideration sporadic cases of cholera and small-pox, which are usual at this season, public health was also generally good. The cause of the slightly higher death-rate of the affected tracts in Shahabad in May, as compared with that of the whole district was, as stated in the previous report, the prevalence of small-pox and fever. During June there were outbreaks of cholera in certain parts of Shahabad, and it is stated that there were 11 deaths among the relief workers on the Hata-Barhauili road. There were no deaths from starvation. The condition of cattle was normal.

13. Loans.—The season for loans for village works under the modified rules under the Land Improvement Loans Act is well nigh over.

The Commissioner doubts whether the reported figures for loans of this class are correct, and has promised a further report on the matter.

Figures as to the advances made under the Agriculturists' Loans Act are given in column 11 of Famine Statement B, but they are incomplete.

14. Food-stocks, importation of grain, and prices.—The following table shows the imports and exports since the second-half of November in all districts of the Patna Division, including Patna and Gaya, as far as known :—

Imports fell off almost everywhere, as compared with the previous month. Shahabad was the only district in which the exports exceeded the imports, but its exports were much less than before. A great part of the imports consisted of Burma rice. The food-supply was kept up by importation and was nowhere deficient. During the first-half of the month prices rose slightly almost everywhere, but became steadier after rain began to fall; and in some places in Saran Champaran and Darbhanga they were relaxing a little at the end of the month. In Shahabad the price of common rice rose from 8 seers to 7 seers 12 chittacks in Sasaram, and the prices of other food-grains rose slightly throughout the district. In the Sadar subdivision of Muzaffarpur the prices of common rice and gram rose still further by half a seer, whilst those of barley and Indian-corn fell by a quarter of a seer and half a seer respectively. In Sitamarhi, there was a slight rise in the prices of common rice, barley and rahar, and a considerable rise in the price of Indian corn and marua.

15. Figures as to the cost of relief works and gratuitous relief have been given in columns 8 and 9 of Famine Statement B, but they are incomplete. This Government is now endeavouring to obtain correct information which, if available, will be furnished in the next Report.

16. Chota Nagpur Division.—There was general rain in the Division during the period under report, and agricultural operations were in full swing. There was, however, a general cry for more rain at the close of the period under report in all the districts, but favourable rains have fallen since the end of the month. Public health was generally good, but cholera still prevailed in parts of Palamau (though it did not appear on any of the relief works), Manbhum and Hazaribagh, and small-pox is reported from a few places of the last-named district. Cattle-disease was dying out in Palamau.

Prices still continued to rise. In the report for May it was stated that during the week ending the 29th of that month, rice was selling in 4 markets at between 5 and 6 seers the rupee, and the lowest price recorded was below 8 seers. It is now reported that during the week ending the 26th June, rice sold in 16 markets at between 5 and 6 seers, in 8 at 6 seers, in 31 between 6 and 7 seers, and in 30 more between 7 and 8 seers. The average prices of other food-grains were as noted in the margin. The tewa dhan was harvested and yielded an outturn of 8 to 12 annas. Government did not import rice for relief-workers in addition to the 15,500 maunds reported last month, and the Commissioner has since reported that no more will be required. The people of the districts subsist chiefly on jungle produce, mahua and the cheaper grains, and not on rice; otherwise the fewness of those on relief works, with rice selling at 5 to 6 seers the rupee, would be inexplicable. Importation by private traders under the bounty system fell off, though every possible assistance was given to them. In the last report it was stated that during the five weeks ending 29th May, 7,202 maunds of rice were imported under that system, making a total of 12,560 maunds up to that date. It is now reported that, during the fortnight ending 12th June, 3,801 maunds, and during that ending the 26th idem only 785 maunds were imported, making a grand total up to date of 17,146 maunds. This falling off is ascribed to the difficulties of transport which increase as the rainy season advances, and it is said that, until the Sone and Koel rivers are open for boat traffic (and the deficient rainfall of late is retarding the opening of this route) not much can be done. As reported on previous occasions, notwithstanding the high prices, the number of relief-workers has not increased: on the contrary, the average daily number fell from 2,681 and 2,486 male units during the two weeks ending the 5th and 12th, to 1,972 and 1,641 male units during the two weeks ending the 19th and 26th June. This decrease was due chiefly to the fact that the people were leaving the works for their fields, and that the zamindars of Palamau, as well as the Charitable Relief Fund, were giving relief to a large number of persons. On the 26th June there were 15 Government works open with 1,611 workers only, against 16 works and 3,045 workers on the 29th May last. In addition to this, 3,489 persons (=2,931 male units) were employed daily on private works, so far as returns received show. The numbers in receipt of gratuitous relief fell off slightly, the daily average number at the end of the month having been 1,965 against 1,971 at the end of May, but against 2,105 at the end of the first-half of June. Nearly all these were either lunatics, cripples, blind or aged, and decrepit. A very few were dependents of relief-workers, and these few were only admitted on production of a certificate from either the Circle Officer or the Charge Superintendent, authorising their admission. Every case before admission was carefully enquired into. The piece-work system was being carried out everywhere, but the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. Renny, says that its introduction did not appear to have made any difference in the quantity of work turned out, or in the amount of wages earned by a labourer, the reason assigned being that the earth had been baked so hard by the fierce heat of the summer that the labourers were unable to do more than they used to do under the task system.

There was no change either in the area or population affected in Manbhum. Food-stocks are reported to have been sufficient, and prices fairly steady. The average price of rice in the markets of the district was from $7\frac{1}{2}$ to 8 seers as in May; mahua sold at 28 seers 8 chitaks and makai at 8 seers. The imports aggregated 18,791 maunds, and the exports 705 maunds. There was a marked increase in the number of relief-workers, and a noticeable decrease in the number of the recipients of gratuitous relief. On the 26th June 1897, there were 33 works open, against 20 on the 29th May; the number of relief-workers on the latter date was reported to have been 3,971; that on the 26th June was 6,645. The average daily wage earned by each male unit on piece-work was 2 annas 5 pies, and it is reported that those employed worked only as long as they pleased. The number of recipients of gratuitous relief decreased from 11,969 on the 29th May, to 5,917 on the 26th June. The reduction effected in the former large number is, as separately reported in my letter No. 1398 dated the 17th July 1897, due to instructions issued by the Commissioner during a visit paid by him to the affected tracts.

The number of kitchens open was 8 in the Gobindpur and 2 in the Sadar Subdivisions; 8 more will, it is stated, be opened in the former place, and several others in the latter.

The report of this district is, on the whole, reassuring. There was good rain, the weather was all that was wanted for agricultural purposes, and numbers left the relief works for their fields. The number of relief works open was 36 against 49 in May, exclusive of the ordinary public works carried on in the district. It is reported that, taking relief works and ordinary Public Works Department and Municipal works together, the average daily number of workers during the week ending 26th June was 1,156 against 1,751 in the week ending 29th May. The number of kitchens increased from 26 to 29, and the average daily attendance was 5,602 against 3,494 at the end of May. During the four weeks ending 26th June, 2,753 persons were employed on private works undertaken with loans given by Government. The number of women relieved during the week ending 26th June by the Local Charitable Relief Committee by employment on cotton-spinning and weaving was 960, against 993 in the last week of May. Prices began to rise after a short lull during the first-half of June; that of common rice was $6\frac{1}{2}$ to 8 seers, and of mahua 18 to 32 seers.

There was practically no change in the condition of Lohardaga, except that prices had gradually somewhat risen during the month, but the people continued to leave the works for their fields, and the number of male units, which had fallen from 819 on the 29th May to 542 on the 12th June, again fell to 343 during the week ending 26th idem. That distress was, however, felt in a sporadic manner in the interior, is evidenced the Commissioner says by the pinched appearance of the women and children; arrangements have been made for feeding them by opening five new kitchens in selected places. In Singhbhum, the test works opened did not attract workers, though it is reported that the continued high prices were drying up the usual sources of private charity, and that the number of beggars in the town of Chaibassa was sensibly increasing. The Local Relief Committee was opening a kitchen for the relief of these persons. About 30 other persons were receiving doles from the Committee.

17. Presidency Division.—There was general and good rain in all the

The position of the 24 Parganas district remained the same, and gave no cause for anxiety.

The area and population affected in the district of Nadia remained practically the same as reported in May. Four test works were being opened in the Chuadanga Subdivision, but the Subdivision has not been classed as affected. The general condition of the affected area is reported to have deteriorated, but should the aus crop give the good outturn expected, it is hoped that distress will be over in the greater part of the affected area by the middle of August. The situation is thus described by the Collector—

“Outside the affected area, where the mahajans still have in places small stores of paddy, there has, perhaps, been a slight improvement in the general condition of the people, as owing to the promising state of the aus crop, the mahajans have been making small advances of grain to the cultivators. Within the affected area, however, the mahajans have no grain to advance, though, I believe, they have here and there been advancing money to the very few comparatively well-to-do cultivators who can afford to pay for the weeding of their fields. It may be said, generally though, that the weeding of the aus crop this year has been done almost entirely by the cultivators themselves, owing to their inability to pay for hired labour. The consequence has been that the lands have not been as closely weeded as they should have been, and this will, to a certain extent, reduce the outturn. The prospects of the aus crop, however, are, on the whole, very good, and should the present break in the rains not continue for many more days, the outturn should be better than we have had for many years. The aman crop also promises well, but it is far too early yet to form an estimate as to how it is likely to reap. * * A good deal of aman land has this year been sown with aus. * * The prospects of the indigo crop in the north of the district are very poor. * * It was severely damaged by the excessive rainfall between the 15th and 25th June. This is much to be regretted, as the manufacture of indigo affords employment to a large number of men. * * ”

There were 29 relief works open, against 26 in May, and the total number employed on the 26th June was 23,335, against 20,101 on the 29th May. The number rose to 21,572 on the 12th June. There was a further rise during the week ending the 19th June, the daily average number having been 25,892. The decrease at the end of the month was due to excessive rainfall, which rendered earthwork almost impossible for some days. The piece-work system was in force on one work under the Civil Officers, and four works under the Public Works Department.

As previously reported, the large number of recipients of gratuitous relief in this district has been engaging the attention of this Government, and instructions were issued some time since to the Collector to scrutinise his gratuitous relief lists, and remove from them any persons who were not fit objects of such relief. Immediately on assuming charge, the Officiating Lieutenant-Governor, accompanied by the Revenue Secretary, paid a visit to the district, and on the 25th June, a Conference was held at Krishnagar, at which the Commissioner of the Division, Mr. E. V. Westmacott, was present, to discuss the subject of famine relief administration. His Honour was convinced, from what he saw and heard, that gratuitous relief was being given too liberally, and has issued orders for a careful scrutiny and revision of the lists in a Minute which has been submitted to the Government of India with my letter No. 1398(Fam.), dated the 17th July 1897.

Mr. Stevens hopes that these orders will produce the desired effect in reducing the inordinate number of recipients of gratuitous relief, and is glad to find that the numbers have already fallen since his visit to Nadia, as shown in the margin, but they are still susceptible of large reduction. The establishment in Nadia has been further strengthened by the transfer of three gazetted officers from other districts. No poor-houses or kitchens had been opened to the end of June, but the Collector has in the Lieutenant-Governor's minute of the 28th June, been directed to open them now and place in them recipients of gratuitous relief who are able to work but refuse to work. There was no case of death from starvation.

The affected area in Khulna is now reported to be 474 square-miles, with a population of 276,000 persons: this area includes 25 square-miles of Satkhira thana in which test works have been opened, and six villages in thana Magura. The condition of the affected area was worse than before. Earthwork was rendered impossible by heavy rain. The area sown with aus and jute is reported to be largely in excess of that usually sown, and the prospects of these crops were very good. There are, it is said, no local stocks of rice, but Burma rice is being generally imported. There were 36 works open in June, against 31 in May, and all were conducted under the piece-work system at a rate, per 1,000 cubic feet, of Re. 1-14 for soft soil and Rs. 2-6-6 for medium soil. The average daily earnings of each male unit were Re. 0-2-7-4 during the week ending 23rd June. The Collector found that work was impossible in the majority of these works, and therefore ordered them to be closed. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor has lately visited this district and directed that work should be provided in the shape of pounding surki, where possible, for labourers who are in distress and cannot find employment on the fields. The following statement compares the principal statistics of relief during the month of June:—

Week ending—	Number of relief works open.	AVERAGE DAILY NUMBER OF MALE UNITS ON—
		Piece-work.	Daily wage irrespective of task.	Gratuitous relief.	Total.
2nd June	36	4,744	1,037	5,282	11,063

23rd ..	36	2,055	1,210	6,105	9,365

The number of labourers on relief works decreased considerably, owing to some of the works having been closed, but the number on gratuitous relief increased. On the 23rd June, there were only 772 relief workers, but 7,517 recipients of gratuitous relief, against 4,809 and 6,163, respectively, on the 29th May. Many of the recipients of gratuitous relief were employed paddy-husking, string-making, &c. There were two poor-houses open with 583 inmates, and it is proposed to open four more. The Collector says that the numbers on gratuitous relief were only between 2 and 3 per cent. of the population, and it will be difficult, with safety, to reduce this percentage at all before September next, and then it can only be done partially. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor, who visited this district after Nadia, has directed a careful scrutiny of the gratuitous relief lists, and issued the following instructions:—

“The lower classes of Muhammadans and Hindus should be employed in pounding surki where this is possible; and persons of this class, who are physically fit to work and refuse to labour, should be sent to poor-houses. The lists should again be scrutinised as in Nadia, and all those who have friends or relations in a position to support them, should be struck off the gratuitous relief lists.”

Works executed on loans by private persons are reported to have been mostly finished.

The area and population affected in the district of Murshidabad remained unaltered. The general condition of the affected tracts is reported to have improved, and it is stated that the repairs of the damage done by the late earthquake will give employment to the labourers during the rains. Rain fell throughout the district, and in places abundantly, and the prospects of aus continued favourable. The following table shows the principal statistics of relief works:—

Week ending--	Number of works open.	AVERAGE DAILY NUMBER OF MALE UNITS ON—			Sanctioned rate per 1,000 cubic feet.
		Piece-work.	Daily wage irrespective of task.	Total.

The number of relief works open increased from 11 (6 relief and 5 test works) in May, to 18 in June, but the number of workers decreased, being on the 26th June only 1,923 against 3,808 on the 29th May. The falling off is attributed to the very great demand for labour in the fields and in the silk and indigo factories, and also in towns owing to the destruction caused by the late earthquake. The piece-work system was in force on all the works. It is reported that this system enabled the professional labourers to earn 3 or 4 annas a day, and that practically only professional labourers came to the works. Gratuitous relief was given to about 5,500 persons daily, entirely out of the Charitable Relief Funds. As before, private charity played a most prominent part in this district.

The condition of the district of Jessore is reported to have improved since last reported on, except that the heavy rain, during the latter half of June, submerged the low-land rice everywhere, particularly in the Narail subdivision. The Collector, however, thinks that much of the loss will be retrieved, and that the matter is not serious. The prospects of both aus and aman were good. Imports were larger than exports, and Burma rice was being imported from Calcutta. Prices showed a tendency to fall. Test works were opened at some places on which the existence of distress was reported by the local officers, but were not attended, and have been closed. Gratuitous relief was given as before from the Charitable Funds. During the month, Rs. 10,987 were advanced under the Agriculturists' Loans Act on joint applications for the purchase of seed, and Rs. 1,227, for the same purpose, from the Indian Famine Charitable Relief Fund.

18. Bhagalpur Division.—With the commencement of the monsoon there was a general change for the better throughout the Bhagalpur Division. When the Commissioner wrote the people considered the season to be most favourable and prospects to be as good as possible, but it is now reported that rain is urgently wanted for the transplanting of rice in the Supaul subdivision of the Bhagalpur district.

Good rain, in all Subdivisions of the district of Bhagalpur had the effect of largely reducing the numbers on relief works. The three test works in the Banka and Sadar Subdivisions were closed, and the Collector wrote on the 3rd July that orders had been issued to close all of the ten relief works in the Supaul and Madhipura Subdivisions but three. The total number of relief workers on the 26th June was only 1,193, against 7,313 at the end of May and 18,965 at the end of April. The numbers on gratuitous relief on the 26th June aggregated 4,027, against 2,740 at the end of May. The Collector writes that the increase was partly due to the fact of the Charitable Funds having run short, and the consequent transfer to the Government lists of persons who had been in receipt of gratuitous relief from Charitable Relief Funds. Public health remained good, and food-stocks were sufficient.

The report of the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Parganas is not complete, in so far as it does not furnish statistics with regard to the Deoghur Subdivision. In the district generally there was good rain, followed by dry weather, which facilitated field work, and prospects of all crops were good. In the Jamtara Subdivision there were five relief works open, with 1,235 workers on the 26th June. All these works were conducted on the piece-work system, and the Deputy Commissioner reports that the daily earnings were 1 anna 9 pice per adult male unit. It is also stated by the Deputy Commissioner that, since the introduction of the piece-work system, the numbers of dependents, as also those of labourers on daily wages, have gone down to nominal figures. The average daily number on Government gratuitous relief in this Subdivision in the week ending 26th June was 1,198. On that date, the total numbers on relief works and gratuitous relief in the whole district were 2,310 and 4,733 respectively. The Deputy Commissioner thinks that in the Deoghur Subdivision, relief measures are not likely to be required beyond the month of August, but that in the Jamtara Subdivision, distress will probably last longer, as bhadoi crops are not being extensively grown there, and the harvesting of them will give little relief.

19. Rajshahi Division.—The rainfall was beneficial to the crops, and prospects are reported to have been good in Rajshahi as well as in Pabna. But prices rose in both districts. In the district of Rajshahi, common rice sold at $5\frac{1}{2}$ to 6 seers. The Collector writes that this was mainly due to the interruption of traffic on the Northern Bengal State Railway, in consequence of the earthquake of 12th June. The telegraphic report for the week ending 28th June shows that the price of common rice in this district varied from 6 to $8\frac{1}{4}$ seers the rupee. In Pabna, it ranged from 6 to 8 seers. There was only one test work open in the district of Rajshahi, against two in May, and the number of labourers employed thereon was 341, against 438 at the end of May. Prices are very high and some grain rioting has recently been reported from this district, but the people are prosperous, the prospects of the jute crop, on which they can raise money from mahajans) are excellent, and relief test works, which have from time to time been opened, have not been attended by labourers to any appreciable extent. In Pabna, there were four test works, which employed 1,397 labourers on the 30th June.

20. Orissa Division.—The only districts of the Orissa Division in which relief was given, are Cuttack and Puri; but in Cuttack, the operations were confined to the distribution of gratuitous relief from Charitable Funds, and the total number, consisting mostly of women and children, reported to have been in receipt of doles at the end of June, was 4,394 against 2,306 at the end of May. There was general rain throughout the district; but although it greatly benefited the crops, the total fall recorded was much below the normal quantity, and more rain was wanted at the end of the month. Copious rain has since fallen.

The total area, now reported, as affected in the district of Puri is 274* square-miles, with a population of 89,000. The general condition of the distressed tracts remained unchanged, and the prospects of the crops were good; the sudden cessation of rain towards the latter end of the month was then causing anxiety, but sufficient rain has since fallen. There were 19 relief works open, against 15 relief works and five test works at the end of May; and the total number employed in the district at the end of June, was 4,015, against 4,604 in the Sadar Subdivision alone at the close of the previous month. The system of piece-work, which was introduced in the Sadar Subdivision, is reported to have reduced the number of children on the works. The Collector writes that, under this system, a man can earn between 2 and 3 annas a day. The District Board road, and the expenditure was met from Government funds. The high death-rate of the affected tracts in this district, shown in Famine Statement A, was due to cholera and small-pox, which are reported to be prevailing largely in those tracts.

21. Burdwan Division.—In the district of Bankura, the Chhatna outpost of the Sadar Subdivision, which is similarly circumstanced to thanas Sonamukhi and Gangajalghati, was added to the affected tracts, raising the total distressed area to 560 square-miles, with a population of 258,000. The relief works open numbered 17; but in consequence of copious rainfall, the workers employed on them aggregated only 1,872 on the last day of the period under report, against 8,689, the total number of relief workers on the 31st May. The number on gratuitous relief was, however, 6,507, against 3,521 on the 31st May. The Collector's attention has, however, been drawn to this increase in numbers, and he has been directed to adopt measures similar to those taken in Manbhum. The death-rate in the affected tracts, as shown in Famine Statement A, was 4·1 against 2·87, the figure reported for the whole district. The higher rate is stated to have been due to the prevalence of fever and cholera. Rs. 8,132 were granted as loans under the Agriculturists' Loans Act. Besides this, loans and gifts were made out of the Charitable Relief Fund.

22. The total expenditure incurred from the beginning of the famine relief operations to the end of June, according to the Accountant-General's figures, was Rs. 72,05,131.

23. There is nothing of importance to notice with regard to the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions for the period now under report.

DISTRESS IN THE PATNA DIVISION.

No. 1469 Fam.—The 27th July 1897.—The following paper is published for general information.

M. FINUCANE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1618 F.G., dated Bankipore, the 23rd July 1897.

From—J. A. BOURDILLON, Esq., Officiating Commissioner of the Patna Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Revenue Department.

I HAVE the honour to forward herewith my report under sections 13 and 24 of the Famine Code for the first half of July; the period to which the figures and the reports refer comprises the two weeks ending the 3rd and 10th July. My next report will be for the three weeks ending the 31st idem.

PART I.—INTRODUCTION.

2. As soon as I had concluded and despatched my last report, I joined Mr. Higham at Muzaffarpur and proceeded with him on the 28th ultimo, to meet the Lieutenant-Governor and party at Laheria-Sarai on the 29th idem.

3. On that day the Lieutenant-Governor presided over a conference which was attended by Mr. Higham, the Revenue Secretary to Government, and myself, and he also fully discussed many matters of importance with the Collector, the Superintendent of Famine Relief Works and myself. On the 30th a visit was made to the Sakri-Jainagar Railway and a number of recipients of gratuitous relief were inspected at various places en route, leaving Darbhanga at midnight of the 30th. His Honour and party reached Chapra on the 1st July at midday: here also a long conference was held with the Collector and his Charge Superintendents; many recipients of gratuitous relief in the town and outside it were inspected as well as the poor-house inmates at present accommodated in the serai. Proceeding again by night train the Lieutenant-Governor reached Hatwah on the morning of the 2nd July. A large number of those on the gratuitous relief lists were inspected both at Hatwah and Siwan, and much other business was done. On the 3rd July, Saturday, the party left Hatwah at midday, after visiting a civil agency tank in the vicinity, and reached Muzaffarpur at dark by rail. The morning of Sunday, the 4th, was devoted to a long inspection of the gratuitous relief recipients at Damodarpore near Muzaffarpur, and the poor-house was also visited in the afternoon of the same day. His Honour left for Calcutta, and at midnight the Revenue Secretary and I proceeded to Motihari. Here we spent the whole of the next day the 5th, and left again on the morning of the 6th for Calcutta and Bankipore. On the 5th two relief works were visited, a large collection of persons in receipt of gratuitous relief was inspected, and a long conference held with the Collector, the Superintendent of Famine Relief Works, Mr. Toogood, and the principal local officers. The weather throughout this tour was unusually oppressive and trying.

PART II.—DISTRICT REPORTS.

4. Patna.—The condition of this district remains thoroughly prosperous.

5. The floods mentioned in my last report as following on the unprecedented rain of the 23rd, 24th and 25th June disappeared without doing very great damage. Here, as in other districts, a long break in the rains followed the deluge of those few days, and although the weather was most oppressive, and fears began to be entertained, the absence of rain was, on the whole, beneficial, as it enabled almost the whole of the inundated area to be resown, so that beyond the additional cost of seed and labour the agriculturists lost little by the floods. Since the close of the period under report (July 10th) good rain has fallen everywhere, and the prospects of the district are excellent, though as I write, much of the land from the south of Patna to the east of the district is again under water: much of this land is submerged every year, but the present inundation is deeper and more widespread than usual, owing, no doubt, to heavy rain in Gaya and Chota Nagpur.

6. Prices are stationary or rising slightly, but there is no cause for alarm.

7. Prices of grain and other articles have both fallen off, the former to a large extent.

exports 48,292 maunds against 49,905 maunds, thus instead of a small balance of 13,651 maunds in favour of the district; we have now a balance against it of almost the same amount, viz., 13,853. The change in the situation thus represents 27,564 maunds, but considering the great volume of Patna trade, and the great stocks in the city, this is a matter of no importance. The imports were almost entirely rice (31,187 maunds), and the exports gram and pulses (40,823 maunds).

8. There is a small advance in the number of the inmates of the Bankipore poor-house (due chiefly to the inclement weather) from 162 on the 26th June to 176 on the 10th July. A kitchen is open at Barh, where, from the Collector's report, it seems to be really required. The Subdivisional Officer by some extraordinary misunderstanding has hitherto limited relief to twenty persons a day, but the Collector has trebled these numbers. A poor-house will probably be substituted for the kitchen at an early date.

9. Gaya.—The condition of this district leaves nothing to be desired except a fall in prices which will not occur till there is a general fall throughout Northern India.

10. The rainfall in Gaya was short during the fortnight under report, and Gaya like other districts experienced the extremely close and oppressive weather which prevailed from the 26th June to the 7th or 8th of July, and crop prospects, however, are extremely good, and prices are stationary, for there has been copious rain since the fortnight closed, i.e., about 10 inches between the 11th and 16th, both days inclusive.

11. There has been a rise in the imports of grain which were 17,077 maunds against 14,744. The exports including those by road to Palamau were 3,405 against 7,375. The net balance in favour of the district is therefore 13,672 against 7,369. The exports to Palamau were 1,490 maunds against 6,989. The imports are now not exclusively rice as they have practically been hitherto, but about half were gram and pulses (8,859 maunds).

12. Returns have been received in full from 5 poor-houses, and they fed a daily average of 936 persons against an average of 871 in the same institutions in the previous fortnight. There is an extraordinary drop in the Aurangabad poor house from 246 a day to 64, of which an explanation will be asked. The Mohunt of Bodh-Gaya has closed his kitchen at Kusa on the Grand Trunk Road as no longer necessary.

13. During the month of June 4,148 persons were relieved from the Charitable Fund at a cost of Rs. 4,080-10-7, of whom 3,000 were under class (i), (relieved by food and clothing) and 1,148 under class (iii) (respectable women). Apparently no widows and orphans were relieved (class ii), nor were any donations given under head (iv). I have made no allotment to Gaya from the Charitable Fund grant for the Division, so that whatever has been expended has been locally collected.

14. Shahabad.—In this district also a period of anxiety has been followed by good rain since the fortnight closed, and prospects are now very favourable.

15. During the first week of the period, i.e., 27th June to 3rd July no rain fell, but the district experienced extraordinarily hot-weather with a west wind and a May temperature, so that the gravest apprehensions arose, but in the week ending the 10th instant more than an inch of rain fell, and since the 10th, the rain has been plentiful everywhere.

16. Consequently the prospects of the bhadosi are excellent, and prices are either stationary or rising very slightly. The Collector notices that bhadosi has been sown this year both more widely and earlier than usual, so that he expects much of the crop to be harvested by the end of August. Much rice has been sown broadcast instead of in the usual manner for the double reason that rice so sown will be a little earlier than the transplanted rice, and it obviously costs less to raise a crop.

17. The excess of exports has re-asserted itself, showing at any rate the confidence the people feel in the agricultural outlook. Imports by road, river and rail aggregated 29,965 maunds against 25,804, and exports were 42,556 against 33,971. The figures for the previous fortnight differ slightly from those given in my last report, but taking them as now stated, there remains a balance against the district of 12,591 maunds against one of 8,167 maunds in the preceding period. All the imports by rail were rice and all the exports rabi crops: Ballia and the districts of the North-Western Provinces sent Shaha-

18. The following statement gives comparative details of relief works and gratuitous relief for each of the last four weeks:—

19. As stated in my last report, works were closed at the end of the previous period after the heavy rain of the 23rd, 24th and 25th June, but the continued dry weather made earth-work practicable, and also brought back many who wanted work, as there was no transplanting to be done in the fields. This accounts for the increase in the number of works, and workers, the total on task-work in the second week being nearly as high as it was a fortnight before. The proportion of D class labourers is rising, showing that the more able bodied have gone off to the fields in the first week, the D class labourers were to the B class as 22 to 78, and in the second week the proportions were 26 and 74. Mr. Windsor points out that the apparently high rate of wage earned by the daily wage coolies according to Form No. 7 is due to a mistake: most of the D class labourers have been returned as such in the proper column of form 5, but their remuneration has been shown under "daily wage" instead of under "task-work," the result being that in form 7 the earnings of the daily wage units appear too large, and those of the task-workers are below the truth. The Collector will be asked to supply corrected figures if possible, though the matter is not very important.

20. The numbers on gratuitous relief, it will be seen, show little signs of decreasing. Mr. Windsor's observations on this head in paragraph 21, and on poor-house relief in paragraph 18, show that he has thoroughly assimilated the principles of the Code on these matters and is carrying them out. I am satisfied that he and his circle officers will allow no one to receive gratuitous relief who is fit to work, either on relief works or in the fields. He has just visited the distressed area.

21. One of the kitchens appears to have been temporarily closed for the first week for want of supplies, and I will enquire further about this; but it is clear that the daily average number of persons relieved at kitchens and poor-houses is rising steadily for the figures for the last four weeks are as follows:—709, 811, 699, 983. Mr. Windsor's remarks should be read. It is manifest, as has repeatedly been foretold, that as time passes and prices do not fall another and another stratum of the rural population is affected; it is reported that all the newly admitted inmates are in bad condition, and they are obviously persons who have held out hitherto, but have at last been forced to give in. The Collector's orders to refuse the dole to lusty travellers have my approval.

22. A statement appended to the report shows that during June an average of 1,367 persons a day were aided from the Charitable Fund at a cost of Rs. 1,431, exclusive of nine persons who received Rs. 891 as advances for seed and cattle, the total expended is still small, and further enquiries will be made about the last named item, for the average Rs. 99 is a good deal larger than I had intended to be given.

23. Saran.—In this district after a period of acute apprehension good rain has improved the prospects of the crops, and restored the confidence of the people and all is going well. The Collector has again made a tour of his distressed areas, and writes with the confidence of personal experience.

The period under report was as elsewhere almost rainless. After the extraordinary downfall of the 23rd—25th June, and a few drops on the 26th, no good rain fell in the Sadar station till the 11th, the day after the fortnight closed, but since then the supply has been ample. This break in the rains, though alarming, had its advantages as in Patna, for it allowed the floods to run off, and the recovered land to be resown, and the subsequent rain has gone far to make certain of a good average crop for the bhadosi. Advances for seed grain have been given promptly and freely, and hardly any land anywhere is now unsown which is suitable for cultivation at the present time. A little early marua and some late cheena have been damaged by the rain and floods, but these are ordinary incidents of the rainy season every year.

24. The Collector thinks that the stocks in the houses of the people are now exhausted, but gives no reasons for his belief. Useful information can be obtained in this direction by watching the sales at the banias' shops if the cultivators or the servants of the better classes are found to be coming in increasing numbers to make daily purchases, it may be assumed that the bottom of the grain jar has nearly been reached.

25. The movement of prices is fully treated in Mr. Chapman's 8th paragraph. Rice is no longer eaten by the poorest, and maize is not to be had. The common food of the people is now barley, rahar and gram, and these are said to have risen half a seer in price: there is also a sharp rise in the price of paddy for sowing, as the Tirhut seed is exhausted, much Bengal paddy is being sown this year. The liberal advances given out in this district will mitigate the severity of these high prices in the case of cultivators, and, as a fact, it is not a large portion of the population besides "the irreducible minimum," which has to buy its food in the bazars.

26. The imports of food grain have fallen off very largely, having been only 35,085 maunds for the fortnight against 85,914 maunds in the previous fortnight and 1,36,942 in the first half of June. At the same time the exports were 20,999 against 14,835 maunds and 8,246 maunds in the two preceding periods. The net result is a balance in favour of the district of 14,086 maunds, in the first week of the fortnight under report the imports were only 9,266 maunds. The Collector attributes this large falling off which it will be noticed has now been going on for a month, to a glut in the market, and also want of confidence in the railway. I hardly think that the latter is a very powerful factor, and I would rather ascribe the shrinkage of the trade to the fact that the grain-dealers think well of the prospects of the crops and of the stocks in hand. This theory gains support from the fact that as in the second week of the fortnight prospects began to look gloomy and prices were rising, imports began to increase once more, the imports for the two weeks being respectively 9,266 and 25,819 mannds. The whole of the falling off this fortnight has been in rice.

27. The following table compares as usual the weekly statistics for relief works and gratuitous relief:—

Week ending—	Number of works open.	AVERAGE DAILY NUMBER OF MALE UNITS OF—						TASK-WORK.

28. As already reported all Public Works Department works were abolished and the division closed from the 1st July. This accounts for the decrease of 10 in the number of works, all works are now under Civil Agency. From what is said in the Collector's later paragraph 13, it seems that most of the works in West Gopalgunge can soon be closed. As two of Mr. Chapman's Charge Superintendents in the Sadar subdivision, Messrs. Grimley and Harding are ill of fever. I have ordered Mr. Garrett down to take over their charges, leaving Mr. Ryan to supervise the whole of Mirgunj thana.

29. The daily average number of male units on relief works showed a large drop in the first week after the rain of the 23rd, 25th June, but began to rise again as the agricultural outlook became gloomy, and field work began to fail. The numbers on daily wage irrespective of task are comparatively very large, and it is explained that many are employed on grassing slopes, and that on some works coolies were paid for rainy days. This concession is certainly allowed by the Code (section 69), but like many other provisions of the Code it is intended for a condition of acute scarcity. In Champaran I have directed that it should be given only for special reasons, and these orders will now be made general. The proportion of men to women on relief works is rising as the emigrants come back from Bengal, and also because roads which require fewer carriers have now taken the place of tanks. These two reasons also affect the outturn, and cost rates which columns 8 and 9 above show to be much better. No doubt many of the spare carriers have been employed on daily wage, and have helped to swell their numbers.

30. Almost exactly similar phenomena are observed on the Hathwa Raj work, except that the outturn and cost rate are still worse than those on Civil Agency works.

31. The numbers on gratuitous relief show little diminution, although some of the circle officers have been cutting down their lists with excess of zeal. The Collector thinks (paragraph 17) that there is little chance of any large diminution for some time to come, and I agree with him. Only about 600 persons a day were relieved during June from the Charitable Fund, which has clearly had no effect so far on the numbers on gratuitous relief. Mr. Chapman's proposed series of steps in the abolition of gratuitous relief are sensible and good.

32. The two Government poor-houses fed on an average 164 persons a day against 156 in the previous period; those maintained by the Raj contained a daily average of 423 as against 395.

33. The kitchen system is being developed, but only slowly and complete returns are not available. I hope to have fuller information by the time my next report is due.

34. Advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act have been freely given in the worst parts of the district, and the total up to the 17th instant was estimated at Rs. 1,90,000, which is the whole of the Collector's allotment. As the time for advances is now over, he has closed his operations.

35. When its operations cease, the Hathwa Raj will have advanced about 1,15,000 maunds of grain to its tenants at a cost of about six lakhs of rupees: this fact, and the considerations stated in the previous paragraph, should not be forgotten when the small numbers on relief works in the Saran district are made the subject of comment. Every man so assisted means a group of persons saved from the necessity of going on relief works, and also additional power of hiring labour for field work.

36. Relief from the Charitable Fund grant is now being rapidly given, and Rs. 68,008 have been distributed as donations to 14,496 persons giving an average of about Rs. 4-10 a head; much of this has been given in the inundated tract. It is expected that the whole available grant of 110,000 under head 4 will be expended by the 25th instant, and I have just sanctioned a further grant of Rs. 20,000. Mr. Chapman has been prompt and successful in distributing this money where it was badly needed.

37. Champaran.—In spite of the serious want of rain in this district during the fortnight under review, the numbers have fallen considerably on relief works and among those receiving gratuitous relief. The demand for field work accounts for the diminution of numbers in the first class, and in the second the cause is an excessive reduction of their lists by certain too zealous circle officers.

38. During the past fortnight the weather in this district has caused greater anxiety than in any other; for the reason that in addition to the close hazy weather which succeeded the rainfall of June 23rd and 24th, there was a cessation of rain for many days. The worst parts of the district have from the first been Ramnagar and Bagaha tracts in the west and the Dhaka thana in the east of the district, and it is the first two of these tracts that have had least rain. The whole situation is clearly described in Mr. Macpherson's paragraphs 6 to 9, and it will be sufficient to say here that although Bagaha and Ramnagar received during the second week of the fortnight 1.40 and 2.65 inches respectively, this was not enough, while Bettiah, Motihari and Barharwa received still less. Since the fortnight closed on the 10th July, the weather has been unsettled, "but the rainfall has been scanty in the Sadar subdivision and south of the district generally except to the south-east of it. In the centre of the Bettiah subdivision, however, there has been good rain, but the whole of the rice in Hardih and Bagaha has still had far too little." I am glad to be able to add that I learn from a telegram just received that good rain fell in Motihari on the 22nd, which appeared to be general. As it is, the situation is this, the bhadoi is secure all over the district, but this is not a very important crop in Champaran and accounts, if my information is correct. On the other hand, there has not been nearly enough rain for the transplanting of the aghani rice, specially in the worst tracts to the west and north of Bettiah,* where much of the land has not yet been prepared: however, sometime still remains since operations in that area are always a little late, and as the aghani rice is the great staple of the tract, if it is secured by the end of the month, the loss of the bhadoi in that area need give us little concern.

* The Commissioner has since reported that there has been good rainfall all over Champaran.

M. F.

39. Prices are slowly rising at Motihari, though stationary at Bettiah. Mr. Macpherson calculates that taking them all round they are now 105 per cent. higher than on the same date in an ordinary year. On the 26th June they were 88.4 per cent. above the average. As has been reported before, the common country rice has all been used up. Burma rice sells at 8 seers 13 chitaks at Motihari, 8 seers 4 chitaks at Bettiah and 7 seers 8 chitaks at Ramnagar and Bagaha. On the same date in 1874 the Collector says common rice was selling at $13\frac{1}{2}$ seers per rupee. It is obvious that at this price the masses cannot afford to eat rice, and they are probably living on barley, rahar and gram as in Saran, which are quoted as follows. Barley 10 to 11-13 seers, rahar 8-8 to 12-7, gram 8 to 10-4.

40. Grain traffic by rail seems to be falling steadily off. The imports for the fortnight, which as usual, were almost all rice, were only 20,704 maunds against 22,685 maunds, and the exports being 1,814 and 1,136 maunds respectively; the balance of rail-borne trade in favour of the district was 18,860 maunds against 21,549 maunds. On the other hand, there has been a very satisfactory rise in the imports from Nepal which were 14,678 maunds against 9,734. There was a petty export of 484 maunds into Nepal. The total figures are therefore imports 35,382 maunds and exports 2,328 maunds, giving a net importation of 33,054 maunds as against 30,739 in the foregoing period.

* Three weeks' period.

41. How the rail-borne imports have fallen off, will be apparent from the figures in the margin, and they certainly give one pause. With prices rising, it is clear that it must pay the dealers now, at least as well as formerly, to import grain, and if they abstain from doing so, it must be due to one or all of four causes (a) want of confidence in the railway (b) uncertainty as to the progress of the rains (c) a belief that stocks are sufficient, or (d) the competition of grain from

Nepal. Of these motives of action I do not attach much importance to the first, as the railway authorities have shown that they are now fully equal to a large demand: to rely on the third would be too optimistic, and I am led to believe that besides the actual hesitation felt by men, who till this year have had nothing to do with the import business, the traders are influenced by the importations from Nepal which now that the embargo on exports has been practically withdrawn are probably a great deal larger than the reported figures. This theory is supported by the fact that whereas up till lately the bulk of the imports came to Bettiah, consignments to that station are steadily falling off, as the following figures for the last three fortnights show 20,917 maunds, 10,589 maunds and 5,432 maunds. No apprehension is felt, however, and it is reported that the tide has begun to flow again.

42. The public health is extraordinarily good, and the district death-rate for June was only 2.44 per mille against an average of 3.31; this was due to the amazing absence of cholera, which this year has been almost unknown.

43. The subjoined statement compares as usual the figures for relief work and gratuitous relief during each of the past four weeks:—

Week ending—	Number of works open.	AVERAGE DAILY NUMBER OF MALE UNITS ON—						TASK-WORK.

44. It will be seen that the numbers on relief works (column 6) are falling with very satisfactory steadiness, the reason being not only that work in the fields has called away large numbers of daily labourers, but that many of a better class have been enabled to leave the works for the time on advances granted by the mahajans (see paragraph 3 of the Collector's report) while the advances which have been given in this district by the Collector under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, and the donations which he has made from the Charitable Fund have had the same effect. The apparent rise in the task-workers in the first week of the fortnight is due to the figures for the previous fortnight having been unduly reduced by the public holidays, when large numbers were paid and counted for as on daily wage irrespective of task. The number of those on daily wage is larger in proportion than formerly, because much dressing and finishing is being done. Mr. Macpherson explains that even from these persons a task is exacted, though it cannot well be expressed in cubic feet, so that they are not shown as task-workers. The outturn is rising, and the cost rate falling as the work is now more on roads than it was. The Collector hopes to close several more works during the current fortnight. Piece-workers are not declining so fast as those on task-work, a sign that the new system is more popular than the other. Mr. Still reports that there are no complaints that we are unduly attracting labour from the fields, and as it is desirable to push on with the Tirbeni canal, the retention of the piece-workers is unobjectionable. The fact that they are still there in such large numbers is a curious comment on the apprehensions that fever would close those works by the middle of June.

45. The numbers of those on gratuitous relief are also falling steadily. The fall during the last four weeks being 22.63 per cent. in the number of adult units as against a fall of 59.04 per cent. in the average daily numbers of male units on relief works, but this decrease is a good deal discounted by the consideration that during June 5,692 persons were relieved from the Charitable Fund, and that about 15,000 heads of families or 75,000 persons have been relieved by donations, though the effect of the latter operations would most be felt on the relief works. Turning to the actual figures, however, it is clear that many dependents were removed from our lists when the relief workers, to whom they were attached, left the works: the diminution of those relieved under Chapter V of the Code is said to be due to very strict checking, and the rejection of all those who could do any work at all in the fields. Mr. Macpherson rightly points out that numbers of weaklings can do a day's weeding in the fields who are quite incapable of carrying a basket of earth backwards and forwards all day with long leads and lifts. But this strictness can be carried too far, and I shall not be surprised to see many of these rejections back on the lists. The Collector is fully on the alert.

46. Poor-houses continue to be unpopular and one at Makhwa was burned down, it is believed by incendiaries during the fortnight with the loss of three lives. The daily average of inmates was 1,575 against 1,675 in the preceding period.

47. The number of kitchens has advanced from 16 to 31 during the fortnight, and the average number fed daily was 3,030 against 1,491 in the previous period. The average number of children was 1,842 per diem or 16·79 per cent. of the whole, not so high in proportion as in Muzaffarpur or Darbhanga.

48. It was stated in Mr. Macpherson's previous report that every available officer had been deputed to give out advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act, and the figures given in his present report show that he has been very successful. During the year 1896-97 he advanced Rs. 46,890, and since the 1st April he has advanced Rs. 1,86,273, of which Rs. 85,663 were given out during the fortnight under report. Seven-eighths of this last sum were distributed in the Hardi and Bagaha thanas, and as these people have been largely assisted also by donations from the Charitable Fund, there should be little distress there if only the monsoon is favourable. The Collector has rightly limited his advances to an average of Rs. 6·7 to each cultivator.

49. From the Indian Charitable Relief Fund Rs. 11 were spent under head II, Rs. 5,692 under head III (relief of respectable women, &c.,) and Rs. 49,512 in donations under head IV—total Rs. 60,549—the total expenditure to date has been Rs. 82,512. I make no comment on the number of persons relieved for a glance at the statement appended which is in the authorised form will show that the information it supplies is incomplete and misleading when persons are relieved by donations made once for all, it is impossible to deduce daily averages.

50. Muzaffarpur.—In this district prospects are brighter: there has been a steady fall in the numbers both on gratuitous relief and on relief works, and the bhadoi gives excellent promise.

51. After the rainfall of the week ending 26th June which amounted to about 6½ inches Muzaffarpur had no rain during the fortnight under report, except a shower or two on the 6th, but Sitamarhi which had received little in the previous week did better with ¾ of an inch. Since the fortnight ended, Muzaffarpur and Hajipur have had good rain, but Sitamarhi is again very short. Fortunately, however, good rain has fallen north and south of the subdivisional head-quarters, and the condition of the subdivision is not so bad as the rainfall figures would indicate. In these circumstances prospects of the bhadoi are excellent everywhere. In the Sadar subdivision and in Hajipur the transplanting of winter rice has begun, in Sitamarhi this is not so, but the season there is later, and the Collector says that the transplanting of paddy can be delayed even as late as the end of August.

52. Prices remain fairly stationary in Muzaffarpur. In Sitamarhi which is the point of anxiety, there was no change except that makai was selling ¾ of a seer cheaper than in the previous fortnight.

53. Public health has been good, but for one outbreak of cholera near Muzaffarpur itself.

54. The figures for rail-borne traffic are again incomplete, owing to the failure of six station masters to supply the information required. It will be remembered that in the figures given in my last report, statistics for three stations were not given, and that in the previous fortnight the number of defaulters was five. I have already addressed the authorities on the subject and will do so again. Taking the figures as they stand, however, it appears that during the fortnight 50,863 maunds were imported and 3,567 exported against 48,326 maunds and 9,710 maunds in the previous fortnight. The balance in favour of the district is thus, 47,296 maunds against 38,616 maunds. Nearly three-fifths of the imports were rice: further comment on the circumstances is impossible.

55. The following table presents figures for relief works and gratuitous relief during each of the last four weeks :—

During the fortnight eight works under Civil Agency and four under that of the Public Works Department were closed. I had hoped that it would be possible to close more, but it is obvious that the holding off of the rain properly deterred the Collector from hasty closure.

56. The numbers on relief works as a whole have gone down, but not rapidly. The drop would have been greater, but for an unexpected rise in the Hajipur subdivision on the last day of the period which the Collector is going to investigate. Apparently labour in the fields being over for the time large numbers came back to our works for employment : it will be remembered that once before in this subdivision there was a sudden fluctuation of this sort when the relief workers suddenly fell off (vide paragraph 58 of my report No. 1436F.G. of the 24th June). At any rate the incident shows two things—first that our works do not interfere with private demands for labour, and secondly (as has been foretold already) that some relief works at any rate must be kept on to meet the requirements of the people in the intervals of work in the fields. The outturn remains very good and the cost rate low.

57. The daily wage workers are falling off but little. The astonishing rise in their numbers for the week ending 26th June was due to the Jubilee days. Their proportion to the task-workers is very large: no doubt they are finishing and dressing up work.

58. The piece-workers have fallen off a good deal and are now practically all collected on the Baya Nulla Cut, which it was found advisable to complete; for the same reason the rate per 1,000 cubic feet has been raised, and the outturn has improved doubtless because many professionals were attracted.

59. The Darbhanga Raj still carries on relief works at Parihar, but the attendance fell from an average of 1,246 to one of 540 persons a day.

60. The numbers on gratuitous relief show little signs of falling off. I noticed in my last report that the figures for the 26th June in column 7 above were open to suspicion, and I called for an explanation which has not yet been received. During the month the average daily number of adult units has fallen from 69,452 to 61,934 only. Comparing the last two weeks together, as is done in Mr. Maude's thirty-fifth paragraph, it appears that whereas the numbers relieved under Chapter V of the Code have fallen, the number of persons being 59,560 as against 62,833. There has been a large advance under kitchens from 10,724 to 16,566. The same table shows that out of all the persons relieved the ratio were nearly as follows—women 3, children 2 and men 1.

61. The Darbhanga Raj at Parihar relieved gratuitously about 956 persons a day as against a daily average of 895 in the previous fortnight.

62. Poor-houses in this district were again 7 in number, and they held on the last day of the period 357 inmates as against 298 on the 26th June.

63. The number of kitchens has been increased by 8 and is now 70. The numbers relieved daily were 16,407 as against 13,162 in the previous fortnight. The daily averages of each week being as follows, viz., 12,684, 13,640, 15,258 and 17,656. As before the vast majority were children.

64. Advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act have not been pushed on so actively here as in Saran and Champaran, and only Rs. 73,634 have been disbursed, of which Rs. 16,694 were given out in the fortnight under review.

65. I regret to say that the prescribed returns of expenditure from the Charitable Fund are not given, and it would seem as if this were hanging fire here a good deal. A statement given in paragraph 42 however of Mr. Maude's report shows that the total amount disbursed up to the 15th July was only Rs. 10,470, whereas the district allotment is Rs. 85,000 under heads 1 to 3, and Rs. 1,30,000 under head 4. The objections quoted in Mr. Maude's forty-third paragraph seem to show that donations are not being offered to quite the right class of persons, the matter will be looked into at once.

66. Darbhanga.—Prospects here are not so good as they were a fortnight ago. The rainfall has been insufficient and numbers are rising again both on relief works and gratuitous relief.

67. During the week ending the 26th June Darbhanga itself had 5.18 inches of rain, but from that time up to the 10th July less than a quarter of an inch was reported, and although since the fortnight closed there has been a little rain, yet on the whole the district is lamentably short, and its condition is more critical than that of any other. The district may be divided according to Mr. Carlyle into three zones—in the south, down to the Ganges from a line drawn east and west 10 miles south of Darbhanga, there has been plentiful rain, the bhadoi is splendid and the transplanting of rice is in full sowing in the central zone, reaching to a parallel line 10 miles north of Darbhanga and a little south of Madhubani “the prospects of bhadoi are good, but there has not been enough rain to permit of the general planting out of paddy.” In the remainder of the district, i.e., the whole tract north of Madhubani some of the bhadoi is failing for want of rain, and the transplanting of rice has not been attempted fortunately in this tract, as in Sitamarhi the season is somewhat late, and Mr. Carlyle writes that if heavy rain falls by the middle of August the rice will be safe. The situation clearly justifies anxiety.

68. Prices show a slight tendency to rise: in Darbhanga barley, rice and rahar have gone up in price: in Samastipur there is a rise in wheat, marua and gram, and in Madhubani in all grains except gram which is stationary. The cheapest food-grains are barley (10 to 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ seers), marua and gram both of which last vary from 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ to 10 seers for the rupee.

69. The public health remains very good, the death-rate for June being 2.1 per mille against a five years' average of 3.83.

70. Food-grain traffic has been dull during the fortnight, probably because the dealers are watching the progress of the bhadoi, and anticipates a fall in prices. The total imports have been 69,274 maunds against 1,00,925 and the exports 9,090 maunds against 9,888. This shows a great drop in imports and leaves a nett balance of 60,184 instead of one of 91,037 maunds. Mr. Carlyle has said nothing about traffic with Nipal, but it is quite possible that one cause of this stagnation is increased imports across our northern frontier, he will be asked to enquire into the suggestion. As was the case when last I wrote, the imports are no longer exclusively rice for out of the 69,274 maunds imported 41,122 were “other food-grains,” and rice was only 16,112 maunds, this suggests possible over importation in former period.

71. The following table compares as usual relief work and gratuitous relief figures for four weeks:—

Week ending—	Number of works open.	AVERAGE DAILY NUMBER OF MALE UNITS ON—						TASK-WORK.

On the 23rd July there was 96 of an inch of rain in Darbhanga and on the 24th '07.

M. F.

The number of works has been considerably reduced, 20 Civil Agency and five Public Works Department works having been closed since the 26th June. Doubtless most of these were tanks which have become no longer workable in view of the critical situation of the district, the Collector has done right to close no more.

72. The total numbers on relief works, after a sharp fall during the week ending 26th June on account of the rain, have now steadily gone up again. This rise has taken place chiefly in the north of the district, and is found among the task-workers, for the daily wage coolies have fallen off. The reason is of course the cessation of work in the fields for want of rain. The number of piece-workers remains constant. The outturn and cost rate are neither of them so good as they were; the Collector has given no explanation of these phenomena, and I therefore assume that they are due no special or unusual cause.

73. The numbers on Raj relief works averaged 910 a day for the fortnight.

74. The numbers of gratuitous relief have fallen slightly perhaps, because about Rs. 13,000 persons are now relieved from the charitable fund. It is clear that while the agricultural outlook is so obscure, and prices show no sign of falling, we need expect no great reduction in the dimensions of gratuitous relief.

75. The Raj figures show some falling off: the number gratuitously relieved every day in the last week of the fortnight averaged 896 against 1,005 for the week ending the 26th June.

76. The nine poor-houses in the district had an average daily population of 1,310 inmates against an average of in the previous fortnight. It is extraordinary how in this district the poor-houses are comparatively full, while in Muzaffarpur and Champaran they are almost empty. I deduce a larger proportion of absolutely homeless outcasts.

77. In kitchens were fed daily an average of 8,730 persons, of whom all but 150 were children.

78. The Collector reports that he has found it unnecessary to give any advances under the Agriculturists' Loans Act. This will form the subject of a separate correspondence.

79. No charitable fund returns are submitted which is to be regretted, nor apparently has the Collector yet made any donations from the same fund: his maximum of Rs. 30 for such gifts seems too high. I will look into the whole question without delay.

80. Mr. Carlyle's observations about the Sakri-Jaynagar Railway (paragraph 28 of his report) will be laid before Government in the Public Works Department.

PART III.—CONCLUSION.

81. The fortnight under report has been a period of some anxiety on account of the break in the monsoon rains which continued in most districts till almost the end of the fortnight. The cessation of rain was accompanied by close oppressive weather with a curious haze and a high temperature, and in some districts a west wind; the result was that the bhadri which had come up well after the rain of the previous week began to wither and the transplanting of rice could not be attempted. On the 6th and 7th the weather became unsettled with local thunderstorms, but, except at Arrah, it was not till the 11th day after the period under report came to a close that continuous rain set in. Since that date plentiful rain has fallen in Patna, Gaya, Shahabad and Saran, and in those four districts the bhadri promises to be a bumper crop and the prospects of aghani are good; in the remaining three districts prospects are not so good, the rainfall in all being short to the following extent on the day that I write:—Motihari, 9.29; Muzaffarpur, 2.07; Darbhanga, 4.30. In Champaran prospects are fair except in the extreme north and west which happen to be already the worst tracts in the district: in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga the southern part of the district has a splendid bhadri and good prospects of rice, a central tract is fairly well off, but in both districts the northern area has failed badly: in Muzaffarpur the tract is a small one round

Sitamarhi, but in Madhubani a long stretch of country north of the subdivisional head-quarters is greatly in want of rain, both to save the bhadoi and to enable the rice to be transplanted. In all these three distressed regions, however, the outlook is by no means desperate, as the rice crop is the main crop in each, and that will be saved if copious rain falls before the 15th of August.

82. Prices remain stationary with a slight upward tendency; there appears to be no apprehension of failure of stocks.

83. Imports have fallen off greatly as the accompanying table will show. The Muzaffarpur figures are incomplete both for the past and the previous fortnight, so that their errors may be taken to cancel each other. As the figures stand, there is a drop of more than one-third in the total volume of imports which is contributed chiefly by Saran and Darbhanga. Muzaffarpur remains about the same, and Champaran has risen slightly owing to increased imports from Nepal. The balance of the fortnight's transactions in favour of the district is vastly smaller in Saran and Darbhanga; in other districts it has advanced slightly. These incidents seem to imply that the dealers are carefully watching the progress of the monsoon.

84. The falling off in general imports has been accompanied with a further reduction in the imports from Howrah as the marginal figures show: the decline has been going on for some time, but is continuous nowhere except in Shahabad (where the amount is insignificant), and in Champaran where it is undoubtedly met by increased imports from Nepal. Both in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga the figures are remarkable, and in the former district at any rate they are unreliable.

85. I again give below the usual statement showing the numbers in receipt of Government relief of all kinds on the last day of the period under report and on four previous dates.

DISTRICT	Estimate—population affected area.	Number in receipt of relief of all kinds on 10th July	PERCENTAGE RECEIVING RELIEF ON THE—
			15th May	29th May	12th June	26th June	10th July
Shahabad	382,000	23,341	8.11	8.71	8.06	5.72	6.1
Saran	1, 416,000	87,000	5.91	6.31	6.91	4.86	4.7
Champaran	1, 860,000	110,251	10.64	10.37	10.47	7.64	6.4
Muzaffarpur	1, 660,000	118,371	8.31	8.41	7. 1	6.26	6.1
Darbhanga	2, 234,000	245,261	11.14	12.11	11.51	10.5	10.9

The figures have been taken as usual from the Calcutta Gazette and have been corrected for Champaran by the Collector. The percentage has risen slightly in Shahabad, Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga. It has been noticed above in paragraph 56 that the rise in Muzaffarpur was rather sudden and unexpected, and does not represent the real progress of events in that district, the critical position of North Darbhanga accounts for the rise in that district. It is to be borne in mind that these figures do not include those who are relieved from the Charitable Fund.

86. The totals in the above statement are distributed as in the marginal statement between relief works and gratuitous relief. It has been accepted that there is no necessary connection between the two sets of figures, but it seems useful to place them side by side for comparison and for record. If this statement is compared with the similar statement in my last report, it will be seen that the percentage on relief works has fallen everywhere except in Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga, and that the proportion of the population on gratuitous relief has risen everywhere except in Champaran.

It is remarkable that the general percentage of the population on gratuitous relief is almost exactly the same as it was at the end of the previous fortnight, and the steadiness of the following figures which show the general divisional percentage on different dates, strongly supports the contention, so often put forward of late, that as soon as the arrangements for gratuitous relief are properly organized, the ratio of the population relieved attains a general level, which is maintained with little variation till general fall in prices enables Government to throw again on the general public the responsibility of feeding their own poor. The figures are these—May 15th, 4·66; May 29th, 4·61; June 12th, 4·75; June 26th, 4·42; July 10th, 4·41. I do not give earlier figures as they are not ready, and I have not time to work them out.

87. I submit below the usual statement giving a mean for the fortnight of all the weekly figures already given under each district and some others. It will be observed that a steady general level has been obtained. In task-work the outturn per diem per male unit varies from 38 to 55·6 cubic feet; the daily wage varies very slightly, but there is more variation between the cost rate. The wage of those irrespective of task is also very similar except in the case of Shahabad which has been noticed above.

88. The statement in the margin shows how the works open at the end of the period were distributed between the Civil Agency and that of the Public Works Department. There is a reduction of 54 in all, of which only seven were Public Works Department works and 47, those under Civil Officers. I had hoped for even a larger reduction, but in the critical state of the monsoon local officers have done well to be cautious. The largest reduction is in Darbhanga where 20 Civil and five Public Works Department works have been closed. All officers are ready and willing to close their works and concentrate or dismiss their staff as soon as prospects improve permanently.

89. As desired by Government I give below a statement showing the advances made hitherto under the Land Improvement Loans Act, and the modified rules thereunder. The doubt stated in my former report as to the correctness of the figures given has been cleared up, and revised figures are now submitted. It will be observed that comparatively little advantage has been taken of the concessions which Government allowed in order to encourage the execution of petty village works:—

90. The expenditure up to date so far as appears from the district reports is given in Appendix A, but as explained in my last report, it is manifestly incomplete. I have addressed all district officers on the subject and hope to submit separately revised figures, including charges for establishment and allowances debitable to the "Famine" head, but final figures can be obtained from the Accountant-General only. As the statement stands it appears that we have spent in the Patna Division up till the 10th July 1897, a total of nearly 53 lakhs, of which nearly 35½ have been spent on relief works and half of that sum, or 17 lakhs, on gratuitous relief. The expenditure of the last fortnight has been Rs. 4,40,893.

91. I regret that complete information as to charitable relief expenditure during June are not yet available. Muzaffarpur and Darbhanga have sent no statements at all, and those received from other districts contain some glaring errors. A separate report will be submitted.

92. The district reports and the usual statements are appended.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF EMIGRATION, CALCUTTA, ON INLAND EMIGRATION FOR
THE YEAR 1896.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 27th July 1897.

RESOLUTION—No. 2950.

READ—

The Report of the Superintendent of Emigration, Calcutta, on Inland Emigration for the year 1896.

DR. R. MACLEOD held the appointment of Superintendent of Emigration from the commencement of the year under review until the 17th September, and again from the 30th October until the close of the year. Dr. W. Forsyth officiated for him in the interval. The Report, following the prescribed lines, traces the journey of each class of emigrant from the recruiting grounds to the labour districts.

2. In March 1896 Dr. P. A. Rigby, Civil Medical Officer of Manbhum, was appointed to be Assistant Superintendent of Emigration at Purulia, in addition to his other duties. The appointment of an Assistant Superintendent of Emigration at Raniganj and Asansol was also sanctioned at the same time, and an Assistant Surgeon of the third grade was appointed to the post.

3. There are four distinct methods of recruitment recognized, viz. :—

- (1) by Contractors, licensed under section 12 of Act I of 1882 ;
- (2) by local Agents of the employers of labour, who have been specially authorized to recruit by the Superintendent of Emigration under section 62 of the Act ;
- (3) by garden-sardars, who have been granted certificates by their employers under section 51 of the Act ;
- (4) the “free” system, over which a sanitary supervision only is maintained under Act I (B.C.) of 1889.

4. Contractors' Emigrants.—There were three licensed contractors with depôts in the suburbs of Calcutta during 1896, including one who died in March of that year. They had 12 recruiters working under them, against 6 in the preceding year, and they registered 4,164 coolies, against 3,693 in 1895, being an increase of only 471. Of the 4,164 coolies registered during the year the great majority, 3,928, were registered in the 24-Parganas, 111 in Burdwan, 106 in Jabalpur, 13 in Lohardaga, and 6 in Bankura. There can be no doubt that, as observed in last year's Resolution, the contractors evade the provisions of the Inland Emigration Act by taking over coolies collected under the so-called free emigration system, and having them registered by their licensed recruiters. Of the 236 persons registered outside the 24-Parganas, 30 were released during the journey from the sub-depôts to Calcutta; the number actually accommodated in the depôts was 4,134. During their stay in the depôts, this number was further reduced by 144, or 3·39, owing to the discharge of 59 emigrants, the desertion of 78, the death of 6, and the rejection of 1. Already 108 were in the depôts on the first day of the year, and one child was born there, so the number available for despatch to the labour districts was 4,099. Of this number, 3,944 were forwarded to Goalundo for despatch to the labour districts, and 155 remained in the depôts at the close of the year. The total deductions from all causes during 1895 amounted to 123, or 3·29 per cent. of the number accommodated. The percentage of sickness during 1896 amounted to 0·42 against 0·26 in the previous year, and the death-rate per mille was 1·41 against 1·87. The Medical Inspector of Emigrants remarks:—

“No case of cholera or of small-pox occurred during the year. The complete absence of cases of small-pox and of cholera, and the comparative freedom from bowel disorders constitute telling evidence of the vigilant care exercised by those concerned in the task of safe-guarding the health of the emigrants, and securing the efficiency of the sanitary arrangements at the depôts.”

As in the previous year, no casualty or detention occurred on the journeys between Calcutta and Goalundo, but there were two releases and one death from cholera at Goalundo: 78 of the emigrants despatched to Goalundo did not reach that place till 1st January 1897, so that only 3,863 emigrants embarked from Goalundo during the year 1896; of these 1,287 arrived at their destination in Assam, having lost four by death and three by desertion during the voyage, and 2,566 reached Sylhet and Cachar, losing two by desertion and one by death.

5. Special Local Agents and coolies registered by them.—During the year under report 7 special local agents were licensed, against 9 in the previous year. The recruiting operations of the special local agents were confined to the districts of Manbhum and Lohardaga in the Chota Nagpur Division. Manbhum contributed, as in 1895, almost the whole of the coolies recruited under this system—7,378 out of 7,940. The number of emigrants registered in 1896, through the special local agents, was 7,940, against 16,954 registered in 1895, the proportion of labourers to dependents was in both years about 3 to 1. This large decrease is said to be due to the expansion of the free emigration system of collecting labour, with which the special local agent's system would seem to work hand-in-hand; but the same reason was adduced last year to account for the increase of labourers recruited under this system in 1895, and the Lieutenant-Governor is unable to understand the explanation now given. Of the 7,940 registered in 1896, 7,387 were registered for Assam, 439 for Cachar, and 114 for Sylhet. The number of these emigrants that left the recruiting districts during the year under report for embarkation at Goalundo was 7,811, there being no casualties of any description during the journey to Goalundo. During the stay at that place, however, there were 19 discharges, 4 desertions, and 4 deaths. Three emigrants were left over at Goalundo at the close of 1895, so that the number despatched thence during 1896 amounted to 7,787, of whom 7,223 embarked for Assam, 342 for Cachar, and 222 for Sylhet. Out of the 7,223 embarked from Goalundo, there were 71 casualties by death and 19 by desertion on the way to Assam, the total casualties thus amounting to 1.24 per cent., against 0.62 in 1895. No casualties occurred on the journey to Cachar and Sylhet.

Eight hundred and forty emigrants of this class left for Assam via Dhubri. Of these, 1 was left behind, 7 deserted, and 1 died on the journey, so that 831 arrived at Dhubri. During the stay at Dhubri there were 2 discharges, 2 desertions, and 5 deaths, thereby reducing the number to 822. During the steamer passage 2 emigrants were landed en route on account of sickness, 820 therefore arrived at their final destination.

6. Certificated garden sardars and coolies recruited by them.—There were 4,748 certificated garden sardars and 73 sardarnis during the year under report, as compared with 5,317 sardars and 164 sardarnis in the previous year. The

Years.	Number of
	Sardars.	Sardarnis.	Local Agents.

1893	4,762	104	127
1894	5,274	156	158
1895	5,317	164	172
1896	4,748	73	164

marginal table gives the numbers for each of the last five years, and shows a continued increase up to the year 1895, but a decrease last year. This decrease has not been explained, but it does not indicate any decline in the popularity of the system of recruitment by garden sardars, for the numbers of emigrants registered under this system increased as will be seen below. The majority of the sardars, viz. 4,002, conducted their operations under the supervision of local Agents; and the number of these local Agents decreased in 1896 from 172 to 164. During the year under review six licenses of local Agents and nine certificates of garden-sardars were cancelled. The number of coolies registered by garden-sardars and sardarnis amounted to 9,037 and 93, against 8,336 and 65 respectively, in the previous year. Of these 9,130 emigrants, 7,516 were registered for Assam, 917 for Cachar, and 697 for Sylhet.

The number of emigrants recruited by this method that left the districts of recruitment during the year under report for embarkation at Goalundo was 12,742, and of this number 16 were discharged, four deserted, and three died, at Goalundo. Of the remainder (12,719), 10,301 were despatched to Assam, 1,185 to Cachar, and 1,233 to Sylhet. Of the number that embarked from Goalundo, 161 died and 8 deserted, there were five births on the passage, thus 10,137 arrived in Assam, while 2,411 reached Cachar and Sylhet, with the loss of six by death and one by desertion.

One thousand and fifty-two emigrants, recruited by sardars, started for Assam via Dhubri, 7 died and 13 were released either on their way to Dhubri or during their stay at that place, so that the number embarked for Assam was 1,032. During the steamer journey, 13 emigrants were put ashore on account of illness, and five died, 1,014 being landed at their final destination.

7. Free emigrants.—No record is kept in the recruiting districts of the numbers of free emigrants leaving them, but the Emigration Agents at Goalundo and Dhubri supply more or less accurate information of the numbers passing through those places. Their reports show that 53,260 free emigrants left the recruiting districts for Goalundo and 5,754 for Dhubri, giving a total of 59,014 free emigrants, compared with 44,960 in 1895. Of the coolies who travelled via Goalundo, 10 deserted, 45 were discharged and eight died on their way to Goalundo, or during their stay at that place; the total casualties thus amounting to 63, or 0.11 per cent., compared with 102, or 0.23 per cent. in 1895. Thus 53,197 free emigrants proceeded onward from Goalundo. Of these, 16,783 were bound for Assam, of whom five deserted, and 55 died on the way, the total casualties amounting to 60, or 0.35, compared with 23, or 0.20 per cent. in 1895. There was one birth on the passage, so that the total number of emigrants who arrived at their destination was 16,724. The Cachar emigrants lost two by death on the journey and 10,054 reached their destination, the percentage of casualties being 0.01, against 0.03 in the previous year. Twenty-six thousand three hundred and forty reached Sylhet, the number of casualties on the way amounting to 18, viz., two by desertion, and 16 by death, or 0.07 against 0.01 in 1895.

Among the 5,754 emigrants who left the recruiting districts for Dhubri, the losses on the journey there numbered 224, or 3.89 per cent., against 177, or 7.95 per cent. in the previous year; so that 5,530 emigrants arrived at Dhubri. Besides this number, 15,241 free emigrants, who embarked at Goalundo, were landed at Dhubri for the purpose of executing contracts, raising the total number of arrivals at Dhubri to 20,771. Twenty free emigrants remained at Dhubri at the close of the previous year, and one infant was born there in 1896; 469 casualties occurred there, viz., 366 releases, 20 desertions, and 83 deaths, the percentage being 2.25, against 3.95 in 1895; so that 20,323 free emigrants were ready for embarkation. Of this number, 20,247 were embarked and 76 remained at Dhubri at the close of the year 1896. Of the number embarked, 19,482 free emigrants had executed labour contracts, and the remaining 765 proceeded as free emigrants. Of the number that embarked at Dhubri, 23 deserted on the steamer journey, 131 were landed en route on account of sickness and 72 died, the total percentage of casualties being 1.11 against 0.34 in 1895; so that, including 2 births on the passage, 20,023 free emigrants were landed at their destination.

8. Execution of contracts.—In the following statement are set forth the figures connected with the execution of contracts under the Assam Labour and Emigration Act, 1882:—

During the year 14,492 contracts were executed, 19·10 per cent. being for three years and 80·89 for four years. In 1895 the number was 20,694 and the percentage 0·10 for two years, 18·67 for three years, and 81·22 for four years.

Taking the figures for Assam, Cachar, and Sylhet, separately, 5·56 and 94·43 per cent. of the Assam contracts were for three and four years, respectively. Of those for Cachar, 35·43 per cent. were for three years and 64·56 per cent. for four years, while for Sylhet the majority, viz., 79·11 per cent., were for three years, and the remainder 20·88 per cent. for four years.

9. Offences connected with Emigration.—Statistics of complaints made against coolies under Act I of 1882, and of complaints made by or on their behalf, of such offences as kidnapping and illegal restraint or confinement, are received quarterly from the recruiting districts, together with accounts of all cases of the latter description that come to trial. These returns are reviewed quarterly by Government, and it is, therefore, unnecessary to dwell upon the subject here.

10. Inspection of cooly depôts and rest-houses.—The Annual Reports on the inspection of cooly depôts and rest-houses, received from the Commissioners of Divisions and the Superintendent of Emigration, are reviewed separately. The Lieutenant-Governor does not, therefore, notice the subject in the present Resolution.

11. Summary.—The following table gives a summary of emigrants registered to proceed to the labour districts in Assam, via Calcutta, Goalundo, and Dhubri:—

	1895.				1896.
	Via Calcutta.	Via Goalundo.	Via Dhubri.	Total.	Via Calcutta.	Via Goalundo.	Via Dhubri.	Total.

* The figures shown against "free emigrants" are approximate, as no correct statistics are available.

There was thus a considerable falling off in the supply of coolies obtained through special local agents, and a considerable increase in those recruited under the "free" system. Taking all classes of emigrants together, the results of the year's operations show that, during 1896, there was an increase of 20,857, in the number of coolies embarked for the labour districts in Assam, viz., from 73,821 to 94,678.

12. Casualties.—There has been a considerable increase in the total number of casualties during the year under report, being 1,623 against 1,280 in 1895. The mortality from cholera rose from 123 in 1895 to 495 in 1896, and the number of deaths from other causes also rose from 32 to 78. The number of casualties amongst free emigrants also increased from 860 in 1895 to 1,062 in 1896, and the number of deaths amongst this class of emigrants rose from 76 in 1895 to 298 in 1896.

13. It was noticed in last year's Resolution that the Report of the Labour Enquiry Commission was under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor. The Report was received in June 1896, and Sir Alexander Mackenzie recorded his views on the several recommendations of the Commission, and submitted them for the consideration of the Government of India.

14. Owing to the prevalence of cholera amongst emigrants in transit, it became necessary to take the most stringent measures to secure adequate sanitary arrangements. Surgeon-Captain J. C. S. Vaughan was accordingly deputed to inspect the lines of route by which emigrants travel to Assam, with instructions to enforce strictly the provisions of the rules under Act I of 1882, as amended by Act VII of 1893, and the rules under Act I (B.C.) of 1889, so that further outbreaks might be prevented as far as possible. Dr. Vaughan's reports showed that the arrangements were far from satisfactory, and that a revision of the rules was necessary; this matter is now under the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor. As another result of Dr. Vaughan's deputation, a Military Assistant Surgeon has been posted to Goalundo, and a Civil Hospital Assistant to Naihati, who will devote their whole time to superintending the sanitary and transit arrangements for emigrants at those places. New cholera hospitals have been opened at Samastipur, Katihar and Rampur Hât, along the emigrant routes, and efforts have been and are being made to improve the medical and other arrangements. It is hoped that they may in time meet with complete success.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

M. FINUCANE,

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE ANNUAL REPORT OF THE CIVIL VETERINARY DEPARTMENT IN BENGAL, FOR THE YEAR 1896-97.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—AGRICULTURE.

Calcutta, the 27th July 1897.

RESOLUTION—No. 2252.

READ—

The Annual Report of the Civil Veterinary Department, Bengal, for the year 1896-97.

Letter from the Director of the Department of Land Records and Agriculture, No. 1085A., dated 1st July 1897, submitting the Report.

Read again—

This Government's Resolution No. 847T.R., dated 5th October 1896.

In the Resolution mentioned in the preamble, Sir Alexander Mackenzie reviewed the progress made by the Bengal Civil Veterinary Department during the first four years of its existence and up to the departure of its first Superintendent, Veterinary-Captain W. D. Gunn. That officer was relieved on 12th October 1896 by Veterinary-Captain F. Raymond, who submits the present Report; and the Officiating Lieutenant-Governor is glad to observe that both the Department and the Veterinary Institution have continued to develop in the right direction.

2. Bengal Veterinary Institution.—The second final examination of the Institution was held in March last. Nine candidates passed out of fourteen who appeared; eight others were forbidden to appear on account of their irregular attendance at lectures. Veterinary-Captain Raymond suggests that the Committee of Examiners who visit the College yearly should hold an examination of the first-year as well as of the second-year students; the Inspector-General, Civil Veterinary Department, will be addressed with a view to this suggestion being carried out. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor regrets to observe that the students holding stipends from local bodies and from the Burdwan Raj have not, as a rule, justified their selection, only three out of eight having passed the examination of their respective years. It is most satisfactory, however, that of the 21 passed students of the school (none of whom qualified before March 1896), no less than 13 are in permanent or temporary employment under Government, District Boards or private employers, while the rest are in private practice. There can be no doubt that the veterinary profession presents a new and promising career for young men, and His Honour trusts that the popularity of the institution will continue to increase as this fact becomes more widely known. The Hostel attached to the Institution has been finished since the close of the year, and is now ready for occupation. Further improvements are suggested for the school and infirmary, and some of these, it is hoped, may be carried out from time to time as funds become available. Veterinary-Captain Raymond puts forward strong arguments in favour of the extension of the school course from two years to three. As stated in the Resolution of 5th October 1896, this proposal has been submitted to the Government of India, and is still under their consideration.

3. Infirmary for Animals.—At the Veterinary Hospital 479 animals were treated as in-patients and 248 as out-patients, or 727 in all. The total shows a decrease of 46 cases, but the number of in-patients shows an increase of 42—a fact which no doubt indicates that confidence in the institution is growing among owners. The Superintendent proposes to modify the scale of fees with a view to securing a larger number of patients; the recommendations of the Committee in this matter are awaited. An ambulance has recently been provided to convey sick animals to the hospital. The following statements show the number of each class of animals treated and the number of operations performed at the institution during the past four years:—

4. Veterinary Dispensaries.—There is a veterinary dispensary at Sitamarhi, supported mainly by local subscriptions, with a small grant from the District Board. The dispensary was opened only in November 1896, and the results so far have been very encouraging: 159 animals were treated before the end of the year, of whom 139 were cured, 9 died, and the results in the other 11 cases are unknown. At Patna the Municipality started a dispensary on 12th February to meet an attack of rinderpest; 236 cases were treated before 31st March. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor trusts that the Municipality will place this institution, which clearly supplies a want, on a permanent footing. Veterinary assistants are now also either permanently or temporarily employed by the District Boards of Bhagalpur, Birbhum, Tippera, Midnapore, Patna, jointly with the Municipality, Darbhanga and Howrah, and by the Burdwan Raj.

In paragraph 9 of the Resolution of the 5th October 1896, Sir Alexander Mackenzie stated that he “intended to place before the local bodies of a certain number of districts a scheme for the establishment of veterinary dispensaries at head-quarters stations with a suitable staff, and to invite them to co-operate in carrying it out,” and Veterinary-Captain Gunn was desired to draw up a detailed scheme for this purpose. Veterinary-Captain Gunn carried out these instructions before he left the Province, and his scheme is before Government.

5. Diseases of Cattle.—There is attached to the Report a synopsis of the transactions of the year in connection with cattle-disease, but the Superintendent expresses a doubt whether the figures given in this statement are even approximately correct. The Officiating Lieutenant-Governor shares this doubt, and desires to direct the attention of District Officers to this synopsis (Appendix XXVIIA), as well as to the instructions contained in Revenue Department Circular No. 4Agri., dated 6th February 1895. That circular directed that the occurrence of serious or epidemic disease among cattle should be reported direct, and, if necessary, by telegram, to the Superintendent, Civil Veterinary Department. It is clear that these orders are not being carried out; in many cases the Superintendent derived his first information of the outbreak of disease from a perusal of the Weather and Crop reports in the Calcutta Gazette; in very few cases did he receive direct information from the District Officer, and in some, Mr. Stevens regrets to observe, he had difficulty in obtaining replies to enquiries which he addressed to District Officers with regard to the reports published in the Gazette. It is satisfactory, however, that Veterinary Assistants were sent to combat outbreaks in the following districts:—

Bankura.
Midnapore.
Hooghly.
Rangpur.
Patna.

Saran.
Muzaffarpur.
Bhagalpur.
Purnea.
Jalpaiguri.

Angul.

Veterinary-Captain Raymond's general suggestions for the check of rinderpest and other cattle-disease are full of interest, and are under the consideration of Government. But whatever may be the most suitable method of coping with these epidemics, it is essential that the Veterinary Department should receive the earliest and most accurate information possible of their occurrence. His Honour trusts that the current year will show a considerable improvement in this respect.

6. Cattle-breeding.—The attempts which have been made in these Provinces to improve the breed of cattle were briefly noticed in paragraph 12 of the Resolution of 5th October 1896. The experiment of introducing Brahmini bulls from Bihar into Lower Bengal, which has been tried in the past two years, has not, so far, been attended with much success; and Veterinary-Captain Raymond promises a general report on cattle-breeding in Bengal, which the Officiating Lieutenant-Governor will await with interest. It is reported that, in Birbhum, Patna rams have been introduced into the flocks with the result of a large increase in the value of the stock; and this example is one that might probably be followed with advantage in other districts. A description is given in the Report of prize-shows held in connection with the fairs at Sonapur, Berhampore, Kalimpong and Suri. The fair and show at the latter place were held for the first time, and appear to have been most successful; an account of the arrangements which contributed to their success is given, and may afford useful assistance to officers organizing similar functions elsewhere. These shows and competitions must have an excellent effect in encouraging agricultural improvement, and the Officiating Lieutenant-Governor would like to see them become more general.

7. Veterinary-Captain Raymond was on tour for 72 days, and travelled more than 6,000 miles. His Honour's thanks are due to him for the zeal and energy with which he has entered upon his new duties, and for his able and interesting report. They are likewise due to Messrs. Macpherson and Lyon for their supervision of the Department; as well as to the Committee of Management of the Bengal Veterinary Institution.

Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

The exports of rice from Calcutta to foreign ports declined from 148,014 cwts. in the second week of July 1896 to 22,242 cwts. in the period under report. During the week ending 14th July 1896, Natal took 31,412 cwts., and States in Arabia other than Muscat 44,851 cwts., while in the week under report nothing was sent to those ports; the falling off in the exports to Ceylon was 33,445 cwts., to Aden 17,720 cwts., and to the United Kingdom 5,720 cwts., in comparison with the corresponding week of last year. On the other hand, 7,805 cwts. were shipped for Muscat, which received nothing in the corresponding week of 1896. The chief fluctuation in the trade in gram and pulses is a decrease of 15,560 cwts. in the quantity sent to the United Kingdom.

As regards Indian ports, the exports of rice to Bombay showed an increase of 3,898 cwts. compared with the corresponding week of last year; while Narrakel in Cochin is credited with 2,746 cwts. against nil in the second week of July 1896. The fluctuations under other heads call for no remarks.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

The chief feature of the traffic of the week under review is a large importation of Burma rice into Chittagong, namely, 27,747 cwts, against 165 cwts. in the corresponding period of last year; the imports into Narayanganj also showed an increase of 2,025 cwts. of rice in the supplies received from Chittagong. The exports from Balasore to Calcutta showed a heavy decrease of 16,748 cwts., in comparison with the figures for the corresponding period of last year.

Detailed statements showing the sources of supply and the places of destination, both as regards Foreign and Indian ports, are given below:—

mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.
maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the meters are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above ground.

barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, at the Surveyor-General's Office.

hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; a, dew.
